SENATE JAM ALARMING

President Calls Conference

Congressional Leaders Fear Legislative Program Will be Defeated

By Transfer Regarded Only Enforcement Measure Promised Passage

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Responding to storm signals from Republican Congressional leaders, President Hoover tonight summoned party chieftains in for a breakfast conference tomorrow to discuss the jolted-up legislative situation at Capitol Hill.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the party leader in the House, called on the President shortly after the latter's return from Florida to report that the delay in the Senate in passing the tariff bill and thereby keeping any extensive legislative program going through at an early date.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader in the Senate, gained another victory today over the Republican Independent-Democratic coalition in slashing aluminum rates, likewise gave a pessimistic report to the White House.

THOSE INVITED

Mr. Hoover immediately summoned a party group to gather tomorrow morning around the breakfast table. He invited Speaker Longworth, Senator Watson, Representative Tilson, Senator McNary of Oregon, the assistant Republican floor leader, and the authors of the tariff measure—Senator Smoot of Utah and Representative Hawley of Oregon.

What remedies the President may have in mind are unknown. He will arrive at the station by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production; B. P. Schulberg, general manager of the West Coast production; M. C. Levee, executive manager of the West Coast studio, and by Joseph M. Schenck, Samuel Goldwyn and other leaders of the industry.

"With a Southern California booster like Jesse Lasky at the helm in touch with me, he cast it to that I spend my vacation in Los Angeles," Zukor declared as he stepped off the train.

Lindberghs Back From Flight to Santa Barbara

Col. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh returned to the home of J. L. Maddux last night following a week-end flying trip to the Santa Ynez Valley estate, back of Santa Barbara, of John J. Mitchell of Chicago.

The colonel spent part of yesterday inspecting three airports one of which Santa Barbara expects to acquire as a municipal air center.

The northern trip was made in Lindbergh's old plane, a Curtiss Falcon army-type. They expect to return east, however, in their new Lockheed-Sirius monoplane, built at the Burbank factory.

PROTEST LAUNCHED AGAINST POWER UNIT

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 18.—Protesten protest against the proposed establishment of hydroelectric power plants by the Empire Development Company on the north and south forks of Kern River, because of the reduction this would cause in the flow of river water, has been forwarded to the Federal Power Commission at Washington, by the Kern County Fish and Game Protective Association, Louis Rouz, president reported today. In the protest the association declared that fifty miles of the river would be "dried up" through diversion of the water for power purposes. It is also believed by the association that Golden Trout Creek would be destroyed by the power company.

FIRST OF HEALTH TALK SERIES GIVEN

The first free health lecture of a second series was given by Dr. M. Louis Estes, back-to-nature lecturer, last night in Trinity Auditorium. The series of seven lectures will be concluded Thursday night. The auditorium was filled to hear Estes explain the newest developments in raw-food diet and a doctrine of dynamic breath control.

STORIES FOR CHILDREN

Beginning Friday a free story writing course will be given at Jones College, 855 North Vermont avenue, in writing stories for young children. There is no charge and people of all ages are welcome. The class will meet on Fridays, 10 to 12 a.m. From 1 to 5 p.m. there is free criticism of juvenile stories not over 1000 words. Writers with any types of stories may receive free criticism on Mondays at any time between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

DECORATION TO BE TAKEN

Manual Arts Evening High school announces that John William Armstrong, head of the art department at University High School, will give a course on interior decoration on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock, beginning tonight.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Feb. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I had always figured this southern flying route down by way of El Paso ought to have fine weather conditions, and it sure has. This has been a wonderful trip from El Paso to Phoenix in three hours, lunch there and in Beverly Hills by 5 o'clock.

If you want to see a part of our country that is sky broke and not cloud shy, go to Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. Last Friday Tulsa Airport handled in and out of there 354 passengers; handled 6500 last year and not an accident. I had always hollered for lower rates on these things. Now we have 'em. It costs just what your railroad fare plus your sleeper would cost. I tried to catch up with Mr. Coolidge and give him a real ride.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

COLD DEATH LIST GAINS

East Still Feels Frigid Grip

Temperatures Go as Low as 41 Deg. Below Zero Mark; Gale Lashing Canada

Traffic Virtually Given Up in Some Sections Due to Intensity of Storm

BOSTON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Four more deaths, raising to fifteen the toll from storm and cold in New England, were reported today as the entire district still lay in the record subzero cold wave.

Boston experienced six hours of zero and below-zero weather today, while the mercury dropped to 18 below in the suburbs and in outlying districts fell to a minimum of 40 below. No relief is forecast for tonight.

Added to the death list of eleven attributed to yesterday's snowstorm which still has half of Cape Cod isolated from all but uncertain rail travel were three more fatalities today in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Kenneth Matthews, recluse and war veteran, was found frozen to death in his hut at South Foxboro, while Seth D. Ferby, 47 years of age, was found frozen to death in Providence. In Worcester Dominick Nogaria's death from pneumonia was attributed to a four-mile walk through yesterday's storm to surrender to the police for reckless driving and liquor-transportation charges.

NORTH ATLANTIC STATES STILL HARD HIT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—With thermometers dipping as low as 41 deg. below zero, the severest cold spell of the winter in the North Atlantic States reached its climax today.

In New York City, which was among the least affected spots in the cold area, the 7-deg. minimum this morning was only one degree above the record low for the date.

The lowest reading reported, 41 below zero, was at Tupper Lake, N. Y., in the Adirondacks.

A fifty-mile gale that accompanied the cold wave caused extensive damage in the maritime provinces of Canada. At New Aberdeen, N. S., the wind flattened a concrete transformer, ripped the roof off a church and drove it through the side of a near-by dwelling and lifted a small store from a pier to the deck of a schooner in Sydney Harbor. The gale also delayed trans-Atlantic and coastwise shipping along the New England coast.

Highways are impassable in many sections. In some districts of Nova Scotia physicians were forced to use skis to make professional visits.

TWO SAILORS KNOWN TO HAVE MET DEATH

CAPE MAY (N. J.) Feb. 17. (AP) Two, and possibly four, lives were lost in the ice blasts that swept the Atlantic Ocean off the Delaware capes Sunday. Two of four missing men who were aboard the foundered coal barge Carroll were found frozen to death in a lifeboat today by a Coast Guard patrol boat. There was no trace of the others.

The Carroll was one of three barges belonging to the Eastern Transportation Company of Baltimore, being towed by the tug Montrose from Norfolk to New York.

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The City of New York is making good progress along the face of the barrier toward the Bay of Whales. Frost smoke on the water has made it impossible for Capt. Melville to make observations to complete his bearings today, however, so his exact longitude is not known, but he estimates his run of yesterday was well over 100 miles. The water is free from ice and is smooth.

Everything here is in readiness for loading as soon as the ship ties up to the bay ice.

Japan Hears of War Movement in North China

SHANGHAI, Feb. 17. (AP)—Japanese semiofficial reports state today that war preparations are proceeding throughout North China.

The Shansi and other northern forces are said to have mobilised and to be moving southward against Chiang Kai-shek. It is reported that fighting occurred Saturday near Kweitek on the Lunghair Railway.

EARTH'S DEPTHS SOUNDED

French Engineers at Mining Institute Describe Results of Thirty-Mile Electrical Probe

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Man's deepest electrical probe into the earth—thirty miles—and the surprising story it told were reported to the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers here today.

The surprise was failure to find the high temperatures and hot rocks expected. Except for reading the messages of earthquake waves, this electrical probe was said to be the deepest man yet has explored by any method.

Two Frenchmen, Conrad and Marcel Schlumberger, originators of the electrical probe, made the thirty-mile soundings. Support for the credibility of their daring report was furnished by another speaker, Theodor Zuschlag, who gave their device credit for discovery of underground salt domes in Rumania and Alsace.

The Frenchmen apply an electrical current to the ground at two points, with bare electrodes. The ground completes the circuit. Furthermore, the ground shows resistance to passage of the current and the Frenchmen say that they can measure this resistance.

Measuring it gives a broad picture of the shape, nature and temperature of the rocks beneath, they say, because the amount of resistance depends upon the character of crust. The depth of measurement is about one-quarter the distance between the two electrodes on the surface.

In Brittany, France, in the neighborhood of Vitre, they set two electrodes 125 miles apart. This gave them about thirty miles of depth.

"The authors," their report says, "had expected to find lowering of resistivity at very great depths, due to the rise in temperature of the rocks, but this was not the case. Perhaps it will be necessary to reach much greater depths in order to discover such a diminution.

"The experiments at Vitre should be considered only a first attempt by this method."

Zuschlag, a research engineer of New York, described a different kind of electrical feeler, which does not go so deep, about 1500 feet, but which gives considerable detail down to that level. This process is electromagnetic and is in fairly wide use in oil prospecting. It was developed by Karl Sundberg of Sweden.

SEA CLAIM PAID AFTER 118 YEARS

Illegal Ship Seizure in 1812 Settled for at Last and Heirs Get Money

TORONTO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) On January 5, 1812, the American schooner Oneida illegally seized the Canadian-owned vessel Lord Nelson on Lake Ontario. Today twenty-six Canadians, descendants of the Crooks brothers of Niagara Falls, original owners of the Lord Nelson, are receiving Uncle Sam's compensation for the act.

The value of the Lord Nelson and her cargo was $5000, but after 118 years of continuous litigation the amount paid by the American government with 4 per cent simple interest is $23,644. It took 102 years for the claimants to get the American government to pay the money to the Canadian government and sixteen years to get the Canadian government to release the money after it had been paid over.

This came out in the Washington traffic court today when Judge Given granted a postponement of the case until Friday as Mrs. Willebrandt was unable to appear owing to previous engagements.

FIRE-EATER DE RIVERA EXPELLED

Ex-Dictator's Second Son Deported by Spain to Prevent Duels

MADRID, Feb. 17. (AP)—Miguel Primo De Rivera, second son of the former dictator, is the first person to be expelled from Spain by the Berenguer government.

He was ordered deported to France today in order, it was officially explained, to prevent him from fighting duels with army officers in Madrid who, he said, had insulted his father.

Miguel, who is a lieutenant in the reserve corps and about 26 years of age, boxed the ears of Gen. Queipo De Llano in a fashionable cafe last week, fought a fist fight with him and challenged him to a duel for sending an "insulting" letter to the resigned dictator. Because of the difference in rank Miguel was threatened with disciplinary measures instead of having his challenge accepted.

Primo De Rivera already is in Paris with his two daughters. His eldest son, Jose Antonio, a lawyer about 27 years of age, is under surveillance in Madrid, also to prevent his fighting duels with those attacking his father.

GOVERNOR INJURED IN AIR CRASH

Trumbull, Connecticut's Executive, Falls in Glider But Escapes Serious Hurt

NEWARK (N. J.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Gov. Trumbull of Connecticut was injured today when a glider he was attempting to fly at the Newark Airport crashed to the ground after gaining altitude of only a few feet.

Gov. Trumbull's injuries are not believed to be serious. He was cut about the face and badly shaken. He also complained of pains in his leg.

The Governor was seated in the glider hitched by a long cable to an automobile which was to catapult it into the air.

The glider shot forward directly into the wind, rose several feet and then suddenly plunged to the earth.

Gov. Trumbull is an aviation enthusiast and an officer of the Colonial Airways. He pilots his own plane and most of his trips, when weather is favorable, are made by air.

Speed Flyers at Arica, Chile

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Lieuts. Will W. White and Clements McMuller, United States Army aviators, attempting a speed record flight from Newark, N. J., to Buenos Aires, landed at Arica, Chile, today at 6:10 p.m., Chilean time, the All-America Cables station there reported.

They flew from Lima, Peru, where they made a stop on today's flight. They plan to proceed to Santiago, Chile, tomorrow at daybreak.

TARDIEU CABINET FALLS; RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED

Overthrow Leaves France Virtually Unrepresented at Naval Parley; Premier May Succeed Himself

PARIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—The political storm threatening the Tardieu Cabinet since the naval conference got under way in London broke in the Chamber of Deputies today and the government went down to defeat.

A few hours later the ministers handed their collective resignation to President Doumergue, who immediately accepted it. The Cabinet has been in office for a little more than three months.

The political consequences of the resignation were obscure tonight by the excitement attending the government's downfall.

M. Tardieu is considered to be the favorite candidate to succeed himself, with former Premier Poincare, who recently returned from a rest cure on the Riviera, second choice. Many politicians think the new Cabinet will contain both M. Tardieu as Premier and M. Poincare as Minister of Finance.

DIRECTS FROM SICKBED

Premier Tardieu went down with colors flying, and though unable to rise from his sickbed, where he has been confined with a severe attack of grip, directed the government's tactics in the Chamber of telephone.

Three successive attacks were beaten off before the government finally fell on the fourth vote of confidence by five votes. The figures were 286 to 281.

The vote was taken on M. Tardieu's orders on a financial measure of M. Cheron, who, in accord with the Premier, refused to accept an increase in pensions for the widows of officers and soldiers killed during the World War.

Before bringing the measure to a vote of confidence, M. Cheron telephoned M. Tardieu, who gave him full support.

"I am making it a question of confidence with the full approval of my chief, Premier Tardieu," the Minister of Finance told the Deputies from the rostrum of the Chamber.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

The opposition hesitated for an instant and then insisted that the increase be made.

"I refuse," shouted M. Cheron. "I may not get your votes, but I am sure of keeping your esteem."

The answer of the opposition was to vote him down.

The ministers and undersecretaries of state, numbering twenty-two, immediately following announcement of the vote, went to the sickbed of the defeated Premier. They discussed their letter of resignation, which M. Tardieu, in defiance of his doctor's orders, insisted he will deliver in person to President Doumergue.

Finally Senator Lucien Hubert, vice-president of the Cabinet and Minister of Justice, led his colleagues to the Elysee Palace and handed the President the Cabinet's resignation at 9:45 p.m. The President immediately accepted it. Chafing under his doctors' instructions, M. Tardieu remained at home in bed studying the situation.

LONDON STATUS LOST

The overthrow of the government places France in the anomalous situation of taking part in the London conference and yet being virtually unrepresented there.

Under the French constitution resigned ministers are empowered to administer "current affairs," but have no authority to bind succeeding French governments to treaties affecting France's relations with other powers.

Thus Minister of Marine Leygues, who arrived in London this afternoon, is relegated to the position of an "unofficial observer."

Only the status of Ambassador De Fleuriau, French representative in London, is presumably unaffected by the defeat. Premier Tardieu, Foreign Minister Briand and Minister of Colonies Petri, in addition to Minister of Marine Leygues, have lost their official positions.

On leaving the Elysee after handing in their resignation, the ex-ministers gave no information to newspaper men, except that President Doumergue, had accepted the resignation.

GRATIFICATION SEEN

Some spectators in the Rue Du Faubourg-St. Honore shouted "Tardieu again," and Senator Hubert M. Loucheur agreed that the ex-Premier's return is "quite likely."

The news of the defeat came to the people of Paris as they were leaving the theaters and dropping in at cafes. Comments of "impossible" greeted it everywhere.

Some politicians assert that M.

HARRIS BILL REPORTED

Exclusion Group Plays Hand

Rigid Measure Railroaded by Senate Committee Without Hearings

Action Taken in Violation of Promises to Interests in Southwest

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—With virtually no discussion and with only four members present the Senate Immigration Committee today reported favorably on the bill by Senator Harris, Democrat, of Georgia, placing Mexico and all other countries of the Western Hemisphere, except Canada and Newfoundland, under the immigration quota basis laid down in the National Origins Act now applying only to nations in Europe.

The Harris measure would permit entry of only about 1400 persons a year from Mexico, and is even more rigid with respect to that country than the Box and Johnson bills pending before the Immigration Committee of the House. There would be no curtailment of Canadian immigration under the Harris proposal. This discrimination makes it even more objectionable than the House bills and, in the opinion of observers familiar with immigration matters, gives it little chance of passage in anything like its present form.

AGREEMENT ON DRAFT

While the Senate committee was acting the House subcommittee on immigration assigned to the writing of a "committee bill" restricting immigration from the Western Hemisphere, reached a tentative agreement this afternoon on a draft which would allow Mexico 30,000 immigrants the first year, and 2100 a year thereafter. Canada would be given 50,000 visas annually—practically no restriction at all.

Those figures are believed final, and the bill is slated to be reported to the House within the next week.

The Senate committee reported the Harris bill today in violation of assurances given opponents of Mexican restriction that they would be given an opportunity to testify against it. On December 12, 1929, Col. A. P. Thom, Jr., representing railroad interests allied with southwestern agriculture, wrote Senator Johnson of California, then chairman of the committee, asking for hearings on the measure and a chance to present witnesses from California and other States which depend on Mexican farm labor. Five days later Johnson wrote back saying that before action was taken thorough hearings would be held and that those opposed to the legislation would be "notified in ample time."

JOHNSON STILL MEMBER

Senator Gould, Republican, of Maine, has since become chairman of the committee. The exchange of correspondence is in the committee files and in past cases such promises have always been carried out. Johnson still is a member of the Immigration Committee, and knew of the meeting today, but did not protest the action taken. He did

NAVAL PARLEY'S SAILS SAG

London Conference Becalmed While Awaiting New Outcome of French Cabinet Crisis

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The defeat of the Tardieu government and the Premier's resignation in Paris tonight left the London naval conference becalmed in a sea of figures.

Among the delegates in London there is no hope that negotiations can profitably get under way again until France has a new government, strengthened by new blood and firmly seated in power.

In circles close to the French delegation it was stated tonight that the Cabinet crisis in Paris probably will have little or no direct effect on the naval negotiations beyond delaying them for some days. The French here believe that the reshuffling of the Cabinet will find Premier Tardieu again at the head of the government, with M. Briand still at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

On receipt of news that the Cabinet had resigned, Minister of Marine Leygues, who returned to London today, decided to go back to Paris tomorrow.

One view here of the political crisis is that Mr. Tardieu deliberately brought it about to strengthen his hand at the London conference table.

To the becalmed delegates in the London conference craft, the news came like a fair breeze to shipwrecked sailors. It was readily admitted that the new French Cabinet may prove to be as insistent on the demand for a fleet tonnage of 724,479 tons, but at least the developments in Paris today served to divert attention from one of the most disappointing days of the negotiations so far.

At St. James' Palace tonight Prime Minister MacDonald, Secretary of State Stimson and ex-Pre-

EXCLUSION BILL GETS APPROVAL

Harris Measure Railroaded by Senate Committee

Action Taken in Violation of Promises to Opponents

not attend and sent word by Senator Harris that he did not care to be recorded as voting one way or the other on the Mexican restriction bill.

The committee's unheralded action had all the earmarks of something that was being "put over." Present were Gould, the chairman, who is retiring from the Senate after this Congress and has little interest in the restriction measure since as drawn it will allow Canadian labor in Maine, and Harris of Georgia, Blease, Democrat, of South Carolina, and Hatfield, Republican, of West Virginia—all ardent restrictionists rounded up by Harris for the meeting. To make out a quorum Harris got proxies from Watson of Indiana, the Republican floor leader, and Stephens, Democrat, of Mississippi, and he voted both for the reporting of his bill.

PROXY FOR QUORUM

Chairman Gould contributed the proxy of Senator Copeland of New York, who is interested in another bill the committee was to take up but is against the Mexican expulsion and merely lent his name for the purposes of establishing a quorum.

The meeting was called for the purpose of considering a bill by Senator Metcalf of Rhode Island amending some past immigration act in regard to contract labor and no mention was made that the Mexican-restriction bill was to be called up. Apparently only friends of the measure were notified and five minutes before the meeting Chairman Gould told newspaper correspondents that the Mexican question and that of general restriction on this hemisphere would not come up.

Despite this, the first thing the committee did was to vote the favorable report on the Harris bill. Senator Harris explained casually that the bill had been reported at the last session of Congress, that it is the same bill, there was no objection to it, the committee was for it and he "just wanted to get it out and on the calendar." Gould offered no objection and, acting as if he regarded it as trivial legislation about which no one was greatly concerned, put the matter to a vote with Harris doing the pushing and shutting off any discussion. It was one of the neatest bits of railroading that veteran observers have seen in a Congressional committee room in many a moon.

COURSE IN HOUSE

The action of the Senate committee is all the more surprising when it is considered that the House committee, which has made a fairly thorough study of the Mexican-exclusion question, has found it necessary to hold prolonged hearings on the legislation. This is well known to the members of the Senate group, but from the way they acted today they had never heard of the subject before.

And still more astounding, it was pointed out, is the fact that the Senate committee could take such snap judgment and ignore wholly the fact that in the last year the State Department, through tightening up on passport requirements, has demonstrated its ability to hold Mexican immigration down as low as may be desired, and that at the present time Mexicans of types that would be affected by quota restrictions are coming in at the rate of only about 5000 a year.

PROSPECT DOUBTFUL

The House will pass a restriction bill in some form if the legislation is brought to a vote, but with an unprecedented jam rapidly forming, due to the Senate's inaction on the tariff, there is believed little real chance that any bill will go through to final enactment at this session of Congress. It may, however, be a close shave for agricultural interests in California and elsewhere which cannot survive without the seasonal labor that comes across the line from Mexico.

Opponents of the Harris bill were understood tonight to be considering asking Chairman Gould of the Senate committee to call back the report and conduct hearings, thus making good on the pledge given by former Chairman Johnson. It also is said that they will redouble their efforts for enactment of the McNary resolution providing for a study of the agricultural labor situation by a Presidential commission prior to action by Congress on the proposed immigration restriction.

BOX BOOSTS HIS BILL

Representative Box of Texas, author of one of the anti-Mexican bills in the House, today put out more propaganda favoring his bill in the form of a letter from Francis L. Jones, director of the United States employment service, saying:

"We are well convinced that the United States employment service, through its farm-labor division, is able to take care of the labor needs in the Southwest provided a 1-cent-per-mile transportation rate is granted with favorable living conditions, a satisfactory wage rate and decent treatment."

Box followed with a statement assailing Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board for his opposition to the Mexican exclusion movement, charging that Legge is inconsistent in urging farmers to hold down production and at the same time advocating free influx of Mexican peons who will only add to the volume of crops. The Texas Representative confined himself chiefly to the question of cotton acreage, and the asserted stimulus Mexican immigration gives to production of this commodity.

It was pointed out that his statement had no application to the labor needs of certain sections, for example, the Imperial Valley of California, which is best adapted to vegetables and fruits, and which in time would eliminate cotton altogether if it could get sufficient labor to cultivate other crops.

HOPES ON WANE FOR COAST SHIP

Admiral Benson Believed by Mariners to be Doomed

Captain and Twenty-four of Crew Still on Board

All Passengers Ferried to Safety in Lifeboats

ASTORIA (Or.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Held by the sand in the exact position where she grounded at the mouth of the Columbia River Saturday night, the Pacific steamship coastal liner Admiral Benson tonight was believed doomed to join the dozen ships abandoned during the last seventy-five years on Peacock Spit, the "graveyard of the Pacific."

Only twenty-four members of the crew, including Capt. Charles Graham, remained aboard the vessel when rescue work was discontinued tonight. Thirty-nine of the crew were removed from the ship today by lifeboat and breeches buoy. The last of the thirty-nine passengers was ferried ashore in a lifeboat early today. The remainder of the crew was expected to be taken off the stranded steamer at low tide tomorrow, weather permitting.

ALL OFFICERS ABOARD

Those remaining aboard include all officers, part of the deck crew and most of the engine-room crew. Musicians, steward, firemen, waiters, a stewardess and part of the deck crew were among those removed.

Meanwhile, half a dozen tugs and smaller vessels, including the powerful Salvage King, summoned from Puget Sound, stood by the Admiral Benson in the hope of getting a line aboard her for an attempt to pull her off the sand. However, it was revealed today that members of the Fort Canby Coast Guard crew waded out to the vessel at low tide last night, so shallow was the water. The Admiral Benson draws nineteen feet and Coast Guardsmen said when they waded out last night the water was no deeper than their waists.

HOLDS FILLING

Members of the crew arriving at North Head Beach today said the vessel's holds are being pumped partly full of water to prevent the ship from pounding against the sand in the surf. Her rudder is said to be badly damaged and her propeller deeply embedded in the sand, indicating, marine observers said, that any attempt to refloat her must be done entirely by tugs with no assistance from the stranded vessel.

Most of the passengers were taken to Portland by train today, but several remained here. Only two passengers, Mrs. Zola Kerry of Portland, and Paul T. Reese of Los Angeles, voiced criticism of the crew. They said they were requested to wade ashore after Coast Guards had waded out to the ship last night. They declared they refused to leave the vessel.

NAVAL PARLEY MARKING TIME

mier Wakatsuki sat in conference for three hours and went away convinced that the whole future course of negotiations will be influenced materially by the French attitude.

As an indication how serious this influence may be, it was recalled that Mr. MacDonald throughout has stated that the British estimate of fifty cruisers for patrolling her empire waterways is entirely dependent on the general success of the conference. The Anglo-American parity proposals will be affected, as well as the Japanese ratios with both powers.

The inconclusive character of the meeting tonight is a further indication that no new move can be made in London until the French political situation has crystallized.

The conference subcommittee of experts discussed the special classes of ships for about an hour and a half.

BRITISH PRESS GLOOMY

The British press took a particularly gloomy view of the conference's future today, declaring that the French demand would change England's hope of reducing her cruiser strength to fifty and might affect her plan of cutting the number of her battleships down to fifteen along with the United States.

The experts reported that they are at a standstill in their efforts finally to round out the compromise agreement on limitation of fleet tonnage. A question has arisen whether special ships shall in the future be absorbed into categories within the global tonnage figures. The present generation of these ships will presumably be kept in a special class, but the whole question must again be referred by the experts to the chief delegates.

NO PACT IN VIEW

One broad subject that has been widely discussed ever since the conference assembled was definitely discounted in both American and British circles. This was the Mediterranean security pact France anxiously desires.

From the American delegation came definite word of what observers have taken for granted all along, that the United States could sign no such treaty in London. A British spokesman pointed out that the London meeting is purely a naval conference and that the Mediterranean pact will involve the interests of such powers as Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Greece and Turkey, who are not represented here.

It developed further that there was little likelihood that Germany would be called in to aid on arriving at an understanding that might allay French fears of the Ersatz Preussen, Germany's new "pocket battleship."

A British spokesman said that Germany's naval position is definitely regulated by the treaty of Versailles, and that any alteration is obviously a task for the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations.

Ancient Roman Bronze Found in Lake Nemi

ROME, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—What is considered the most perfect example of ancient Roman bronze sculpture yet found was yielded by Lake Nemi today, which is still being drained in order to remove the famous barges of the Emperor Caligula, which are lying at its bottom.

The newly discovered piece consists of a gilded bronze pillar originally used to support the railing of a barge. The top pillar represents two heads back to back, one being that of a youthful faun, the other of a bearded satyr.

The bronze piece is about a yard high and is considered by experts to be chiseled bronze work worthy of Cellini.

FILM CONTROL BOARD SOUGHT

manufacture, distribution and exhibition is covered in the measure sponsored by the Michigan Representative who is known as one of the reform leaders of the House.

Technically the measure is known as "a bill to protect the motion-picture industry from unfair trade practices and monopoly, to provide just settlements from unfair dealings, to provide for the manufacture of wholesome motion pictures, both silent and talking, at the source of production, to create a Federal motion-picture committee, to define its powers and for other purposes."

Practically, the bill would set up a commission of nine, four of them women, appointed by the President, to take full supervision of the motion-picture industry.

LICENSES REQUIRED

The commissioners would draw $9000 a year salary except for the chairman, who would receive $10,000. All would serve for six years except immediately upon creation of the commission. At the start three would be appointed for six years, three for four years and three for two years.

Under the measure all scenarios, including the working script, titles and dialogue would have to be submitted to the commission at a fee to be set by the commission. The script as well as the picture would have to comply with a section of the act, which reads as follows:

"No motion picture shall enter commerce unless it shall have received a license from the commission certifying that it was supervised at the source of production and found to conform with the standards of production fixed by this section."

SUBJECTS TABOO

The bill then goes into great detail defining the situations and subjects which would be taboo in pictures, such as those which "exaggerate sex appeal," exploit commercialized vice, tend "to make vice attractive and virtue odious," ridicule public officials, police, army, navy or other governmental activity, and so on.

Even advertising of the finished film is included in the regulatory measure and a film license may be revoked if false, misleading or salacious advertising is used even if the producer of the picture is ignorant of such advertising.

Following the release of the picture any condemnation by a State court or court of hearing or State censorship board would automatically revoke the Federal license.

The measure was referred to the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

those on agricultural products and is working now in cutting down existing rates on many industrial products.

As for prohibition, Tilson insisted "the Republican party is as much divided on the wet and dry question as the Democrats."

He gave notice that unless the Senate situation clears soon, there will be no disposition for the House to go ahead on other legislation, including the bills for railroad consolidation and for strengthening the banking laws.

In fact, the Republican House leader talked about the House stopping work as soon as it has passed the necessary appropriation bills and taking three-day recesses until the Senate begins to catch up.

"There is no reason why Congress should remain in session after June 1," Tilson said.

Asked by newspaper men if he thought President Hoover should appeal to the people of the country to urge the Senate to remedy the situation, Tilson said he thought the suggestion advisable.

Labor Leaders Seized in Mexico

TAMPICO (Mex.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Fifteen persons, among them prominent labor leaders, were arrested here over the week-end and sent under heavy guard to Mexico City in connection with the shooting of President Ortiz Rubio on his inauguration day.

The General Workers' Federation here telegraphed President Ortiz Rubio and Joaquin Amaro, Minister of War, asking release of the detained men and threatening that if their plea was not granted they would meet Wednesday and arrange for a general strike of Tampico workers and a public demonstration.

Little Stores Advised to Use Chain Methods

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Chain stores never will put the independent merchant out of business if he will profit by the example the chain-store operators have set.

This assertion was made today to the delegates to the annual convention of the Western Chain Store Grocers' Association, representing $350,000,000 worth of business in eleven western States, by R. W. Lyons, executive vice-president of the National Chain Store Association.

The example set by the chain-store group, Lyons explained, involves intelligent buying, scientific management, service, rapid turnover and fair prices.

FRENCH CABINET DOWN IN DEFEAT

Tardieu was not at all sorry to see his Cabinet defeated, and that banking on his reappointment he had taken an opportunity to make changes in the Ministry he has long desired to see.

As the new Cabinet must make its bow to Parliament and read the declaration of policy before obtaining a vote of confidence, it is probable that France cannot send her delegation back to the London conference much before March 1.

Hitch in Suit of Lady Heath

RENO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The nonstop flight Lady Mary Heath, English aviatrix, hoped to make to divorce on the plea that her husband, Sir James Heath, is old, unromantic, and not given to paying the bills for her wardrobe, was halted temporarily today by a hitch in serving Sir James with the necessary papers.

Lawyer Regains Place at Bar

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Courtney Lacey of Los Angeles today was reinstated to practice of law in California by the State Supreme Court acting on the recommendation of the board of governors of the State bar.

Lacey resigned from the bar in 1918 following his conviction on a felony charge. He was accused of embezzling money belonging to an estate he was administering. He received probation following his conviction.

COMBINE WORKS WILL ON TARIFF

Insurgents Force Reduction of Aluminum Rates

"Trust" in Metal Linked to Mellons in Talk

Steel, Wire, Cable and Pipe Duties Also Trimmed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Senate Democrats and Republican independents won a smashing victory in the long tariff struggle today when they put through amendments to the Hawley-Smoot bill slashing existing import levies on aluminum to the level of the Underwood rates of 1913.

During a session marked by frequent references to Secretary Mellon and by monopoly charges hurled against the Alumnium Company of America, in which the Treasury head and his brother, R. B. Mellon, were said to be interested, the coalition succeeded in cutting the rates on crude and sheet aluminum and aluminum household utensils.

COMBINE POWERFUL

Earlier the coalition demonstrated time and again its majority strength and eliminated proposed increases in levies on hollow drill steel, wire rope and wire rods, and pared down increases on Fourdrinier and cylinder wires for use in paper-making machinery and cast iron pipe.

The test vote on aluminum came on an amendment by Senator Walsh of Montana, acting Democratic leader, to cut the present duty on crude aluminum from 5 to 2 cents a pound. This carried, 41 to 39, with fifteen Republicans and twenty-six Democrats supporting the cut and five Democrats and thirty-four Republicans opposing it.

Without a record vote another amendment by Walsh then was approved to lower the duty on sheet aluminum from 9 to 3 1-2 cents a pound.

UTENSILS SLASHED

By a vote of 41 to 30, the duty of 11 cents a pound and 55 per cent ad valorem on aluminum household utensils was reduced to 25 per cent without any specific rate per pound. All three aluminum rates approved were carried in the Democratic tariff act of the Wilson administrations. The roll call on crude aluminum follows:

Republicans who voted for the reduction are: Allen, Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Capper, Cutting, Frazier, Howell, Johnson, La Follette, McMaster, Norbeck, Norris, Nye and Schall.

Democrats who voted against it are: Brock, Broussard, Copeland, Tydings and Wagner.

Arguing for the aluminum cuts, Senator Walsh described the Aluminum Company of America as an "iron-bound, copper-riveted monopoly" which had declined to reveal its production costs to aid in the determination of a fair tariff.

He read from reports saying that Andrew W. Mellon and R. B. Mellon were in control of the company and that the company had earned more than $19,000,000 in one year.

In addition to controlling production in this country, Walsh said, the company has established a big plant in Canada and now controls the purchase of bauxite, from which aluminum is obtained from South American and other countries.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, attempted to get his namesake to suggest smaller reductions in an effort to compromise, but the Montanan replied he had no information upon which to base any other rates.

DENEEN TO RESCUE

Senator Deneen, Republican, Illinois, opposed the reductions. He said 50,000 persons are employed in the industry, which has a capital investment of $400,000,000, and since no testimony has been taken in committee on a proposed cut he thought it unfair to reduce the levies without the industry being heard.

He also contended imports had multiplied more than two-fold, but Senator Walsh of Montana replied that the imports came chiefly from the aluminum company's own plant in Canada.

CONVICTION FOR EIGHT IN LIQUOR PLOT

Oklahoma ex-Sheriff One of Those Found Guilty; Four Win Acquittal

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Eight of the twelve defendants in the Pottawatomie county liquor conspiracy trial, including Frank Fox, former Sheriff, were convicted by a jury in Federal District Court here today.

The other four defendants, including Randall Pittman, County Attorney, were acquitted.

Of the 102 persons indicted last September, on charges of participating in operations of the liquor ring, asserted to have held a monopoly in Pottawatomie county under protection of county and city officials, thirty-six remained in the government's dragnet tonight.

Twenty-eight defendants pleaded guilty at the start of the trial and will be sentenced next Saturday. Sentence will not be passed on the eight convicted today before March 15, next.

Besides former Sheriff Fox, those convicted today are Bob Keys, Virgil Church and Bill Collier, operators of drug stores; Roy Booth, resort proprietor, and John Baugh, Barney Lovette and J. W. Motsenbacher.

Forest Anderson, millionaire negro whom the government asserted financed operations of the liquor ring; Bud Greer, drug-store proprietor, and John Boggess were acquitted.

CLARA'S ROMANCE FROST-BIT

"It" Girl Leaves New York With Ardor Cooled; Richman "Sees Her Off" Like Brother

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The Clara Bow-Harry Richman romance has cooled. Clara left for Hollywood today and there was a chill that was not caused by the weather at Grand Central terminal when Clara and Harry parted.

When she came on January 22, Harry announced he had bought her an Isotta-Fraschini limousine and a diamond bracelet.

Before the Century pulled out with Clara aboard he gave her a book. It was a pretty book with a flaming red jacket. Clara chose it herself from all the other books on the platform news stand.

BEFORE AND AFTER

When Clara came from Hollywood a month ago Harry obligingly posed before a cavalcade of photographers in various clinches with the "It" girl. Then he went over to her hotel suite and posed again.

But Harry's attitude was different today. He was as reticent as any man in public life who suddenly finds himself peeping into a camera lens. A patrolman stood beside Clara's Pullman car to protect their privacy.

Clara was reticent too. She didn't want her picture taken. She wouldn't talk.

GOLDFISH'S PLAINT

"The publicity stopped our plans—we couldn't be alone long enough to be married," she complained.

"Yeah, we were on the front pages all the time—and the things they said about us!" moaned Harry.

Between them in Clara's Pullman drawing-room was Clara's efficient secretary and confidante, Miss Daisy Devoe. They just sat and sat and sat.

GETTING IT OVER

Harry didn't wait for the train to leave before he bade good-by to his beloved. As Clara absently thumbed the pages of his gift book he got to his feet and swung his raccoon coat about him.

Before the surprised girl knew what it was all about Richman pecked her perfunctorily on the cheek, mumbled a few banal words and strode out of the car.

He didn't look back, either. There was no hand-waving or kiss-throwing.

Federal Jaunt for War Fathers Now Proposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A measure to permit fathers of soldiers, sailors and marines who lost their lives in the World War and who are buried in European cemeteries to make a pilgrimage to the burial place of their sons at Federal expense, was introduced today by Senator Allen, Republican, Kansas.

Congress already has provided for a trip to France for gold-star mothers and widows of American World War dead. This pilgrimage will be started during the coming summer.

Under the Allen measure the act applying to this trip would be amended to apply to fathers. It was referred to committee for consideration.

ANGELENOS ATTACK WILL OF MILLIONAIRE

STOCKTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Validity of the will of the late George W. Johnson, Sonora banker, reputed worth $1,000,000, is attacked in action brought by A. R. Johnson and Raymond Johnson and Ruth Johnson, nephews and a niece in Los Angeles. They assert Johnson was of unsound mind when he made his will and that he was influenced by Louise Allen Toone of Berkeley, mentioned in the will as Johnson's fiancee. She is left $75,000.

BOARD WILL STUDY RULE OF COUNTIES

Governor Names Nine on Commission to Survey Government Methods

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17. (AP)—A commission of nine members to investigate the general subject of local self-government by counties was named by Gov. Young today. The commission was authorized by the 1929 Legislature.

Members of the commission are: R. W. Blackburn, Thermal, Riverside county; Thomas M. Carlson, Richmond; E. A. Cottrell, professor of political science in Stanford University; Jonathan S. Dodge, Pasadena; John N. Edy, Berkeley; William C. Jerome, Santa Ana; William J. Locke, Alameda; S. C. May, associate professor of political science in University of California, and Frank J. McCoy, Santa Maria.

The commission is to report its findings, conclusions and recommendations to the Governor to be transmitted to the 1931 Legislature. The commissioners serve without compensation.

Counties should be given the right to govern themselves, the Governor asserted in a statement commenting on the commission personnel.

COURT REPORTER GOES TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Because he failed to show cause why he had not written up the transcript of court proceedings in a lawsuit, Superior Judge Goodell today adjudged Emmett Healy, official shorthand reporter, guilty of contempt and ordered him sent to jail. Under Judge Goodell's ruling, Healy will be kept in jail and, in addition, fined $50 a day for every day he fails to furnish the court with a transcript of the case. This was said to be the first case here in which an official court reporter has been jailed for refusing to obey an order of this kind.

BROTHER OF BLAZE VICTIM ARRESTED

SAN JOSE, Feb. 17. (AP)—Sylvio Beretta, owner of the house in which his brother Thomas was burned to death here Saturday night, was taken in custody by police today. Declarations of fire and police department officials that Thomas had set the house afire and was burned to death before he could get out were confirmed by the verdict of a Coroner's jury today. Sylvio Beretta and his family were in San Francisco when the fire occurred. Mrs. Thomas Beretta testified at the Coroner's inquest that shortly before the fire broke out in the brother's house, her husband told her he was "broke and had a chance to make some money tonight."

SELF-STYLED HEIR TO MANY MILLIONS JAILED

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Although he styles himself the sole heir to a New York estate of several millions, Philip W. Hackett of Mill Valley was ordered to jail for sixty days by Justice De La Montanya today for failure to pay a debt of $368 to Anna Knutzon, San Francisco dressmaker.

ACTION DELAYED ON DRY INQUIRY

Senate Judiciary Committee Unable to Decide Course

Prohibition Leaders Divided on Question of Scrutiny

Matter Put Aside for Week; More Argument Likely

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee debated but failed to decide today whether it wants an examination made of prohibition enforcement. After its chairman—Norris of Nebraska—had advocated a thorough scrutiny.

Senator Robinson of Indiana, opposed the proposal by Norris on the ground that it would "paralyze all prohibition enforcement for two years." Both men are drys.

No vote was taken, the committee deciding to let the subject rest for a week.

While the Democratic drys appeared to be divided after the session, the western Republican Independents, of whom Senators Norris and Borah of Idaho are leaders, appeared to be in line for it.

Senator Brookhart of Iowa, another Republican dry, gave the word that the attempt to enact the Norris resolution will be taken to the floor, in event the Judiciary Committee fails to approve the proposal.

Regardless of the decision of the committee on the Norris resolution the whole issue promises to be threshed out on the floor of the Senate after the tariff is out of the way. The word went the rounds in the Senate late today that some of those favoring the investigation are aiming at Assistant Secretary Lowman, of the Treasury, and Prohibition Commissioner Doran — the two dry chieftains.

Coincidentally, Prohibition Commissioner Doran announced today that he has ordered a broad investigation into all hpases of prohibition enforcement to obtain data for President Hoover's law-enforcement commission.

Palmer Canfield, former prohibition administrator at Albany, N. Y., has been placed in charge of the inquiry which Doran expects will provide a fairly accurate picture of enforcement conditions throughout the country.

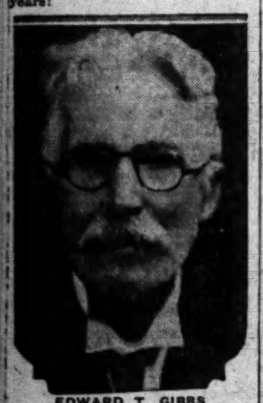
"Sargon Gave Best Health in Seven Years"

"Sargon has been a godsend to me and I feel like I ought to do something to show my appreciation, and maybe help others suffering like I was. It brought me the best health I've had in seven years!



EDWARD T. GIBBS

"I'd been having the worst kind of dizzy spells that just about 'laid me out' at times, and if I happened to be downtown I wouldn't be able to get home without somebody coming after me. I was nearly always bilious and got so nauseated after meals that I could hardly keep anything on my stomach. My appetite fell off to almost nothing; my circulation became sluggish; I never slept good at night, and my strength and vitality were slipping away from me fast.

"It doesn't hardly seem possible, but I haven't had a dizzy spell or an attack of biliousness since I started Sargon, and I feel stronger all over. My appetite has never been better and my stomach is in such good condition everything agrees with me perfectly. I fall asleep at night five minutes after my head touches the pillow, and my circulation has improved so greatly it seems like I can feel a tingle of new life and energy through my entire body.

"I also used Sargon Soft Mass Pills and they overcame habitual constipation that I'd been a victim of for fifteen years. They are the finest thing I ever took in the way of a laxative and the best part is that the effects are not just temporary—I stay regulated perfectly. I have nothing but praise for this great treatment and recommend it every chance I get."

The above statement was made by Edward T. Gibbs, who has been a resident of Los Angeles for sixteen years, and lives at 1108 S. Cleia Ave.

Go to the Owl Drug Store, 6th & Broadway, and meet the Sargon Man. He will give you the astonishing facts about this wonderful new medicine which is accomplishing such remarkable results all over the country. The astonishing record of Sargon is based on actual results accomplished; not empty promises. Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett's Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.

FIGHTING UNITS' COLORS FURLED

Two Artillery Organizations to Lose Identity

Third and Fifth Regiments Economy Victims

Glorious History of More Than Century Expunged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Two historic fighting units of the United States Army, the third and fifth regiments of field artillery, will be discontinued "at the earliest practicable date" by Secretary of War Hurley.

The order which makes them inactive will be a part of a general reorganization of the field artillery announced today by the War Department as caused by "the desire to get the greatest value per dollar."

COLORS CASED

In consequence the Third Field Artillery, stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill., must case regimental colors decorated with battle honors dating back to the war of 1812, while the fifth, stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., must furl colors bearing streamers won at Manassas, Antietam, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Lorraine, Picardy, Mondidier, Noyon, Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne.

Other field artillery units which will be made inactive are the first, second and thirteenth ammunition trains, stationed at Fort Hoyle, Md., Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and Fort Bragg, respectively, and fourteen batteries at Fort Ethan Allen, Fort Robinson, Neb., Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo., Presidio of Monterey, Cal., and Fort Lewis, Wash.

FOR GREATER USE

The decision to effect these sweeping changes, the most drastic since the World War, is, the department announced, the result of intensive studies by the general staff and the chief of field artillery in which every effort was made to increase the efficiency of that branch of the service and to place its units where they would be of most use and assistance in training the National Guard and organized reserves.

At the same time, said the War Department, it is desired to use to the maximum all permanent quarters as many of the cantonments built during the war have become uninhabitable.

The localities which will receive the majority of detachments from the inactive units will be Fort Ethan Allen, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and Fort Lewis, Wash., each of which will become the home station of a new battalion of 155 howitzers. The only 155 howitzer regiment in the country was formerly at Fort Bragg. Under the new arrangements many more reserve officers will have an opportunity to train with these howitzers.

HOUSE SEAT TAKEN BY BAY STATE WET

William J. Granfield

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—William J. Granfield of Long Meadow, Mass., was sworn in today as Representative of the Second Massachusetts Congress District, the home of Calvin Coolidge. He is the first wet Democrat to hold that seat.

The new Massachusetts member succeeds the late William K. Kaynor, Republican, who was killed with four companions when taking off in an army airplane from Bolling Field to spend Christmas in Springfield.

Denial Repeated by Mrs. Church

NEWPORT (R. I.) Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Church, who is at her home, Dudley Place, once more today denied emphatically that she is engaged or that she is even thinking of matrimony. Mrs. Church said that the persistent reports ever since she took a trip to the West Coast early in the winter, with a string of her show horses, have ceased to be amusing.

"No, absolutely," was her reply when asked whether the latest report that she is to wed Lee W. Battson, a Los Angeles broker, was true. Mrs. Church says that she knows Mr. Battson and the reports are "most embarrassing."

MEDICAL COST PEAKS LISTED

Unguided "Shopping" to Get Specialists Scored

Association Told Problem of Service Greatest

Editor of Journal Defends Scale of Charges

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Unguided "shopping" for the services of medical specialists was condemned today by an expert on medical costs as an expensive and unsatisfactory course for prospective patients to follow.

The authority who criticised it was Dr. Willard C. Rappleye, director of study for the commission on medical education, New Haven, Ct., one of the speakers at the opening session of the annual Congress on Medical Education, Licensing and Hospitals of the American Medical Association, here today.

Dr. Rappleye voiced his belief that "the greatest problem before the medical profession is the adequate distribution of modern medical services to the entire population at a reasonable cost."

EDITOR IN DEFENSE

Other speakers also touched on the question of medical cost. Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said that the association's council on medical education and hospitals "must point out to the public the fact that hospital care of the sick is costly and that the people must learn to provide for the inevitable cost of sickness as they provide today for changes of costume with the seasons and for the luxuries of modern life."

America's annual medical bill was estimated by Dr. Rappleye at somewhat under $3,000,000,000, approximately 3 per cent of our national income. The expenditures are roughly divided, he said, among physicians, 25 per cent; hospitals, 25 per cent; patent medicines and drugs, 25 per cent; nurses, dentists and others, 25 per cent.

OVERSPECIALIZATION

Speaking on the factor of overspecialization he said: "A part of the unnecessary cost arises from the common practice of self-diagnosis and selection of specialists by patients. Frequently it is not the service of an 'expert' the patient needs."

Dr. Rappleye said studies have indicated that about 85 per cent of illnesses fall into six general groups of disorders for the usual care of which a properly trained physician is competent.

In other words, the family doctor still has a tremendously useful role to fill, according to Dr. Rappleye.

Health foods, so-called, and recently so widely advertised as cereals and workers of miracles are just foods and nothing more, and the public need expect no wondrous or unusual results from them, Dr. S. Maxim Marriott, professor of pediatrics and dean of the Washington University School of Medicine at St. Louis, said. Dr. Merriott said that the heydey of patent medicines is at an end but that the so-called health foods have captured the public credulity in their place.

MOTHER OF EIGHT WILL WEAR TOGA

Dominion's First Woman Senator, Mrs. Wilson, to Take Oath on Friday

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. (AP)—Canada's first woman Senator will be Mrs. Norman Wilson of Ottawa, mother of eight children.

Appointed by Premier Mackenzie King, she will be sworn in when Parliament opens Friday. She is to be known as the Honorable Cairine Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson probably will be introduced to the Senate and given the oath of office after the Governor-General has read the speech from the throne, the usual practice. Senators Dandurand of Ottawa, government leader, will escort her into the upper chamber and will introduce her to Speaker Bostock.

The appointment of Mrs. Wilson ends a long fight by women for a representative in the National Parliament.

About two years ago the Supreme Court decided that the word "persons," in the part of the British-North American pact providing for representation, meant only "male." But after recent agitation the judicial committee of the Privy Council reversed the finding of the high court.

Toasts Inaugurate Joint Spanish-Portuguese Post on Border of Nations

ELVAS (Portugal) Feb. 17. (AP)—In this historic citadel town, scene of many clashes in the past, Spain and Portugal today made solemn vows to live in peace forever.

The award of the Order of the Sword and Tower, Portugal's most honored distinction, coupled with inauguration of an international police station between Elvas in Portugal and Badajoz in Spain, brought thousands of spectators from both sides of the frontier.

Gen. Oliveira, the Portuguese Premier, and the Military Governor of Badajoz exchanged toasts at a banquet to the health of King Alfonso of Spain and President Carmona of Portugal.

MOTORIST ARRESTED

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 17.—R. Lacy of Beverly Hills was booked here on a charge of reckless driving after police reported they found a bottle of gin in his car, which had been towed into an Ocean Park garage for repairs. Lacy told the officers he had run into a fence on the beach road. He was pronounced intoxicated, and later released on $150 bail.

HUNTERS NEAR EIELSON'S BODY

News Received of Discovery of Borland's Remains

Bad Weather Prevents Word from Search Party

Aide to Flyer Uncovered Beside Plane Wreck

MOTORSHIP NANUK, NORTH CAPE (Siberia) Feb. 17. (AP)—Momentarily expecting word from the searchers that Carl Ben Eielson's body has been found, officers and crew of this icebound fur trading vessel were preparing to receive the body of Earl Borland, Eielson's companion on their ill-fated flight November 9, discovery of which was reported here today.

The finding of Borland's body was the first actual proof of the generally accepted belief that the two men died in the wreck which occurred while they were attempting to reach the Nanuk from Teller, Alaska.

Bad weather kept Pilot Harold Gillam from bringing the news to the anxious waiters here, only ninety miles from the scene of the wreck, where nineteen men resumed work today under severe conditions to find the other Alaskan's body.

Borland's body was recovered Thursday only a few feet from the motor of the plane, which had been thrown about 100 feet from the wrecked fuselage. It was believed here that the body of Eielson will be found within a short distance from where Borland's was recovered from under about five feet of snow and ice.

Graft Charged to City Official

OAKLAND, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—C. C. Young, City Commissioner elected to office on a ticket pledged to purge the city of graft and corruption, was on the pay roll of the Central Paving Bureau of Oakland, according to charges made to the Alameda county grand jury today by Ray Fisher, a paving salesman. Fisher accused Young, a civil engineer, of being employed by the bureau to draw up plans and blueprints for paving work throughout the city. The disclosure came during the grand jury investigation of paving-graft charges.

J. H. Fitzsimmons, paving contractor, refused to testify on the ground he might incriminate himself.

HOUSE REPORTS DEFICIENCY BILL

Total of $48,151,854 Given for Urgent Needs

Veterans' Program Allotted Largest Outlay

Sawtelle Home Allowed Building Fund

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Providing funds to be made available immediately for urgent needs in nearly every branch of the government, the first deficiency bill, appropriating $48,151,854, was reported today to the House by its Appropriations Committee.

Although the committee did not act on all of the supplemental estimates, amounting to approximately $90,000,000, submitted by President Hoover since Congress convened, it slashed the budget estimates in this bill by $3,246,281.

The largest outlay, aggregating $15,250,000 was allotted to the Veterans' Bureau. Of this, $8,000,000 was set aside for the initial outlay on the $15,950,000 hospitalization program recently authorized by Congress, and $7,250,000 for military and naval insurance to cover lump-sum payments to beneficiaries of deceased veterans.

FIRES PAID FOR

The sum of $206,000 was set aside for the executive office, of which $100,000 is for reconstruction necessitated by the Christmas Eve fire at the White House. The fire at the Capitol the week following Christmas cost only $3000, which was allowed also.

The bill provided $5,740,000 for additional expenses in taking the fifteenth census and $125,000 for the Bureau of Reclamation for making surveys of the Boulder Canyon Dam project and the all-American canal, which Congress authorized last year.

An initial appropriation of $500,000 is carried for commencing work on the projected $9,740,000 Supreme Court Building.

The committee also recommended a $65,000 appropriation for restoration of the home in which George Washington was born at Wakefield, Va. Provision was made to set aside $32,600 for expenses of arbitrating claims submitted by Canada following the sinking of the rum-runner schooner I'm Alone by the Coast Guard.

NAVY AID GIVEN

To aid the Navy in replacing the boilers of destroyers and in carrying on the development of safety devices for the rescue and salvage of submarines, $1,600,000 was allowed.

The Treasury was allowed $2,877,711, including $1,342,000 for the Coast Guard and $568,840 for public building. The fund for the Coast Guard allows $850,000 for the new academy at New London, Ct., and the remainder is for strengthening the force on the Great Lakes and for the repairing and purchase of vessels.

The increased population of Federal penal institutions resulted in an emergency outlay of $1,161,380.

The Federal Trade Commission was given $340,000 to continue the investigation of public-utility concerns authorized by the Senate two years ago.

Of the $6,133,000 allotted the Agriculture Department, $3,670,000 was for the Forest Service, to cover expenses of fighting more than 7000 forest fires and for combatting infestation of national forests by insect pests. An emergency fund of $138,000 was set aside for the control of the Japanese and Asiatic beetles; $100,000 for the gypsy and brown-tailed moths; $100,000 for the oriental fruit moth; $20,000 for enforcement of foreign plant quarantines; $25,000 for the Indio (Cal.) experimental plant, and $30,000 for the office of the Secretary.

FUND FOR HELIUM

A total of $6,434,947 was allowed the Commerce Department, including $3,740,000 for taking the census. For the helium plants of the Bureau of Mines at Amarillo and Fort Worth, Tex., $180,000 was set aside. The sum of $259,700 was allowed the areonautics branch for examination and rating of civilian aviation schools and for regulation of commercial aviation. The sum of $81,000 was provided for restoration of aids to navigation and lighthouse structures on the Atlantic Coast and Gulf Coast and Lake Michigan destroyed during storms in the fall of 1929.

Although $2,033,444 was allotted the Justice Department, only $466,187 was allowed the judiciary. One of the important outlays was $350,000 for the detection and prosecution of crime.

The Labor Department received $566,500, of which $350,000 was given for regulation of immigration under the new National Origins Immigration Act, and $115,000 was allotted the naturalization bureau for the same purpose.

VETERANS' HOME GETS SUM

The Postoffice Department was allotted $356,475, of which $325,000 was to cover special-delivery fees.

Including the $1,600,000 outlay for destroyers and submarine safety devices, the bill carried a total of $2,184,253 for the Navy Department. The sum of $105,000 was allowed for the dredging of the channel at Hampton Roads, Va., to permit the aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga to reach that operating base. The bill carried $100,000 for improvement of the power plant at the navy yard at Puget Sound, Washington; $80,000 for the proving grounds at Indianhead, Md., and $30,000 for the ammunition depot at St. Julien's Creek, Va. The Bureau of Navigation was allowed $18,000, most of which is for the trading station at San Diego, Cal.

The War Department was awarded $2,738,116, of which $1,944,040 was for the National Soldiers' Homes. The Pacific branch in Los Angeles county, California, was given $200,000 for construction.

Included in the War Department appropriation was $10,000 for a survey of the Panama Canal Zone schools; $416,686 for approaches to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery; $225,000 for construction of a bridge across the Mississippi River between the Rock Island arsenal and Moline, Ill.; $25,000 for the Washington-Alaska cable; $100,000 for World War adjusted compensation.

The Federal Farm Loan Board received $50,000 to cover additional expenses caused by increased business, and the Public Health Service was given $117,753, of which $69,838 is for the new marine hospital at Detroit, Mich., and $47,916 for the Ellis Island Hospital in New York.

INSANITY HER PLEA IN NOOSE'S SHADOW

Mrs. Eva Dugan

COURT TO STUDY DOOMED WOMAN

Mrs. Dugan Will Face Jury for Sanity Test Today

Move Final Effort to Save Her from Hanging

Nine Witnesses to be Called to Prove Madness

FLORENCE (Ariz.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Eva Dugan, under sentence to hang at the State prison here Friday for the murder of A. J. Mathis, Tucson rancher, will be taken before a Superior Court jury by her attorneys here tomorrow in an effort to prove that she is insane. Judge Green of Pinal county will preside.

If the jury finds that Mrs. Dugan is insane she will be committed to the State Asylum at Phoenix. Should the jurors be unable to agree on a verdict, a stay of execution will be asked, her counsel said.

The defense will put nine witnesses on the stand, including four physicians, through whose testimony it is hoped to save Mrs. Dugan from being the first woman in the history of Arizona to hang.

The witnesses for Mrs. Dugan will be Lorenzo Wright, warden of the State prison; Dr. Win Wylie of Phoenix, psychiatrist and criminologist; Dr. C. W. Brown, former prison physician; Dr. George Huffman, Florence; Dr. L. A. Love, prison physician; Scott White, former warden; Oscar Phelps, former guard at the prison; Asa Gardner, former guard, and now deputy sheriff of Pinal county, and W. E. Skidmore, former guard and now State highway employee at Coolidge.

This shows the Refrigerating Unit of the General Electric Refrigerator. Hermetically sealed within the steel casing are (1) the motor (2) all the machinery and (3) a permanent supply of purest lubricating oil.

And These Added Advantages!

1. All machinery hermetically sealed in one steel casing—permanently oiled.
2. Incomparably quiet in operation.
3. Low running cost—a few cents a day.
4. An accessible freezing regulator.
5. An all-steel, warp-proof cabinet.
6. Sanitary, all-porcelain chilling chamber.
7. Food storage area most spacious.
8. Mounted on legs for easier cleaning.
9. Electrical, therefore modern.
10. Backed by the most comprehensive guarantee ever given a refrigerator.

Put your hand over a radiator—and you'll know what refrigerator to buy!

Feel that current of warm air heading straight for the ceiling? Warm air has a habit of floating up—an unbreakable habit. And that includes the warm air the mechanism draws out of your refrigerator to make it cool inside.

How easy to see that the efficient refrigerator mechanism must always be on top, so that all the warm air released by it will be set free above the cabinet that must be kept cool!

You can always tell a General Electric Refrigerator. The mechanism is on top where it belongs. And that mechanism keeps the temperature of your refrigerator where it belongs. Always below 50 degrees.

And it keeps your electric current bill where it belongs. Unbelievably low. And it keeps the maintenance cost where it belongs. For three years no owner has paid one cent for service.

Why not put a nice, glistening white, all-steel General Electric Refrigerator where it belongs? Phone us, or better yet, drop around.

Join us in the General Electric Hour broadcast every Saturday at 9 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, over a nation-wide N.B.C. network.

PLANE MAKERS TAKE NEW STEP

Handling of Aircraft by Auto Dealers Proposed

Plans for Economic Changes in Industry Pushed

Moves Mark Proceedings at St. Louis Show

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Remolding of American aviation on sounder economic principles moved closer to realization today with steps taken here at the International Aircraft Exposition.

Aircraft manufacturers, a number of whom had presaged one solution of the merchandising problem with price reductions ranging from $6725 to $1500, conceded a point to automobile distributors by proposing that car dealers handle airplanes.

More than 100 producers concurred with their chairman, J. Don Alexander, president of Alexander Aircraft Corporation, in urging that facilities of automotive dealers for showing and selling aircraft be used.

FOREIGN DISTRIBUTION

Improvement of foreign distribution was forecast in an announcement that a foreign aircraft export handbook will be issued by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, with the aid of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce.

The handbook will be supplemented with weekly letters outlining trade opportunities. A cable code is being constructed and a standard sales form being drawn up to establish business in foreign markets on a sounder foundation, it was announced.

Eight universities will take part in standardizing airplane performance tests under a common plan, heretofore lacking in the industry, drawn by a committee under direction of Prof. Alexander Klemin of New York University.

INSTITUTIONS SELECTED

The institutions selected to conduct the tests for rating speeds and other performance characteristics, are New York University, Guggenheim School of Aeronautics; University of Cincinnati, Purdue University of Wisconsin, Washington University, University of Michigan, California Institute of Technology and Leland Stanford University.

Dr. George R. Throop, Chancellor of Washington University, in opening the first national conference on aeronautical education, urged the concentration of highly specialized courses in aeronautics in a few strategically located universities.

"In the intensity of interest attached to aeronautics," he said, "we should not rush to organize complete curricula in aeronautical engineering in institutions all over the country.

"It would seem wise educational policy to concentrate the more complete and advanced work in strategically located schools and the choice of future institutions fatrly close to centers of aircraft production and operation."

NATION'S AERONAUTIC EXPORT TOTAL TRIPLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Tripling of American aeronautic exports during 1929 as compared with the preceding year was announced today by the Department of Commerce.

Twenty-five countries purchased American aircraft during the past year, which included 354 airplanes, seaplanes and amphibians valued at $5,574,480. In 1928 only 162 planes valued at $1,759,653 were exported.

Weighing more than 1000 pounds, the cow will be flown to demonstrate the stability of aircraft. Scientific data will be collected on her behavior.

FRANCE PLANS WATER BARRIER

Flood System Projected to Defend North Border

Region Along Belgian Line Included in Scheme

Frontier Affected Hardest of All to Safeguard

(Copyright, 1930, Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The best defense of Northern France against another invasion through Belgium is water, simply water, Andre Maginot, Minister of War, said today.

Accompanied by Gen. Maxime Weygand, new chief of staff, and the late Marshal Foch's right hand man during the war, the Minister was inspecting the work of a huge defense project on the eastern frontier which is being rushed to completion.

Speaking at Douai, he revealed that engineers are studying a plan for flooding the frontier region from Lille to Dunkirk as a defense measure in case of a new invasion.

"The plans are not completed yet but they will be in three months," he said. "At the end of the year we will stage maneuvers, opening and closing the sluice gates and dams."

He pointed out that the frontier on the north is harder to defend than any other. This was proved in 1914 when the Germans thought it tempting enough to compensate them for violation of the neutrality of Belgium. An elaborate system of concrete emplacements and mobile defense units are being evolved for the rest of the frontier, but this region is difficult not only on account of the terrain but also because it fronts on Belgium.

"It would be impossible and away from all decency to construct a massive defense organization in the face of a friendly nation, and besides it would be difficult to establish a defense line in populous regions," M. Maginot said.

"We are planning a system for inundating at any time of the year in any weather and with great speed in case of stress. It is a plan for mobilizing water, so to speak, that we are considering. At the present moment there are only limited facilities for flooding the country, but it is necessary and will be done."

R-100 May Fly Across Ocean

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The giant British dirigible R-100 is undergoing tests with the possibility that she may make a flight to Canada toward the end of April or the beginning of May.

An official of the Air Ministry said today:

"The condition of the R-100 is now being investigated after her recent flight and when the inspection is completed she probably will undergo another test flight. Possibly toward the end of April or the beginning of May she will make a flight to Canada."

AUSTRALIA FLYERS MAKE BAGDAD STOP

BABDAD (Irak) Feb. 17. (AP)—The British Airmen Piper and C. Kay Don, flying from England to beat Bert Hinkler's record for a flight to Australia, arrived here today. They left this afternoon on the next stage of the flight. Hinkler made the trip from Croydon to Australia in fifteen days, flying solo.

It is also very rich in Vitamin A which promotes growth and nutrition, and increases resistance to certain infections.

Many physicians prefer one kind of cod-liver oil — Squibb's. They know they can depend on Squibb's because it is vitamin-tested and vitamin-protected.

Ask your physician about Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil as a builder of vitality for your child. Squibb has a new mint-flavored oil which older children will like. You can get it, as well as the plain, at all good drug stores.

SALTY WATER FEAR ERASED

Interior Department Attacks Boulder Dam Forecast

Geologist Says Deposits Too Slight for Harm

Low Salinity of Reservoir Contents Predicted

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The Interior Department issued a statement today saying there is no foundation for apprehension which exists in some quarters that the construction of Boulder Dam will make the waters of the Colorado River too salty for practical use for domestic and irrigation purposes.

The statement is based on a recent report by Dr. F. L. Ransome, formerly identified with the geological survey and now professor of economic geology at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. Dr. Ransome has made two studies of the situation and reported to the department that the water of the Colorado will have a salinity of less than half of that permissible in good water.

He declared that the salinity that might be produced in the Boulder Dam reservoir by the solution of salt in the Virgin River Valley deposits in Nevada, is "entirely too slight" to be detrimental. The area of the salt deposits is only twenty-two acres, he pointed out; as compared with a reservoir of 142,700 acres, making a ratio of one to 500.

Dr. Ransome also stated that, while unnecessary, solution of the salt can be almost wholly prevented at comparatively small cost.

MISTAKE FEARED IN POWER ALLOTMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Asserting that allotment of Boulder Dam power to private companies would be primarily against the law and public interest, George W. Woodruff, acting Secretary of the Interior under President Roosevelt, said in a letter to President Hoover today that he had a "strong fear that an irretrievable mistake may be made." The letter was made public by Woodruff.

The "Boulder Dam law is an arrow aimed directly at the heart of the power trust," Woodruff said. "It not only hurts the trust by freeing the municipalities in California, Nevada and Arizona from its domination, but it will be an example leading gradually to nation-wide freedom."

Woodruff contended that Asst. Atty.-Gen. Finney for the Interior Department was "woefully wrong" in rulings made at Secretary Wilbur's request on power allotment.

"Can anyone," Woodruff said, "imagine Congress spending public funds to supply private corporations with cheap power to be resold at high prices to municipalities or private citizens?"

GIRDLERS TO RIDE SPEEDY GIANT OF AIR

Attempt to Set Up New Globe-Circling Record to be Made in Few Months

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Eastward into the face of the rising sun, rather than westward, a monster air liner will be pointed in June to girdle the globe.

Harry Husted of Cleveland, while attending the International Aircraft Exposition today, outlined changes and further details of the proposed flight in which he expects to out-Magellian the world's few Magellans of the air and shade the wildest fancies of Jules Verne.

Faced with head winds in a westward flight and incomplete knowledge of air currents, he said the preliminary plans had been abandoned in favor of the more established eastward route.

"We expect to have final details completed in a week," he said. "We have been working night and day studying winds and projecting a trail around the globe that will give us most advantages."

The flight, which he said will start "about June 15," will swing under way in a nonstop trip from Los Angeles to New York. The Atlantic Ocean will be spanned in a nonstop flight to London, followed by a landing in Berlin.

"The rest of the trail is harder," Husted said. "We expect to follow the Russian railway over Europe, span Siberia and Mongolia, and point from Japan to the Hawaiian Islands. The final leg of the journey will be the flight to Los Angeles."

A giant Fokker F-32 is being groomed for the flight. Husted will be accompanied by five men whose names he declined to give.

Man Warned of Amnesia Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)—A well-dressed man about 40 years of age, carrying a suit case today stepped up to a traffic officer on Market street.

"I am subject to attacks of amnesia," he said. "I feel an attack coming on. Please send me to a hospital."

When he arrived at the Harbor Emergency Hospital his mind was apparently blank. Papers revealed his probable identity as Charlie Golding, former member of the British forces in France. He carried a Los Angeles newspaper dated the 3rd inst.

POLAND'S PICK AS QUEEN OF BEAUTY

"Miss Poland"

WARSAW, Feb. 17. (AP)—Selection of the beautiful 22-year-old film actress, Sophy Batycka, as Miss Poland of 1930 has caused a storm of protest to be raised among Polish working girls, who were hoping one of their class would be selected as Poland's beauty queen.

Miss Batycka, who is the daughter of a wealthy lawyer of Lwow, is tall, with fair hair and blue eyes. She speaks English, French, German and Italian.

HUGE BRIBERY PLOT CHARGED

Million-Dollar Chicago Fund Cited in Court Petition

Contracting Company Books and Records Sought

Costly Silver Service Gifts and Other Items Listed

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) Wholesale bribery of public officials with a $1,000,000 fund is charged in an amended petition filed today before Judge McGoorty of the Criminal Court, asking for the books and records of the U.S.A. Company, electrical contractors who performed considerable work for the sanitary district when, it is charged that the taxpayers' money was spent with reckless abandon.

The bribes, according to the petition of the prosecutor, were in the forms of silver service sets worth $1700, indoor golf sets worth $1000, furniture, film cameras and various useful household articles.

One incident cited by First Assistant State's Attorney Northup was the purchase of an elaborate silver service set for the wife of one of the district trustees. She was told that if she did not like the "token" it was exchangeable for cash. And cash was obtained on it, it is reported.

State Marriage Totals Increase

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17. (AP)—There were 51,866 marriages in California during 1929, an increase of 4921 over 1928, the State Department of Health announced today. The rate per 1000 population was 11.7, compared with 10.8 in 1928.

Although showing a gain over the preceding year, 1929 marriages failed to reach the record set in 1926 when 56,664 were reported.

TARIFF TRUCE SESSION OPENS

Envoys from Twenty-nine Nations at Geneva

United States Has Observer But Takes No Part

Count Moltke of Denmark Voices Aspirations

GENEVA, Feb. 17. (AP)—Diplomatic representatives of twenty-nine nations began today their search for an international agreement to enter a tariff truce as a preliminary step to reduction in the height of tariff walls.

While all the governments of the world were invited to participate, the conference is attended largely by European states and the immediate problem under attack is recognized as theirs.

An observer for the American government, Edwin C. Wilson, looked on as the objects of the parley were outlined by Count Moltke of Denmark. Observers of the Cuban and Brazilian governments also are attending.

After the opening talk by Count Moltke, the spokesmen for Austria, Norway and Belgium, voiced their hopes for a remedial treaty. The session adjourned until tomorrow morning when the British and German views will be heard.

Count Moltke declared that the economic reconstruction of Europe is essential to the economic reconstruction of the world, and removal of obstacles to trade is necessary to bring it about.

IDAHO MAN FOUND BEATEN TO DEATH

ST. MARIES (Idaho) Feb. 17. (AP) The body of Cust Helsing, 68 years of age, was found in a stable here by his brother John, the latter reported to police today. Apparently a maniac had beaten and tortured the man to death, officers surmised.

Where Nerve is King and the Queen's, the Goddess of Chance!

A hundred thousand dollars on that one!

She knew what it meant to be a big-time gambler's wife!

He had risked his brother, his wife, his life on that card. Would he win?

Where grim-faced men gather in guarded rooms and death awaits the weakling.

Where $100,000 is risked on the turn of a card, and love is forgotten.

Where women wait and weep while men risk their lives and fortunes.

A Broadway that's never been depicted before . . . A Broadway that lurks behind the bright lights. A Broadway where chance taking is so stupendous that Monte Carlo looks like a county fair.

"STREET OF CHANCE"

Paramount's Astounding Exposé of Broadway's most colorful mystery starring

WILLIAM POWELL

REGIS TOOMEY KAY FRANCIS JEAN ARTHUR

Thrillingly real, tremendously exciting this is one of the most sensational pictures that Paramount has ever made! Hair-raising suspense, dramatic situations without equal, a marvelously true story with Powell in a characterization almost unequalled in screen annals, greater than his work as Philo Vance.

SHIP PASSENGER FIGHTS FOR GIRL

She Accuses Assailant of Threat to Drown Her

Interfering Stranger Gets Knockout Blow

Row Follows Dance Refusal; Arrest Results

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Arthur Sullivan, giving his home as Sacramento, tried to throw a Los Angeles woman radio entertainer over the rail of the steamer Harvard because she would not dance with him and felled with his fist a man who came to her assistance, according to complaints upon which Sullivan was arrested when the coastwise liner docked here today from Los Angeles Harbor.

The complaining witnesses are Miss Grace Herold, 3918 Beverly Boulevard, Los Angeles, and Berchard Arnold, radio engineer, living at the Hotel Bellevue in this city.

Miss Herold, pianist, who was en route here to fulfill a radio engagement, said the trouble occurred last night while the passengers were amusing themselves in the usual fashion. She went on deck for fresh air, she declared, and Sullivan followed her. He demanded, she said, that she dance with him and when she refused became abusive. She started to flee. He grabbed her, she declared, pinioned her arms to her sides and said he was going to throw her overboard and started to lift her to the top of the rail.

Arnold, who she said is a stranger to her, heard the commotion, and rushed in. Sullivan, it is charged, dropped Miss Herold, turned upon Arnold and felled him with a blow of his fist.

By that time members of the crew arrived and separated the belligerents.

Sullivan is charged in two separate complaints with assault on the high seas to do great bodily harm, with bail set at $2500 on each count, one of which was preferred by Miss Herold and the other by Arnold.

INDUSTRIAL CHIEF DONS BANDIT ROLE

Once Prosperous Chicago Man Caught in Police Net and Linked to Hold-ups

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Earl B. Doty, 47 years of age, once a prosperous business man, was herded into the lock-up of the felony court today to await disposition of three robbery charges against him. When it was his turn to face the judge he hung his head as the witness identified him as the man who had robbed three grocery stores in the past few weeks. He waived examination and apparently made every effort to hide his identity by taking the shortest method of getting out of the court.

Doty four years ago was controller and secretary of a large baking-powder company, it was reported. Later in a jail cell he admitted his identity, begging that his plight be kept secret.

The defendant said that his friends are coming to his rescue with a job and restitution, and that he had hopes to escape notice in court so as not to jeopardize his chances of liberty.

Doty said that one of the charges against him must have been the result of mistaken identity, but as to the other two cases his memory is a blank as to what happened.

PRODUCERS PLANNING OPERETTA

Nino Martini Arrives, Cast in Paramount Revue; Griffith Says Una Merkel May Play Mrs. Lincoln; Original "Good News" Freshman With M.-G.-M.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Now that Lillian Albertson and Louis Macloon have definitely decided to go into the picture-producing business, it is but natural that they should be looking about them for an excellent vehicle to serve not only as their first production, but which also they can produce on the stage.

And what could be more splendid for their purposes than a new operetta by the famous Oscar Straus? This operetta is indeed the thing they have their eyes on. It is called "Marietta," and already Miss Albertson and Macloon have gone into negotiations with Straus with a view to obtaining both stage and picture rights to the new brain-child.

"Marietta" will first be produced as a stage show and afterward as a screen musical, and with a notable cast, which, we hear, is entirely likely to include Perry Askam, who is making such a hit at the Majestic these days in "New Moon."

Straus at present is under contract to Warner Brothers and First National, and the composer of "The Chocolate Soldier" is at work on a new operetta for Warners.

ITALIAN SINGER TO APPEAR IN REVUE

Another noted foreign artist has arrived in Hollywood to devote his talents to talking pictures.

He is Nino Martini, Italian singer, who was discovered in Paris by Jesse L. Lasky last summer, and who arrived in our midst yesterday, and was at once assigned to a role.

Martini will step before the cameras and the microphones today or tomorrow to sing several numbers and to play a featured role in "Paramount on Parade," according to B. P. Schulberg.

An interesting story is behind Martini's coming to the motion-picture capital. He is a native of Verona, Italy, and received his earliest training as a boy singer in one of the city's churches. After completing school, Martini sought work as a singer in various of the Mediterranean resorts. He arrived finally in Paris through a cafe engagement, and while there was hired to sing at a dinner given in honor of Jesse Lasky. Lasky, on the alert for foreign talent and realizing that Martini has a splendid voice, placed him under contract.

Actress May Shift Roles

There is a strong probability that, after all, Una Merkel may play the role of Mrs. Lincoln in D. W. Griffith's film, "Abraham Lincoln," to be produced by United Artists.

D.W. GRIFFITH

Miss Merkel was scheduled for the role of Ann Rutledge, but so well does she read the role of Mrs. Lincoln, that she will play the part of Lincoln's wife, providing she can be made to look old enough for the role.

"We haven't found anybody," said Griffith yesterday, "who can read the lines as can Miss Merkel. We are testing out make-ups today with the hope of being able to make this fine actress look old enough to play the role. If we are able to do so, we shall cast her for the part."

Billy Taft With M.-G.-M.

Billy Taft, young singer and dancer who created the freshman role in the stage presentation of "Good News" in New York, will repeat this performance for the talking version of the musical comedy which Edgar MacGregor and Nick Grinde are codirecting for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The young actor recently appeared with the "Follow Thru" stage company, and before that was featured in vaudeville.

Hugh Trevor Signed

That fascinating young leading man, Hugh Trevor, has just been signed by R.-K.-O. to play opposite Betty Compson in "Hawk Island," we learn.

BETTY COMPSON

Trevor, you remember, was the insurance salesman of New York who met Richard Dix and so interested Dix that the star persuaded him to go into pictures. He had the lead in "Night Parade," and has justified Dix's judgment.

Lowell Sherman is cast for the heavy role, following that actor's return from the East.

Young Bushman with M.-G.-M.

So big a success did Francis X. Bushman, Jr., register in playing the role of junior heavy in "The Girl Who Said No," starring William Haines, that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is assigning him to another part of the same sort.

FRANCIS X BUSHMAN JR.

Bushman is to portray the young broker in "Father's Day," which Sam Wood will direct with Louis Mann in the featured role. Bushman will be opposite Jean Wood, daughter of the director, who is playing her first screen role. Although Miss Wood recently finished college, she has already appeared on the stage.

Leila Hyams, Robert Montgomery and others of note are in the cast.

Sidney Olcott Writes

From Sidney Olcott comes a letter, informing us that the well-known director is now in England directing for Wembley Films.

"On board with me, when I came over, were Jacqueline Logan and her husband," writes Olcott. "She begins with Gainsborough Films of London. Katherine Carver (Mrs. Adolphe Menjou) left us at Cherbourg to join her husband in Paris."

Ruth Mix in London

That clever young actress, Ruth Mix, daughter of Tom Mix, is to make a big success in London, we hear. She has joined up with C. B. Cochran's Pavilion Revue, and will appear in some riding and shooting stunts, as well as doing some dancing and singing numbers.

When Miss Mix appeared here at the Orpheum, success was predicted for her, since she revealed unusual personality, looks and talent.

COW WITH WINDOW IN RUMEN DIES

"Pennstate Jessie" Was for Years Walking Laboratory at Agricultural College

STATE COLLEGE (Pa.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Pennstate Jessie, the cow with a "window" in her stomach, died today.

For the past four years Jessie had been a walking laboratory. She received wide notice when a permanent fistula was placed in the left side of her rumen or first stomach. Since then with the aid of research experts of the agricultural school of Pennsylvania State College, Jessie has made several important contributions to science.

First it was found that samples of matter taken from her stomach contained vitamin B, although she received feed containing none of the vitamin. Then it was discovered that 90 per cent of the bacteria in the rumen were of a new kind which Prof. M. H. Knutsen named flavobacterium vitarumen.

Prof. R. P. Tittsler was making the most recent study with the aid of Pennstate Jessie. He was studying cellulose fermentation with results that promised to revolutionize existing theories. During one of the tests, Jessie handicapped the experimenters by swallowing the record sheets.

"Red" Grange Poor Pay, Trial Evidence Shows

URBANA (Ill.) Feb. 17. (AP)—That Harold (Red) Grange, has paid $25.48 on a $17,000 note held by the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank and C. C. Fyle, his partner in the transcontinental "bunion derby," owes $9634 on an $18,000 loan, was brought out in testimony today.

The figures were given by George R. MacComb, receiver for the bank who was testifying in the trial of Edwin Filson and Harry Monevin, former officials of the bank, who are charged with having accepted deposits when they knew the bank was insolvent.

Tax-Claim Suit Won by Swifts

SHOW'S DEFICIT FIGURES LARGE

"9:15 Revue" in Theatrical Warehouse

Loss Runs to $30,000 With Staff Unpaid

Had Seven Performances on Broadway

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The "9:15 Revue," elaborate and expensive production staged by Mrs. Ruth Selwyn, wife of Edgar Selwyn, the producer, was in Cain's Theatrical Warehouse tonight after seven performances on Broadway.

While the backers of the show, Roger Wolfe Kahn, son of Otto Kahn (financier and art patron,) and Howard Hughes, a motion-picture executive, totaled their deficit at an estimated $30,000, members of the cast had not yet received their salaries, which aggregated $9000. An agent of Mrs. Selwyn promised they will be paid before the end of this week.

The "9:15 Revue" was the combined product of many leading figures in the theatrical world. There were sketches by Ring Lardner, Eddie Cantor, Anita Loos and Geoffrey Kerr. There was music by Victor Herbert, George Gershwin, Vincent Youmans and Rudolph Friml.

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The strained relations existing for months between the Labor government and its left wing members in the Independent Labor party culminated today in the resignation of Prime Minister MacDonald from the membership of the party. No stated reason for the action was given. In the words of a friend of the Prime Minister, "The reason must be obvious to everyone."

The Independent Labor party is the left wing of the Labor party. Its leaders frequently have attacked the Parliamentary Labor party and government policies and ministers.

Madame Lunn, Contralto, Dies

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP) — Mme. Louise Kirkby Lunn, one of the greatest of British contraltos, died today after a long illness. She sang at the Covent Garden Operahouse in London, at the Metropolitan Operahouse in New York and in Budapest, Hungary, and Germany.

She toured America, Australia and New Zealand in concert, and in 1909 created the role of Delilah in French at Covent Garden.

Mother of Five Sent to Prison

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Feb. 17. (AP)—A 56-year-old woman, mother of five children, was sentenced to six months in prison today following her conviction in Federal Court of possessing five bottles of home brew and a pint of whisky.

The woman, Mrs. Jim McHaney of near Ensley, was sentenced by Judge Grube to serve the term in the Jefferson County Jail. Her husband, convicted on the same charge, was placed on five years' probation.

SOCIAL TRAGEDY THEME OF PLAY

"Bill of Divorcement" Opens at Repertoty

Delicate Motifs Effectively Treated by Author

Jan MacLaren and Others Appeal With Acting

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

It is more serious and somber than plays have a right to be, is "A Bill of Divorcement," provided it is true that plays have the right to be only entertaining. A distant echo of the World War, this drama—and it is truly that—by Clemance Dane is the second offering of the Civic Repertory Theater, and it is being presented by a cast that is, in the larger aspects, adequate to the occasion.

"A Bill of Divorcement" is no new adventure of the stage. It was given a full nine years ago in this country with Katherine Cornell and Janet Beecher among the members of the cast. It is a novelty, though, in the present time, and especially here where it has not to my recollection, been produced before, unless in a nonprofessional way.

The piece is a study in heredity and its shadowing influences, with much that is dark and much that is deep in its plot. And though its minor-keyed story is seldom relieved by even a smile, there is a fascination about what takes place that really justifies the adjective intense.

The audience which saw the opening at the Hollywood Music Box last evening was constant in its attention, under the spell of what eventuated on the stage. Admittedly, "A Bill of Divorcement" is heavy meat for a theatrical evening nowadays, but the interest throughout and the prolonged applause at the close was proof that those who attended felt themselves well compensated by situations and dialogue intelligently and skillfully treated, and roles in the main well played.

DRAMATIC ELEMENTS

It is in its technique and its dramatic elements that "A Bill of Divorcement" must attract primarily today. The human qualities that it possesses are touching and appealing enough, but the belief in such an Ibsenesque theory as it projects is a trifle outgrown.

Here we have the basic idea of a wife being separated from a mentally ill husband and remaining faithful to him over a period of fifteen or sixteen years and then finally deciding to secure a legal separation because he is apparently incurable and because, too, she loves another man. The decree has been obtained, the day of the wedding is approaching, and then—the news that the husband has recovered his sanity and is returning home.

No question that the theme is an exceedingly delicate one, and that it could be turned into a farce at a moment's notice. However, in the Dane play the whole scheme of the plot is so well set forth that it never suggests aught but sincerity and purposefulness.

"A Bill of Divorcement" is a virtual tragedy. The final scene shows the wife as leaving her home at the behest of her own daughter, who regards herself as the one to protect and companion her father rather than the mother who no longer loves him. The daughter sacrifices her own happiness to this end, casting off a youth whom she loves. Partly she does this because she believes she is under the influence of a baleful heredity. The fact that shell-shock in the war had brought about her father's malady, she did not regard as the real essence of his ailment. She felt rather that it was a family affliction.

All this is rather hopeless in content and in spirit. The mode of today is for optimism, at all costs.

Regardless of that "A Bill of Divorcement" merits both respect and appreciation as a literary and dramatic creation, because it has been done with a care and a sentiment for its theme that compel.

THREE MAJOR ROLES

The leading roles of the husband, the wife and the daughter, which are exceedingly important in this play, are enacted respectively by Ian MacLaren, Elise Bartlett and Marion Clayton. The first-named is the most distinguished in his interpretation, and admirably so, for his is an exceedingly difficult character to sustain. MacLaren impersonates the man fighting for his sanity, against odds of domestic disaster, and he makes you feel the struggle. Only here and there for the sake of the harmony of the play might a high-pitched note in his work be subdued. Small fault can, however, even be found with that since it is practically in the character.

Miss Bartlett has a highly exacting role as the wife and did not seem fully to find herself in the interpretation last evening. Accurate and earnest she was in the technical presentation of the role, but it fell short of the humanness that it might have possessed. Her capability as an actress rather insures the development of the portrayal, however.

Miss Clayton was very natural and genuine in her acting of the daughter. At her best, perhaps, in the lighter scenes, but good in a majority of the more serious, she definitely pleased.

Olaf Hytten, Clarice Wynn and Frederick Harrington were others responsible for good to excellent portrayals. Boyd Irwin appeared as the "other man" in the plot. Carleton Young was the daughter's fiance. The play was directed by Paul Irving.

Stage Success Brought to Screen

Miriam Seegar and Richard Dix

In a scene from "Seven Keys to Baldpate," which is Dix's first starring vehicle for Radio Pictures. The film starts at the Orpheum Theater tomorrow.

United Artists Books Ronald Colman Vehicle

Seetings of unusual pictorial interest, the acting of such stage and screen players as Ronald Colman, Ann Harding and Louis Wolheim and the power of a story from two noted authors are among the features of "Condemned," the Samuel Goldwyn film starring Colman, which comes to the United Artists Theater on the 26th inst. for a popular run.

The story is adapted from "Condemned to Devil's Island," Blair Niles's novel of life in the French penal colonies in South America. Sidney Howard, the New York dramatist, put "Condemned" into screen form and wrote the dialogue. The direction is by Wesley Ruggles.

In addition to Ronald Colman in the starring role of the French convict, the cast includes Ann Harding, Louis Wolheim, popular character actor, and Dudley Digges, New York Theater Guild player.

FINE WORK OF FLETA ATTRACTS

Spanish Tenor Acclaimed by Countrymen; Audience Includes Artists

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The advent of Miguel Fleta, adored Spanish tenor, for his first concert in Los Angeles last night was greeted with excited enthusiasm by his countrymen who filled the balconies of the Philharmonic Auditorium. Opera singers, informed by underground messages, and a few others were to be found in rapt attention on the first floor, but most of music-loving Los Angeles was conspicuous by its absence, because the concert had not been sufficiently publicized.

In South America and in Mexico, where Fleta is an idol, it is only necessary to announce a concert the day before its occurence and a crowd will result, but here it is quite different. However, the singer is all his tardy press agents claim him to be, "one of the world's greatest tenors," and the staid old Philharmonic rang with the vociferous approval of his audience.

The progras was typical. It was composed of operatic excerpts and Spanish folk songs. A Russian lullaby by Gretchcaninoff and the Schubert Serenade were the only digressions. Fleta is a very fine artist. His voice is of amazing range and an unforgettable quality. He has the Spanish lilt, the Italian legato, the Irish tenderness and the dramatic intensity of the true Latin. He is still young and handsome withal. He appeared slightly ill at ease last evening. It is reported that he has been ill since the termination of his engagement at the Metropolitan, and this may account for it.

At any rate, the apparent disquiet did not affect his singing and without doubt his second concert on Friday night in the same place will be well attended and it deserves to be, for he has voice of rare beauty and he uses it with distinction.

Two Dancers Prove Adept in Their Art

BY MARY MAYER

The sincerity and substantiality of modern art—this gloss and charm of the classic dance. The coupling of these factors has produced an art in itself, the art of Mary Wigman's school in Germany—the art of Harald Kreutzberg and Yvonne Georgi.

Although these two have shot to meteoric heights in the favor of eastern audiences in the past two years, Los Angeles was granted its first glimpse of them yesterday morning when they were presented in the Biltmore Sala de Oro, under the sponsorship of Genevieve Gray's Morning Musicales.

Kreutzberg and Georgi prove a delightful suprise. As two of the ablest disciples of the Mary Wigman school they seem to come from another dance world—a world of eerie symbolism. Their movements are light, marked by a simplicity that makes exactness in line and gesture imperative. They have, to no small degree, clung to the rudiments of ballet technique—but they have put emotion behind it.

It was interesting to note that the stranger, newer phases of their art were received with more enthusiasm than the routine selections.

It is in such selections as "Revolte," and "The Angel of Last Judgment," that Kreutzberg shows his real accomplishments. His precision and rhythm of pose and movement are faultless. He darts foreward and back again with all the speed and agility of a serpent. These two numbers are, without a doubt, the masterpieces of his current repertoire. Incidentally, Kreutzberg has the gift, quite uncommon with masculine dancers, of being delicately perfect in rhythmic motion—gay and carefree—and yet maintaining his masculinity.

That Miss Georgi is a versatile dancer as well as choreographer was proved in the wide scope of her numbers. In "Kassandra" her characterization of the mad seer flamed with realism. In "Waltz" she departed definitely from the school of Mary Wigman and impersonated the unrestrained and thoughtless essence of joy and youth. Kreutzberg and Georgi are scheduled to appear tonight in a concert at the Philharmonic. They spell a new era for the art of the dance.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

FAY MARBE, seen recently at the Windsor Square Theater for only one night, is planning to stage her "one-girl" revue at the Mayan under the L. E. Behymer management. The engagement would be for two weeks.

Details of the presentation are now being worked out. Dates have not, as yet, been set.

While it would seem rather a prodigious undertaking for an individual to put on an interesting show, single-handed, night after night for two weeks, Miss Marbe recently did this very thing in New York, and most successfully. Her lone revue stayed seven weeks at the Belmont there.

Duffy Tries Comedy

A new comedy by Ethel Clifton and Brenda Fowler, both actresses, will be premiered by Henry Duffy, it was announced yesterday. It is called "Peggy Steps Out," and will be seen at the Dufwin in Portland shortly. Miss Clifton will go north to play the leading role, that of a woman who finds herself as the wrinkles accumulate, shoved aside by her husband and children.

Miss Fowler, other participant in the writing of the piece, is now appearing in "Ladies of the Jury" with Mary Boland at the El Captan. It is presumed that if "Peggy" is favorably received in the north, she will come to a local theater in the near future.

Starts Right Here

The actual premiere of "Gone Hollywood," will take place at the Biltmore next Monday evening. It had been planned by Roger Gray to take the revue out of town for three or four nights before presenting it to a Los Angeles audience, but upon seeing the multitude of small properties to be used, he changed his mind. There are twenty-five individual numbers to the revue, the longest of which is a miniature Japanese operetta.

Gray, it may be remembered, was one of the funny gobs in the original production of "Hit the Deck." Miss Pert Kelton, who has a leading role, did humorous specialty numbers in "The Five O'clock Girl" and "Sunny."

"Your Uncle Dudley" Soon

Following Kolb and Dill into the President will be the comedy "Your Uncle Dudley," now at the Alcazar in San Francisco.

And, incidentally, it is told that through the insistence of Taylor Holmes, star of the piece, Florence Roberts who plays the grandmother, is now being featured in the cast. Holmes made a special request that Henry Duffy accord Miss Roberts, quite a favorite in San Francisco as well as here, feature billing.

And although Duffy said he'd never had a request of like nature before, he acceded to it.

NEWPAPER MAN GIVEN AWARD

Charles H. Prisk Declared "Most Valuable Citizen"

Pasadena Publisher to Get Arthur Noble Medal

Highest Civic Honor for 1929 Given Unanimously

PASADENA, Feb. 17. — Charles H. Prisk, editor and publisher of the Pasadena Star-News, has won the Arthur Noble Award, presented annually to the local resident who is adjudged the most valuable citizen, it was announced today by I. Blair Evans, chairman of the award committee. The formal presentation of the gold medal will be made at a public gathering at a later date.

The committee of judges appointed by the Board of City Directors, reported that Prisk was selected to receive the highest civic honor during 1929 by unanimous vote.

"We are unanimously of the opinion that the Arthur Noble Award for 1929 should be made to Mr. Prisk because of his publishing of the Pasadena Star-News and that any further explanation of the choice would seem unnecessary," recites the committee's report.

Besides Evans, the committee of judges included Mrs. W. D. Crocker, William H. Magee, Charles R. Seward and Dr. Merle N. Smith.

Former recipients of the medal for outstanding service to the city are Gilmor Brown, Community Playhouse director; Myron Hunt, architect; Dr. George Ellery Hale, astronomer, and Hiram W. Wadsworth, former city official and active organizer of the Metropolitan Water District.

Bitter Municipal Fight Expected

REDLANDS, Feb. 17.—Politics have become active in Redlands and the promise for a bitter municipal political battle is good. The Law and Observance League has announced it will put a full ticket in the field this year for City Council. There are four vacancies, Mayor Allen Wheaton and Harry Knott having announced they will not be candidates again.

H. H. Ford, Jr., and W. L. Fowler are expected to be candidates. Ford will run independently, Fowler with the league candidates who will be F. A. Alexander, son of the former Mayor of Los Angeles, H. E. Cromas and N. Leo Lelan.

Capt. Theodore Krumm, the only holdover member of the board, is said to be rallying his friends to put in a ticket to support his policies, and expects a fight on what he says is a waste in city water department.

Motorist Rams Train; Unhurt

UPLAND, Feb. 17.—Grant W. Redmon of Santa Ana can tell his friends today what a Pacific Electric train looks like while lying right next to its clicking wheels.

Redmon, driving an automobile, intended to pass over the Sixth-street crossing. He said he did not hear the train whistle or see it approach. Consequently he was considerably surprised when he discovered the big red cars directly in front of his machine.

His auto struck the first car of the train. Neighbors saw the auto fall to pieces but they did not see Redmon. He was thrown clear of the car and nearly rolled under the wheels of the electric train. However, he got up and walked away apparently unhurt but somewhat shocked.

He was later taken to a physician's office but pronounced to be uninjured.

ARMED BANDITS ROB LIFEGUARD AND GIRL

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 17.—Two armed thugs late last night held up City Lifeguard Rusty Williams and a young woman companion while their car was parked on the esplanade, obtaining some small change from Williams and a few articles of jewelry from the girl. Only a meager description of the bandits has been furnished the police.

Ten Succeed in Jail Break and No Recaptures

EL CENTRO, Feb. 17.—Nine Mexicans and a negro prisoner in the County Jail here gained their freedom some time after midnight last night after sawing away two iron bars in an outside window. Jailers discovered the broken window early this morning and a valley-wide search was started, but none of the fugitives had been captured late today.

More than a score of other inmates who were housed in the same tank refused to take advantage of the opportunity to break away. The break was made possible, according to Undersheriff Rodney Clark, by the crowded condition of the jail. The building has cell and tank accommodations for ninety-five prisoners but had 230 within its walls last night, Clark said.

W. L. Davenport, a mammoth negro who was arrested near Winterhaven following a highway holdup and convicted of the crime, is believed to have been the leader of the plot to break jail.

The escaped prisoners also include Alfonso Ponce, Brawley Mexican awaiting trial for assault on a small Mexican girl, and Balores Acuna, charged with robbery.

The others were being held for minor crimes. Clark expressed the opinion that members of the chain gang had smuggled hacksaws into the jail.

Hardison Signs Protection Plan

SANTA PAULA, Feb. 17.—When A. C. Hardison's name was signed to the plans of protection for the Santa Clara River Valley today with that of engineers of the Los Angeles and Ventura county committee the matter was turned over to the joint citizens' committee of which C. C. Teague is chairman and Roger G. Edward, vice-chairman, for action. The protection plans call for an expenditure by Los Angeles of approximately $300,000 for jetties, levees, check dams and excavation work along the river's course.

This is the last known work to be done to return the country as near as possible to the condition it was in before the St. Francis Dam disaster of March 13, 1928.

Bids will be called for immediately and the work started.

MAYWOOD INCUMBENT WILL RUN FOR OFFICE

MAYWOOD, Feb. 17.—Alvin A. Larkey, city clerk for four years, has "tossed his hat into the ring," announcing that he is a candidate for re-election at the coming city election to be held April 14. Larkey has been a resident of this city for five years, and before being elected to the office which he now fills, was engaged in the real estate business.

DUCK KNOWS WHERE TO GO

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 17.—A wild duck, apparently blinded by street lights when it flew too low, winged its way at high speed into electric wires last night at the corner of Broadway and Ocean avenue, Fred Carpenter, manager of the Dolson Drug Company, declared today that the duck, as though seeking first-aid treatment, waddled into the large open door of the drug store. It was taken to the city pound.

PIONEERS' DAY HELD AT SHOW

Twentieth National Citrus Classic Again Attended by Southland Throngs

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 17.—Another throng of Southland residents saw the Twentieth National Orange Show today as the exposition swung into its final week. It was Pioneer Day at the show and old settlers of the valley, many of whom could recall the planting of the first orange trees, danced on the main stage. John Brown, Jr., who came to the valley in the early '50s, acted as master of ceremonies. In the evening motion-picture girls presented a Hollywood film fashion revue on the main stage.

The annual California Citrus Institute held in conjunction with the classic, will open at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Hundreds of growers of all districts of the State will attend.

The program includes addresses by E. H. Wahlberg of Orange county; H. J. Wilder, farm adviser of San Bernardino county, who will review citrus culture in Europe; Dana King, salesman of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange; Don Ellsworth of the University of California, and W. R. Schoonover of the California State experiment station at Riverside.

The institute will be held at the Elks' clubhouse. A. J. Brown is chairman of the committee, while Southern California counties are represented by C. V. Newman, Orange county; N. C. Kelly, Riverside county; R. O. Price, San Bernardino county; J. P. Butler, Los Angeles county; Romain Young and E. C. Kimball, Ventura county, and Nelson F. Smith, Santa Barbara county.

REDLANDS PROUD OF ITS RECORD AT ORANGE SHOW

REDLANDS, Feb. 17.—Redlands, premier navel orange district of Southern California, according to Chamber of Commerce literature, raised its head with pride today because of the honors won at the National Orange Show in San Bernardino.

The Mutual Orange Distributors, with headquarters in Redlands, won the sweepstakes for the show. W. H. Blodgett of this city was the man in charge of the fine display made by the distributors and is given credit along with the growers for the award. The Mutual Orange Distributors took a grand total of thirty prizes to win the sweepstakes. Heading the list was the grand prize for Washington navels, forty boxes.

Then the local Chamber of Commerce exhibit, a feature in the moving class, showing a balloon basket being constantly raised and lowered by hundreds of gay balloons, won second prize in its class. Corona won the first prize, but it is understood it was close.

This was not all, for individual growers and other packing associations here won many prizes, according to the report made by the judges. The fruit grown in the district this year has never been surpassed, according to leading growers, for size, for quality and for color.

The Mutual Orange Distributors also maintains a booth at the show which is a gathering place for growers in the discussion of crops and problems.

Navy Identifies Plane Wreckage Seen Off Coast

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Navy Department today identified the plane wreckage picked up yesterday off the Lower California coast as that of a Curtiss Hawk land plane which was wrecked during practice on September 2, 1928, off Point Loma, near here.

The plane was placed as the F 6 C-3, which was being flown by Lieut. E. C. Parker of the Navy at the time it was wrecked. A machine gun, synchronized to shoot between the propeller blades, tore away a part of the propeller and Parker was forced to take a parachute jump at an altitude of 1500 feet.

The pilot landed safely, but although a close search was made for the plane after it fell into the sea, it was not seen again until it reappeared yesterday several hundred miles south of Point Loma.

Driver Proves He Can Hit House

POMONA, Feb. 17.—The side of a house at 1290 East Second street proved an ample target for a machine driven by William E. Rose, 26 years of age, of 6985 North Magnolia avenue, Riverside, for it plunged into it with a resounding crash late yesterday, causing a probable fracture of Rose's right leg below the knee, while Miss Hortense Roberts, 31, of 112 South Westmoreland avenue, Los Angeles, sustained a cut knee and other bruises.

Rose reported that he lost control of the car.

MONKEY SCRATCHES SMALL GIRL'S LEGS

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 17.—An enraged monkey leapt over a wall confining an exhibition on the Ocean Park pier last night, and before spectators were able to come to the rescue, painfully scratched the legs of the 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Frieda Rosenfield, of this city, according to a report filed by the mother at police headquarters. The child was said to have been standing on a box watching the monkeys perform when one of the animals suddenly leaped out and knocked her down. First-aid treatment was given at a near-by drug store and the child was taken home.

DOVE, LIKE NOAH'S, RETURNS

Ontario Foundrymen Mourn Disappearance of White Bird That They Breakfasted Daily, But It Comes Back and Nest-Building Points to Romance

ONTARIO, Feb. 17.—Last week was one of grief and worry for the men who work in the smoky, clangy, foundry at the Hot Point plant here, when a white pigeon that visited them daily for breakfast disappeared. Today everybody at the factory was all smiles. The dove of happiness has returned and romance is scented in the bird world.

The pigeon several days ago flew into the foundry dazed and bewildered. The noise and men frightened the bird, but it accepted an invitation to eat the crumbs Walter Patterson, foundry foreman, scattered on his desk. Thereafter the pigeon came daily at the same hour and enjoyed the breakfast of crumbs and grain the men spread for it on the shop desk.

Then suddenly the visits ceased.

The men and women of the entire plant sought their little ray of sunshine and offered cash reward for its return. As the large factory was closed Saturday the foundrymen acknowledged their fear that the bird was lost to them.

But this morning at the regular breakfast hour the pigeon flew into the foundry and the men rejoiced. They watched its flights from the building after it had enjoyed its breakfast. Binoculars were trained on the white pigeon. The men saw that it flew to the water tower, where it has evidently picked out a permanent home site.

Evidently satisfied with the neighborhood, with breakfast near at hand each morning, the pigeon spent the day in building a nest.

RECALL ELECTION TODAY

Santa Ana Voters to Go to Polls to Decide Fate of City Councilmen and Opposing Candidates

SANTA ANA, Feb. 17.—Local voters will go to the polls tomorrow to decide whether City Councilmen Frank Purinton, Stanley Goode, Homer Chaney, William Kelly and J. L. McBride shall be recalled, and Joseph A. Gardner, Dutleff Jones, John E. Hall, Thomas F. McConnell and Guy Doons shall be elected to succeed to the city board.

Action of the Council in ordering the construction of Santa Ana Boulevard, a short cut into this city from the Orange County Hospital, resulted in the filing of petitions and the calling of the election for the recall of the board.

The $250,000 improvement was launched under the provisions of the Matloon Act and was not submitted to a bond issue election.

Reseda Planning Paving Program

RESEDA, Feb. 17.—Following the example of Owensmouth, neighbor town on the west, which has paved most of the residential streets in its townsite, Reseda is now planning to pave twelve city blocks.

Property owners have signed a petition for the improvement and it has been filed with the Los Angeles City Council. The petition covers Baird street from Sherman Way to Saticoy street, Wyandotte from Baird to Reseda Boulevard, Amigo street from Valerio to Saticoy and Valerio from Reseda to Wilbur avenue.

Baird street will have a thirty-six-foot width from Sherman Way to Wyandotte street, with sidewalks and curbs. The remainder of the streets will be paved twenty feet with oiled shoulders.

All gas and water mains will be laid first. Later sewer lines will be installed in the alleys.

Probation Given Harry N. Dunbar

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 17.—Plea of Harry N. Dunbar, for many years local City Treasurer, for probation today, was granted by Superior Judge Warmer of Riverside, presiding here for Superior Judge Morton. Dunbar also was granted permission to make a brief visit to a daughter in San Francisco.

The veteran official on the 3rd inst. appeared in Superior Court and pleaded guilty to a falsification of his records and asked probation. Another count of the grand jury indictment against him, that of misappropriation of $12,305 of city funds, was dropped on motion of Dist.-Atty. Ford, who said he did not believe proof of the charges could be presented.

Probation Officer Mathews in presenting his report today declared that he recommended probation be granted because of the long residence here and previous good character of the defendant and because of the latter's ill health.

City Will Buy Legion Property

PASADENA, Feb. 17.—By unanimous vote, the Board of City Directors voted late today to purchase the American Legion's property on North Broadway, desired by the city as an addition to its police station site for $40,000.

City Director N. J. Shupe, a member of the Legion's board of trustees, found it necessary to resign his office with the war veterans' organization because of a clause in the city charter forbidding a member of the city board to do business with a concern in which he has an interest.

The Legion lot has a frontage of 120 feet on the curve of North Broadway and is 145 feet in depth.

Purchase of the lot indicates that the city will sell its Emergency Hospital site on North Marengo avenue and construct the new hospital facing North Broadway.

SESQUICENTENNIAL SET

Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of Founding of Mission San Buenaventura to be Observed

VENTURA, Feb. 17.—Full approval of the proposal that Ventura celebrate its sesquicentennial in 1932, 150 years after the founding of Mission San Buenaventura, was voted at today's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Athene Club. President D. J. Reese was authorized to appoint two committees. One will be of business men to prepare a financial plan for staging an extensive State-wide celebration. The other to compile all data and to work out a variety of ideas as a background for the celebration.

Two Men Knifed at El Rio and One in Custody

VENTURA, Feb. 17.—One man is being treated at his El Rio home and another is under medical care in the County Hospital, the results of an asserted cutting scrape in a pool hall on Colonia avenue at about 9:15 p.m. yesterday. Joe Ruiz of that place is in the County Hospital with a scalp wound, and charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

He is asserted to have stabbed Rueben Ayala, also of El Rio, in the side after the two men engaged in a fight at the pool hall.

PARENT-TEACHER BODY COVERS LARGE AREA

OWENSMOUTH, Feb. 17.—Lee W. Miller of Reseda was elected president of the Owensmouth Parent-Teacher Association formed here at a meeting conducted by forty-five parents and teachers at the high school. Mrs. W. S. Boggess was chosen secretary.

The organization is the first to be formed for this high school, which draws its pupils from various towns and hamlets in the western part of San Fernando Valley.

Its purpose will be to accomplish a closer relationship between the widely scattered homes in the area and the student activities and to assist along social and welfare lines. The local elementary school has had a similar association for some time.

CHANGE SOUGHT IN BUILDING PERMIT

VAN NUYS, Feb. 17.—A request has been made on the San Fernando Valley Annex building department offices, which issues building permits, hereafter to designate which town or hamlet in the valley area can be credited with the building improvement. Heretofore when a building permit has been issued it has been indicated as an improvement in the valley. Under the new rule when adopted the building permit will show whether it may be credited to the Van Nuys, North Hollywood or Reseda sections, or any other township districts in the valley annex. Under such a plan the gradual building growths of the various valley sections may be more closely watched.

SCHOOL CONTRACT AT CAHUENGA PARK LET

CAHUENGA PARK, Feb. 17.—Norman F. Barber, Los Angeles builder, has been awarded the general contract at $60,986 for the construction of the twelve-room school building at the Dickens-street school site. The low bid of $57,251, submitted by Gene B. Foster, was rejected due to an asserted want of regularity, it was stated. The structure will be two stories in height and 80 by 129 feet in dimension. It will be heated by a steam system.

TRAFFIC LANES ON WHITTIER BOULEVARD

MONTEBELLO, Feb. 17.—Conforming with modern needs for speedier and safer travel of automobiles, Whittier Boulevard has been lined out with traffic lanes whereby slow traveling vehicles will move along the lane allotted nearest the curb, while the faster travel will use the lane nearer the center.

THIEF KNEW JUST WHAT HE WANTED

Robber Invades Drug Store at Santa Ana and Steals Supply of Liquor

SANTA ANA, Feb. 17.—A bold burglar who pried off the lock on the front door of the E. L. Madden drug store, 314 North Sycamore street, donned a chemist's smock and walked in and out of the store several times early Sunday morning, stole twenty-four pints of prescription whisky and a considerable quantity of morphine, according to a report made to police today when the theft was discovered.

Valley Citizens Co-operate for Police Signals

RESEDA, Feb. 17.—A committee from here, co-operating with similar committees from Van Nuys, North Hollywood and other San Fernando Valley towns, will go before the Los Angeles Police Commission tomorrow or next day and make effort to obtain an appropriation for the installation of a valley-wide police signal system that has been agitated for the large valley area for some time.

The renewed efforts are made following the visit of Police Chief Steckel, who, in a talk last week before the North Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, indorsed the idea of a signal system such as has been worked out by Capt. C. A. Hodson, commanding police officer in the valley.

Residents contend that it is a difficult matter for the present quota of valley police to properly police the large valley area, and that an efficient signal system would largely aid in the work.

Two Brush Fires Fought in Santa Barbara Vicinity

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 17.—Two extensive brush fires tonight were being battled by fire fighters of the Federal and county forest services. One fire raged in Refugio Canyon, Santa Barbara National Park, twenty-five miles northwest of here, and burned over 200 acres. Supervisor S. A. Nash-Boulden of the United States Forest Service fought this fire with twenty-five men. The other fire is in Gaviota Pass, along the Coast highway west of here, where fifty acres were burned over. County Forester Frank Dunne and a squad are fighting this fire.

BARBER ENDS LIFE BY GAS INHALATION

ANAHEIM, Feb. 17.—Charles Pharis, 39 years of age, barber residing at 312 East Chartres street, committed suicide by taking fuel gas into his mouth through a tube Saturday night, according to the police. Despondency over ill health and personal affairs were indicated in a suicide note as the cause for the act. Pharis has made several threats to take his life within the past month and had purchased a revolver two weeks ago, police records show. He leaves a widow and one small child. The body was removed to the Backs, Terry & Campbell funeral parlors to await inquest and funeral arrangements.

SUICIDE ASCRIBED TO LONG ILL HEALTH

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 17.—Despondency over a long period of ill health is blamed by Coroner Charles D. Brown for the suicide Saturday night of Mrs. Bessie Raymond, 55 years of age, of Long Beach, who asphyxiated herself in the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Kenworthy. Mrs. Raymond was found with the end of a gas tube in her mouth and with gas flowing from a wall jet. The body was removed to the Peek undertaking parlors at Long Beach.

REESE RECALL WILL BE VOTED ON SOON

HAWTHORNE, Feb. 17.—A special election to decide the recall action directed against City Councilman W. P. Reese has been set for March 21, by the Council. Reese, who was succeeded by Robert Ramage as Mayor here a short time ago on a majority vote of the Council, was elected to a four-term year term in April, 1928.

BOYS AND GIRLS OF ONTARIO VACCINATED

ONTARIO, Feb. 17.—Since the opening of local schools in the fall, a total of 581 boys and girls have been vaccinated against smallpox without cost to their parents, according to Miss Bertha Schwarzwaelder, head of the city nursing department. The vaccinations are administered to forestall any possible outbreak of the disease. There are no cases of smallpox within the school district at present, it is said.

LA HABRA SCHOOL'S LOCKER BURGLARIZED

LA HABRA, Feb. 17.—A locker in the office of the Washington grammar school was broken open and robbed of $10 in cash some time during the week-end, according to E. O. Mathis, chief of police, who attributes the crime to efforts of amateurs. Fingerprints were obtained from the locker.

SANTA MONICA GIRL IN LEADING ROLE

Miss Anita Williams

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 17.—Miss Anita Williams, local girl, will have a leading role with the Wentworth players in "The Brat," to be given at the Miles Memorial Theater, local community playhouse, next Thursday and Friday evenings, for child-welfare benefit. The McKinly Parent-Teacher Association of this city is sponsoring the production, which is being directed by Martha Wentworth.

Others to appear will be Zulene Brandon, Mrs. Williams Foote, Thomas Ashford, Richard Owen, Mary Webb, Rosalind Seaholme, Edith Mattern, Camillo Guercio, Andrew Lambden and Betty Walker. The production staff includes Ralph Berg, George Vahent and Morton Bardeaux.

Repainting Old License Plates Costs Man Dear

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 17. — Yellow and black paint, a 1929 California license plate and an eagle-eyed California highway patrol officer are costing Manuel Lozan of 304 East Eleventh street, Corona, three months in the county prison camp.

Lozan was sentenced to the jail term in lieu of payment of a $150 fine assessed by Justice Stahl this week after finding the Corona motorist guilty of transforming old licenses into this year's plates, and three or four other violations. He was arrested by Patrol Officer Tyson at Corona.

The disguising of the license was some of the cleverest work of that kind to come to the authorities' attention. Lozan had used his 1929 license, painting the black background yellow and the yellow figures and letters black. Seen alone, the plates would pass a close inspection, but compared with the new licenses, the old letters are chubbier and the "3" in the "30" resembles more a capital "E" on the 1930 plates.

These flaws caught the experienced eye of Tyson and so he curbed Lozan's car for a closer inspection. As a result Lozan was ticketed for that violation, failure to have registration certificate displayed, no operator's license applied for, and no 1930 plates on the car.

I. V. AUGUR, HEAD OF OIL COMPANY, DIES

OJAI, Feb. 17.—Irving V. Augur, president of the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation, died at his home here at midnight last night. He had been in poor health for some time. He leaves a widow and a 6-year-old son.

Augur was graduated from the University of California in 1913. For a number of years he worked in the oil fields of California, being first employed as a roustabout with the Lakeview Oil Company.

Later he became deputy State oil and gas supervisor, holding every district office in the State except Santa Maria in this capacity. He left the State position in 1921 and was one of the organizers of the Bolsa Chica Oil Company which in 1922 was succeeded by the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation. Augur became president of the oil corporation in 1923. He lived in Pasadena until he recently built a new home on his ranch at Ojai.

MILEAGE SUIT THREATE

Santa Barbara County Supervisors Seek to Travel Allowance, Due to Small Sala

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 17.—With citizens threatening to cover all money paid for mileage under an antiquated court bill, since all Supervisors are provided with automobiles by the county, the Supervisors yesterday took steps to halt claims for the mileage on grounds that it is additional compensation. They ordered the District Attorney to establish the distance between various cities and towns in the county. E. M. Butler, auditor, in a letter to County Auditor Albert T. Rowe, [illegible] suit against Chairman C. L. Preisker for collecting 20 cents a mile for 103 miles from Santa Maria to Santa Barbara, when it is only 103 miles by train and eighty-five by highway.

It is the contention of Barker that the mileage paid the Supervisors is illegal as all board members use cars furnished by the county and gasoline and oil from the county tanks. The Supervisors receive $1800 a year in this county. They assert that the 20 cents a mile allowed for the regular meetings, of which there are now three each month, is compensation to which they are due because of the comparatively low salaries.

The District Attorney has so ruled

WILD LIFE TO BE STUDIED

San Diego Sportsman and Wife Start Long Cruise to Observe Ornithology of Mexican Coast

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 17.—Preparing to start tonight on an extended cruise down the Mexican coast to make a study of tropical and semi-tropical bird and animal life, Griffin Bancroft, prominent local sportsman, and a party of six, today loaded supplies for a five-months' trip on the yacht Bancroft's launch Roseville, berthed at the north side of the municipal pier. Accompanying Bancroft are his wife, A. J. Van Rossi, of the California Institute of Technology; Donald Dickey of Pasadena, ornithologist; E. S. Rogers of Escondido, civil engineer; Albert Kroeckel of Escondido, civil engineer, and J. E. Green of Berkeley.

Bird and animal life on the westerly 300 miles still further south, next coast of Lower California, the Mexican mainland and outlying islands will be studied by members of the expedition. Arrangements for making the cruise were made with J. P. Sepulveda, Mexican fish and game commissioner, here, and Enrique Ferreira, Mexican Consul. According to Bancroft, the utmost co-operation was given by the Mexican officials.

The San Benito Islands, approximately 300 miles south of Point Loma, are to be the first place visited by the members of the expedition, Magdalena Bay, approximately 300 miles still further south, next is to be visited. Visits also are to be made at Cape San Lucas, at the southern end of Lower California, and at Las Tres Mari Islands and at the islands of the Revilla Gigedo group, according to present plans.

Bancroft, an authority on bird life in Baja California, and his wife are members of the Natural History Museum here. The launch Roseville has long been in service here, having formerly been operated as a live-bait boat for a local fishing barge. The Roosevelt has been overhauled and equipped with sleeping cabins and other accommodations in preparation for the cruise.

RADIO TANGLE SOLUTION SEEN

Commission Finds Way Out of Short-Wave Maze

Licenses for Two-thirds of Channels Possible

Delayed Chain Developments Expected to Proceed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (NANA) In the maze of litigation surrounding its allotments of short wave channels for various domestic radio-telegraph systems, the Federal Radio Commission has found a loophole enabling it to issue licenses for the use of about two-thirds of the wave lengths originally granted to the Universal Wireless Communications Company, R.C.A. Communications, Inc.; Press Wireless, Inc., and Western Radio Telegraph Company.

Unless new court actions interpose, this removes part of the legal barrier that for several months has stood in the way of immediate progress on several nation-wide radio-telegraph net works projected to furnish radio competition with the wire telegraph systems.

It will enable the four companies to proceed with at least part of their proposed operations. The Universal Wireless Communications Company, for example, will probably be able to begin operating immediately all of the fourteen stations it erected last year. Twenty-six channels were allotted to Universal, fifteen to R.C.A., fourteen to Press Wireless, and two to Western Radio Telegraph Company.

Universal's project calls for linking 110 stations in as many of the leading cities of the United States and having them all opened to the public service by the end of 1931. The communications subsidiary of the R.C.A. plans about a dozen stations in as many cities to provide an intercity telegram service as well as internal "feeders" into its international circuits leading to about thirty-five foreign capitals.

Press Wireless, Inc., was formed by a group of newspapers to carry word traffic for the American press. Some of its domestic stations are already built, but construction permits must be issued for others. The press interests are also awaiting licenses for international short waves in order to expand their operations into the foreign field.

The Western Radio Telegraph Company was formed by a group of oil interests to employ radio to communicate with remote exploration fields in the southwest and to use radio waves for scientific earth-tapping for oil deposits.

The action of the commission follows joint recommendations by its engineering and legal divisions that seventy-seven of the so-called high frequencies in the continental band can be reserved in compliance with the recent stay order obtained in the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia by the Intercity Radio - Telegraph Company, of Cleveland, an unsuccessful applicant for that many channels. At the same time the commission was advised by its engineers and lawyers, fifty-seven other channels could be made available for a proportional division among the other applicants pending trial of the Intercity company's suit. The division was accordingly made and the commission will announce the allotments officially in a day or two.

ANOTHER BANDIT VICTIM HAS TO IMITATE GODIVA

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP) — The Messrs. Godiva are becoming regular customers at the police station.

A blond girl and a male companion are back of it all. They devote their evenings to robbing taxicab drivers, taking not only the drivers' money, but their trousers as well. The idea is to prevent immediate pursuit, for one must go a long way before finding a taxicab driver who will prance forth into the glare of street lights and the bite of the night air without his clothes.

It was the blond herself who sounded the Godiva note. After Roy Robbins, a cab driver, had been robbed and then forced to disrobe in the rear of his car, tossing his trousers and shoes out to the robbers, the young woman called back, "Good-by, Mister Godiva."

Robbins drove to the nearest police station as best he could. He was about No. 20 in the list of victims of such robberies within a fortnight.

He stood before the desk sergeant, and his teeth chattered.

"Something terrible—" he began.

The sergeant spoke wearily.

"Yes, I know," he said. "The blond. Gimme your name, address and how much you lost."

GOODYEAR TIRE TELLS PROFITS

California Arm of Company Issues 1929 Report

Equals $28.68 Income Rate on Preferred Stock

Showing an increase of $410,601.95 or more than 21 per cent in net profits for 1929 as compared with 1928, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California and wholly owned subsidiaries in the annual report issued yesterday by John W. Mapel, president, reported net profits of $2,293,567.55 after all charges and taxes for the year ended December 31, last, as against $1,882,965.60 in the previous year.

The 1929 net earnings are equal to $28.68 a share on the 79,957 shares of $100 par 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock outstanding as against $23.55 a preferred share on the same number of shares outstanding at the end of 1928.

SURPLUS GAINS

After payment of dividends of $559,699 on the preferred stock and $1,500,000 on the common stock, which is controlled by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, surplus at the end of 1929 was $3,886,665 as compared with $3,852,796.97 after deduction of preferred dividends of $559,699 and common dividends of $2,000,000 in the previous year. Of the 100,000 shares of authorized common stock, 40,000 shares are outstanding and 60,000 shares are deposited in escrow under option to the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company (Akron) to purchase at $100 par on or before December 1, next.

Net sales for 1929 were $36,233,596 compared with $26,109,352 in 1928. Unit sales of automobile tires were substantially greater than the previous year although at lower selling prices, the report stated.

GROSS INCREASES

Total earnings from operations before interest and Federal income taxes were $2,717,084 after providing $1,010,682 for depreciation of plant and equipment as contrasted to $2,264,314 after providing $987,528 for depreciation of plant and equipment and after charging $500,000 cost of rubber to reserves previously created in the 1928 year.

Funded debt was reduced $200,000 during the year through operations of the gold note sinking fund and stood at $2,267,000 on December 31, last. Cash including loans on call at the close of the year amounted to $4,171,433 as against $3,040,596 in 1928.

Current assets as of December 31, last, were $10,625,546.80 and current liabilities, $1,754,418.86, a ratio of 6.1 to 1 as compared with $10,272,806 and $1,432,586, respectively, in 1928, or a ratio of 7.2 to 1. Inventories at cost or market, whichever was lower, showed a decrease from $6,036,545.03 at the close of 1928 to $4,802,311.29 while accounts and notes receivable increased from $1,363,544.48 to $1,710,348.52. Total assets were listed at $19,803,784.38 as against $19,538,082.97 at the end of the previous year.

Airplane Export Trade Boosted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—United States aeronautic exports during 1929 consisted of 354 airplanes valued at $4,574,480 against 162 in 1928, valued at $1,759,653, the Department of Commerce announced today.

The large increase was attributed to the attention paid by manufacturers for the first time to foreign trade possibilities. About 77 per cent of the exports went to Latin America and West Indies and about 4 per cent to Europe. Exports of airplane parts were valued at $2,252,208 against $1,240,244 in 1928.

Ford Instrument Passes to Aero Holding Concern

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) Purchase of all the common stock of the Ford Instrument Company of Long Island City, by North American Aviation, Inc., one of the largest of the aviation holding companies, was announced today. Ford Instrument is rated as one of the largest makers of precision tools, and its purchase involved a sum exceeding $3,000,000, it was reported.

North American, which also owns the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Inc., will continue the operation of the Ford company as a separate unit with Hannibal C. Ford as president. Heretofore Mr. Ford has been vice-president and chief engineer of the company, which he founded about fifteen years ago. Mr. Ford was for five years associated with Elmer A. Sperry as chief engineer of the Sperry Gyroscope Co.

Since the Sperry company was acquired by North American it has developed several important instruments for navigation, such as the Sperry automatic pilot, Sperry horizon and the directional gyroscope. The latter two instruments were used by Lieut. Doolittle in his blind flying experiment for the Guggenheim fund.

Bond Company Registers Gain

Net earnings of Weeden & Co. for the year ended December 31, last, were $154,566 after provision for Federal taxes, equal to $6.30 a share on the outstanding stock, as compared with $126,415 or $4.48 a share in 1928, according to the annual report of Frank Weeden, president, which was issued yesterday.

The volume of business for the year was slightly less than 1928 as a result of the inactivity of the bond market, being $69,338,000, as against $75,756,263 in the previous year. Gross income was $398,057, as against $331,112. With a more favorable outlook for the bond market in 1930, the company's progress for the current year should be fully as satisfactory as the past year, the letter to stockholders stated.

Utility Holding Reports Income

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Insull Utility Investments, Inc., for the period of January 16, 1929, to December 31, last, showed net income after all charges, of $11,596,766, equal after payment of $1,238,450 in preferred dividends, to $4.49 a share on 2,304,364 shares of common stock outstanding, Samuel Insull chairman, announced at the annual meeting today.

Securities held in the investment account had an aggregate market value of $146,136,637 as of December 31, last, as against an aggregate cost of $140,745,773.

OIL CHIEFS MORE CHEERFUL

Leaders Find Fresh Hope, While Speculators Hammer Shares Down; Results Expected in Week's Time

BY EARLE E. CROWE

While speculators were conducting a successful drive yesterday on the leading Pacific Coast oil shares, a small group of men, high placed in the councils of the industry, was taking an entirely different view of the situation. For the first time in several weeks this group of leaders was sanguine of curtailing crude oil production effectively, and at an early date, despite the general impression to the contrary.

Unexpected results from the opening up of the Santa Fe Springs and Long Beach fields to full capacity prompted cheerful opinion. Both of these fields, which have been the most troublesome to the industry, are registering a potential production considerably less than anticipated.

The statement was made that within a week's time the State's output should again reflect the enforcement of the new curtailment schedule, probably dropping back to somewhere between 600,000 and 650,000 barrels daily. The daily production has been running better than 700,000 barrels, and it is hoped to establish a curtailed output at 609,000 barrels.

According to the information from this group, Santa Fe Springs is expected to establish a potential production of between 235,000 and 245,000 barrels. This compares with the previous estimate of 300,000 barrels when the original curtailment schedule of 150,000 barrels was adopted. Until the wells were opened up the other day to ascertain the potential the field was doing approximately 165,000 barrels daily.

Long Beach is another surprise. Opened up, the field is producing approximately 125,000 barrels, although it is understood that wells from some of the upper sands have not been released because the output is fairly well known. But the current production is considerably under the estimated maximum, probably by about 25,000 barrels.

Ventura avenue is doing about 66,000 barrels potential, compared with 52,000 under the recent curtailment schedule. Elwood, which reached a maximum the other day of approximately 65,000 barrels, is shutting back to under 40,000 barrels.

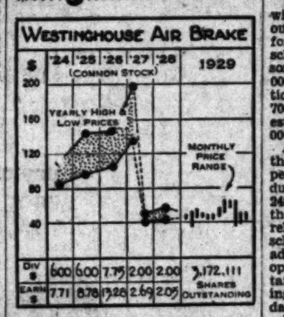
Tangible results, however, are expected from the new committee appointed to adjust differences at Kettleman Hills. It is hoped by the constructive leaders in the industry that Kettleman operators will agree to a program that will avoid the drilling of new offset wells.

In the foregoing statistics is the basis for the new slant some of the leaders are taking at their own business. Some of them are even confident enough to predict that general realization of this turn in the trend will soon find reflection in the stock market, although the speculators for the time being have taken a bearish position on the California oils.

There is another important point having a bearing on the market for California oils. Among the major companies in the fields east of the Rockies a sharp difference of opinion has evidently arisen, which threatens to lead into open war. Here in California there is no division in the ranks of the leaders. While the major eastern companies are squabbling over the proper weapons to use for bringing about decreased production, the major operators in California are solidly aligned behind co-operative curtailment as against price-cutting.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

WESTINGHOUSE AIR BRAKE



WESTINGHOUSE AIR BRAKE

This company is the leading manufacturer of air brakes for railroad and automotive use and of air compressors and friction-draft gears. The Union Switch and Signal Company and the Hall Switch and Signal Company, both subsidiaries, make train-control and car-retarder apparatus. The company has recently added a type of automobile brake which is meeting with a good demand.

With the recovery of the railroad equipment industry during the latter part of 1928 earnings of this company began an upward trend, the statement for the nine months ended September 30, 1929, showing a net of $6,164,000 or $1.94 per share on the common stock, compared with $4,650,000 or $1.46 per share for the corresponding period in 1928. The financial position, as shown by the December 31, 1928, balance sheet, was unusually strong, with a net working capital in excess of $37,417,000.

America-Hawaii Ship Line Net in Sharp Increase

Net profits of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company for the year closed December 31, last, amounted to $1,187,421, after all charges, including Federal income taxes, equivalent to $2.49 a share on 475,802 common shares outstanding, according to the annual report issued yesterday by Roger D. Lapham, president.

These profits compare with $384,816 reported earned after all charges in 1928, equal to 81 cents a share on the same common-share basis, and represent an increase of $802,605 or more than 200 per cent.

During the year the company's vessels handled more than 25,000,000 packages of cargo, totaling more than 1,267,000 tons; steamed 1,477,236 miles, was through the Panama Canal 220 times, and paid Panama Canal tolls of $1,120,894. The company was organized in 1899 and in the past two years has become one of the largest cargo carriers under the American flag, according to the report.

TRUST SHARES VALUE HIGH

Assets Back of Shenandoah and Blue Ridge Shown to be $115.60 Per Each $50 Par Unit

First annual reports of Shenandoah Corporation and Blue Ridge Corporation, investment trusts controlled by interests identified with Goldman Sachs & Co., reveal net asset value of $115.60 behind each share of Shenandoah $50 par preference stock on December 31, last, against $102.50 a share at organization July 23, 1929, and a net asset value of $111.36 behind each share of Blue Ridge $50 par preference stock as against $117.09 a share based on total capital paid in from organization August 12, 1929. The stocks are currently selling around 43 and 40, respectively.

In December Shenendoah retired approximately $45,000,000 of its own preference stock and after this adjustment its net assets after reserves amounted to $98,272,123 based on closing market quotations as of December 31, equal to $115.60 a share on the remaining 850,120 preferred shares. There were 5,891,087 shares of no-par common stock outstanding the same date. Assets initially acquired were valued at $102,500,000. At current market quotations the net asset value has increased about $20,000,000 since December 31, it was stated.

Total cash income for approximately five months of operation to December 31 amounted to $3,273,783 consisting of $598,583 dividends and interest, and $2,675,200 in profits from sale of securities. After deducting interest and expenses the net cash income amounted to $2,923,407.

The income does not include stock dividends which were applied to reduce book value of securities owned, nor the corporation's equity in earnings of Blue Ridge. On December 31, capital surplus totaled $44,035,453 and operating surplus, $1,398,081.

BLUE RIDGE REPORTS

Blue Ridge at the close of the year had net assets of $128,523,798 based on market values of that date and after reserves and retirement of $3,710,000 par value of preferred stock equivalent to $111.36 a share on 1,154,101 preferred shares. There were 7,483,786 shares of par value common stock outstanding. Since the first of the year net assets have appreciated about $15,000,000.

Cash income for about four and one-half months of operation to December 31, amounted to $2,650,364 consisting of $2,150,994 dividends and interest and $499,370 in profits from sale of securities. After deducting expenses, the net cash income was $2,420,245. This does not include stock dividends which were applied to reduction of book value of securities held.

Capital surplus on December 31 was valued at $34,638,210 and operating surplus amounted to $1,818,398.

Oil Unit Plans for New Issue

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company, subsidiary of Cities Service Company, has called a special meeting of stockholders for the 28th inst. to approve an issue of 5,550,000 Class A non-voting shares of no par value which will participate equally as to assets and earnings with the present stock, and to ratify a proposal to change the present 9,500,000 shares of voting stock from $1 to no par value making the issue Class B.

Stockholders will also be asked to waive rights to subscribe for new additional shares of either class which may be issued or sold for such consideration as directors determine. It is proposed to issue 1,250,000 shares of new Class A stock for the acquisition of Foster Petroleum Corporation provided stockholders approve the increase in capitalization.

NEW LOCAL TRUST UNIT ORGANIZED

Culver Investment to Make Realty Basis of Shares in Capital

Formation of a real estate investment trust with a capital of $100,000,000 was announced yesterday by Harry H. Culver, founder of Culver City and former president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. The trust will specialize in the investment of funds in selected business and income properties in various California cities, and will operate under the name of Harry H. Culver Diversified Trust No. 1010.

"The purpose of the trust," said Mr. Culver yesterday in making his announcement, "will be to gather millions of dollars in capital and idle funds throughout the United States by disposing of full participating beneficial interest units in the new investment trust, bring that capital to California and invest it wisely, under this management, to the end that many thousands of investors who are unable to come to California personally may send their funds to share with us in its prosperity and future."

Management of the trust, Mr. Culver said, will be under the direction of Harry H. Culver & Company, Ltd., a new company with a capitalization of $5,000,000. Mr. Culver will be president of this company and the directors will include some of the leading business and financial figures in the United States, he said. A staff of financial and realty experts will be employed by this company. The United States National Bank will act as trustee for the trust.

As president of the national association of real estate men in 1929 Mr. Culver conducted an air tour during which he visited more than 600 different cities in the interest of the association.

ST. PAUL ALLOWED TO BUY NEW ROAD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Authorization for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad to acquire the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary Railway and to assume obligation for $3,000,0000 of the latter road's first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds was given today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. At the same time the commission permitted the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary to abandon sixteen miles of its line between Kirkland and Camp Grant, Ill.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The cotton market was lower today under realizing or liquidation by recent buyers and some scattered selling, promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and a feeling that last week's advances had eased the technical position. Some trade buying was reported, but it was in comparatively small volume and prices broke about 35 points below Saturday's closing quotations.

The midafternoon market was quiet, but within 2 or 3 points of the lowest, with active months showing net declines of 30 to 33 points.

Chairman of Foreign Trade Council Stresses Growth in Call for Los Angeles Convention

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyrighted, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Issuing the call for the seventeenth National Foreign Trade Convention, to be held at Los Angeles the latter part of May, James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, says that "the outstanding feature of American foreign trade is the increased sales abroad of the products of our manufacture."

The increase was more than 12 per cent last year.

Mr. Farrell believes that the strongest factors in obtaining this foreign trade expansion have been the intensive study given by American business leaders to foreign trade problems and the exhaustive development of merchandising organizations by American producers and traders.

Export of finished manufactured goods for December showed a slight increase over that of the preceding December and for the entire year more than equaled the whole of America's exports in 1913.

J. A. H. Kerr of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles is in charge of the local arrangements, and will co-operate with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Pacific Foreign Trade Council, the latter comprising foreign traders in all Pacific Coast cities.

More than 2000 foreign traders from all parts of the United States, Canada, Latin America and the Far East are expected.

Power has sobered the British Labor party. Out of power, the carefree critical attitude is in order. But elevated to power, the whole party's attitude changes.

The Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Labor Minister in charge of unemployment, now finds his most extensive program of public works, roads and housing, offers a prospect of employment of only an additional 94,000 men, some 7 per cent of Britain's unemployed.

John A. Hobson, distinguished British labor economist, writes that the only hope for any permanent and effective solution of the unemployment problem in England must be found in revamping and rebuilding British industries to make them up-to-date and as efficient in management as they are in other parts of the world.

Britain is grimly facing this problem now. She realizes all too true, that there is no solution for her unemployment—now approximately 2,000,000 persons—unless this is done. The only alternative is to have a steady and systematic immigration, tied up with a decreasing birth rate at home.

The Labor party has faced the unemployment problem; the Liberal party has faced it, and the Conservative party has faced it. None of them has solved it.

There is no royal road to employment. The Labor party, itself thoroughly sympathetic, finds itself up against exactly the same conditions as the other two parties faced when they were in power; stern realities that call for something more than plausible speeches and rainbow promises.

INCOME OF GOODYEAR MILLS OFF

Net of Textile Concern for Year $12,202 Lower Than 1928 Figures

Net profits of Goodyear Textile Mills Company for the year ended December 31, last, after all taxes and charges totaled $223,871.94, as compared with $236,074.76 for the preceding year, a decrease of slightly more than 5 per cent, according to the annual report issued yesterday by John W. Mapel, president.

These earnings are equal to $11.71 a share on the 19,103 shares of $100 par 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock outstanding, as compared with $12.35 a preferred share on the same number of shares in 1928.

Surplus at the close of the year was $275,774.92 after payment of dividends of $133,721 on the preferred stock and $65,000 on the common stock. Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California owns all of the common stock of which 30,000 shares of $100 par value are authorized with 10,000 shares outstanding. The preferred stock is listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

At the end of the preceding year, surplus was $370,823.98 after payment of dividends of $133,721 on the preferred stock and $100,000 on the 10,000 shares of common.

Mr. Mapel's report stated that the company's mills operated to capacity throughout the year and that the management looks forward to continued satisfactory operations during 1930. The entire output of the plant is sold under contract to Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California at cost plus 10 per cent.

The balance sheet as of December 31, last, showed total current assets of $1,480,334.12 and current liabilities of $47,598.77, as compared with $1,372,701.80 and $52,603.78, respectively, at the end of 1928. Total assets were given at $3,333,673.89, as against $3,332,926.76 at the end of the preceding year.

COPPER MARKET CONTINUES FIRM

Demand Improves and Cut in Prices Held Remote

Lead Buying Also Reported Good at Old Level

Zinc Status Continues Soft Spot in Metal Trade

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix

There has been a decided improvement in the demand for copper, both domestic and foreign, and any hope by the consumers that the copper price is going to drop is now very remote. The price is still pegged at 17.77½ f.o.b refinery. The lead demand continues good with prices unchanged at 6.25 f.o.b. New York, while zinc is quiet again and quoted at 5.20 to 5.25 f.o.b. St. Louis.

January is reported to have been a very good month for sales of lead. The continued lead demand is general from all classes of consumers. February metal is pretty well bought and the bulk of current business is for March delivery. It is felt that if it were not for a dull and unsatisfactory foreign market the lead price would soon be advanced. For that reason domestic consumers are keeping their requirements covered well ahead.

The inclination now among the lead sellers is to book business for March and April only at average prices and some are refusing orders other than on that basis. The producers are well satisfied with the volume of business and the statistical position of the metal.

ZINC DISAPPOINTING

The zinc statistics for the month of January occasioned considerable disappointment. Instead of reflecting a material cut in production which had been generally expected, they showed a substantial increase, the January output being 51,133 tons, as compared with 48,500 tons in December, a gain of 2543 tons.

Of still greater disappointment was the big increase in stocks. At the end of last year they amounted to 77,262 tons, but at the close of January they had mounted to 87,933 tons, an increase of 10,671 tons. The present surplus in the hands of the producers is the largest for any period since 1921. Shipments during January were 40,462 tons, an increase of 6073 tons over the previous month. Of these total shipments twenty tons were for export, as compared with eleven tons of the preceding month.

The extent to which consumers entered the market when the price dropped to 5.00 and then came back to 5.25 was evidenced by the forward sales on producers' books, which at the close of January amounted to 38,917 tons, whereas at the close of December they were only 18,370 tons.

Whatever curtailment there is coming on zinc is to be the result of unprofitable operations rather than with any idea of adjusting production to consumption. A $37 concentrate price in the tri-State district is too low to provide a profit at many of the mines, and some will probably have to shut down until the concentrate price is enhanced. The smelters cannot advance this price until the metal sells for at least a quarter of a cent more.

COPPER BUYING BETTER

Copper buying is still cautious, and the buyers are taking only the amounts that they need for current orders. They are not covering ahead and seem to be quite satisfied to let the producers continue to carry the surplus stocks. This is in accordance with the stabilization program of the producers, for the consumers do not feel any necessity of protecting their future requirements either from the point of view of ability to get metal or price.

The copper being sold is almost all for immediate delivery and it is reported by the fabricators that the call for finished products has been steadily improving, and that a greater confidence in the future is in evidence. January copper statistics are going to show a greater export business than for the past several months, and while refined stocks will probably again show an advance, there will be no effect on the market.

Sales of copper for export during January are reported to be about 37,500 tons, as against 23,500 tons each in December and November, and 28,000 tons in October. The January export sales were about 75 per cent of the 1929 average, in spite of very poor business with England and an unsettled German industrial condition. The signing of the Young plan makes probable an improvement in German industrial conditions.

YOUR INCOME TAX

NO. 13

Pensions paid by a corporation or person to an individual for services he, himself, has rendered are taxable. Pensions or retired pay paid by the United States government also are taxable, except as provided by the Revenue Act, which exempts from taxation "amounts received as compensation, family allotments and allowances under the War-risk Insurance Act, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act or the World War Veterans' Act, 1924, or as pensions from the United States for service of the beneficiary or another in the military or naval forces in time of war."

Pensions received from a State are exempt from tax, also a bonus paid by a State to its residents who served in the military or naval forces during the war with Germany. Benefits received from a labor union by a member while on strike constitute taxable income. An allowance paid by the governing body of a religious denomination from retirement funds formed by assessments of various churches in which he has been employed is taxable income.

Annuities paid to retired employees of the Federal government are subject to the tax to the extent that the aggregate amount of the payments exceed the amounts withheld from compensation of the employees. If an employee leaves the government service before he is eligible for retirement, and receives the amount of salary withheld, together with interest, he should report only the amount of interest received as income for the year in which received.

DISTRICT Acquisition and Improvement District No. 62 covers about 800 acres of valuable industrial property on the East side of Los Angeles including the new $2,200,000 Sampson Tire & Rubber Corp. plant and property owned by the following: Arcadia-Bandini-Baker Estate Co., Walter L. Vail Co., J. B. Leonis, Union Pacific Railway, Janss Investment Co., Geo. E. Platt Co. (Walter Murphy Airport), Simons Brick Co. and Southern California Edison Co. The district is about five miles in length with an average width of about one-half mile extending from the junction of Anaheim-Telegraph Road and Mines Avenue on the West to Santa Fe R. R. right-of-way, Bandini Crossing, on the East.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE Proceeds of this issue will be used to acquire property along Anaheim-Telegraph Road in order to increase its width to 100 feet. This boulevard is one of the main routes to Santa Fe Springs, Norwalk, Downey and Orange County Municipalities.

LEGAL PROVISIONS These bonds are issued under the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925, as amended, which provides for the levy of an ad valorem tax upon all of the land within the district apportioned according to zones. These taxes are levied and collected by Los Angeles County as part of the general County taxes. The district is divided into six zones, each zone bearing a percentage of the total cost in accordance with the benefits derived.

CONSTITUTIONALITY The constitutionality of the Acquisition and Improvement District Act has been established by decision of the Supreme Court of California. In the opinion of counsel if any principal or interest are unpaid owing to delinquencies of any lands in the District, the sum unpaid must be included in the next tax levy on all zones, apportioned according to the percentage of the zones.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Renewed optimism took hold of the San Francisco Stock Exchange dealings today, helped by bullishness in the utility division. With easer bidding for several stocks, the total cash turnover of $2,998,844 was the highest of the year, the share total being 105,483.

Pacific Public Service was carried by the same strong buying as last week to a record high at 38¾, and was up 2¾ at the close, just a fraction under the top. Spring Valley Water hopped up 5⅞ to a new high at 90½ on news of liquidation of assets by a $77 dividend, some $6,500,000 in real estate remaining. A third new high was set by Great Western 6s at 100½. Other changes in the group were fractional.

Industrials showed several bright spots. Food Machinery jumped 3¾, Marchant 2½, and Magnavox made a relatively strong gain to set a new high at 4⅝, netting ⅜ at the close, a fraction lower. A series of minor gains was recorded.

Oils slid further down, four being at new lows, although no serious losses appeared on the tape. Standard improved a small fraction. Increased crude production failed to produce pessimism commensurate with the gloomy tale told by the figures, hope being expressed that a solution was not far removed.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Pacific Public Service Utility and Air Transport Shares Feature Trading

Pacific Public Service, heading the market activity, shot up more than 3 points and featured trading yesterday on the week's opening session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. This utility, controlled by Standard Oil of California, has been one of the leading traders over the past two weeks, starting at around 28. The stock closed high for the year at 38⅝, up 3½ points.

The balance of the market was unsettled, with the exception of Western Air Express and Aero Corporation, which strengthened considerably in sympathy with a bullish demonstration in air shares on the New York exchange. Western Air reached a new high for the year at 37½ and closed at 37 1-4, up 1 3-4 net. Aero jumped 20 cents to 3.00. Douglas Aircraft was not traded, having a final bid at 13 3-4.

California Bank proved another strong spot of the market with an advance of 1½ points to 115 and Claude Neon of Delaware, less active than usual, firmed up fractionally.

Oil shares continued their downward course, with another fractional recession which reflected the general apprehension prevailing in the industry. Rio Grande, Richfield and Union Oil issues were all heavily sold. Union Oil touched a new low for the year at 41 5-8 and swung back to close at 42 1-4, off 1-4 net. Rio Grande closed off 5-8 to 16 7-8 and Richfield 1-4 to 22 3-4.

Pacific Mutual Life slumped 4 points to 82. Transamerica, less active than usual, closed steady at 45 7-8 and Southern California Edison eased 1-8 to 62 5-8, while the rights advanced 5 cents to 3.55.

Sales totaled 32,833 shares, valued at $701,608; previous day, 19,240 shares valued at $701,445.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Irregular operations marked the resumption of the week's trading on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday as the activity slackened considerably. With the day's total business falling behind that of Saturday's abbreviated session no definite trend of prices was established.

Fokker Aircraft, in line with a general upward movement for aircraft shares in the East, advanced ½ on the day to close at 18 5-8 and Crystalite, on light sales, also added ½ to finish at 17½. Neon of New York, recent feature, was relatively neglected and remained steady at 16.

Magnavox was the strong spot of the penny stocks with a spurt of 1.00 to 4.55. Mascot Oil, Occidental Petroleum and San Francisco gold advanced substantially, while Kinner, Exeter and Bolsa Chica sought lower levels, along with Bach Aircraft, which, under pressure, dropped 10 cents to 20 cents.

Sales totaled 46,084 shares, valued at $86,893; previous day, 11,111 shares, valued at $35,772.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Trading in bonds on the stock exchange fell off rather sharply today because of the continued firmness of money rates. The price movement was irregular, but the trend of active issues in all leading divisions appeared downward. Total sales fell below $6,000,000 as against a daily average of more than $10,000,000 last week.

The investment demand centered largely in issues with convertible features. American Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s were turned over in large volume, crossing 152 for a gain of more than 2 points above Saturday's close, and nearly 15 points above the year's low. International Telephone convertible 4½s closed fractionally higher at 130¾ after having sold as low as 119½ and as high as 121.

The disappointing character of recent traffic and earnings statements was dampened enthusiasm for the railroad issues, although liens of some of the southern roads, particularly Florida East Coast 5s and Louisville and Nashville refundings 5½s, showed independent strength. Strength and activity of New York traction company mortgages apparently were in anticipation of another court decision on the 7 cent fare case.

The cold wave brought a better demand for the coal company liens. Old Ben Coal 6s and Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron 6s showing substantial gains. Some of the sugar company bonds recorded moderate gains.

United States government issues were slightly reactionary, pending the announcement of the terms of the offering of Treasury certificates purchased under the new discount plan last week.

The foreign group was extremely irregular, the announcement of the French Cabinet's resignation coming too late to exert any influence on the French government issues. Antioquia first 7s, Estonia Republic 7s, Finland Republic 6s, and Rio Grande do Sul 6s of 1928 touched new high levels for the year.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given, to expedite examination. The close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Acute weakness of the oil shares, several of which sank to new low levels for the year on selling inspired by the recent crude oil and gasoline price cuts, featured today's irregular curb market. The general list ran into a flurry of selling in the early trading, but offerings were readily absorbed and a brisk rally was under way at the close.

Recent cuts in the prices of petroleum products, coming at a time when many traders believed that progress was being made toward the stabilization of the industry, apparently led many holders of oil securities to dump them overboard. White Star Refining, making its first appearance on the tape in some time, broke more than 16 points below the previous sale on a few transactions. Cosden lost 2¾ net and Gulf, Humble, Imperial, Ohio Oil and Standard Oil of Ohio lost, to nearly 2 points. Standard Oil of Indiana sold below 50 for the first time since 1923.

Electric Bond and Share sold down to 97¾ and then crossed 100 again for a net gain of more than 1 point. Other utilities also made sharp rebounds. American Gas and Electric was marked up 6¼ points and American and Foreign Power warrants, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and National Electric Power A were among the issues to advance a point or more. Sierra Pacific Electric jumped 4¾ points to a new 1930 high at 55.

Aluminum Company of America, which has recorded a rather spectacular advance in the last six weeks, broke 10 points on selling presumably inspired by the announcement that Senator Walsh of Montana had asked for a drastic slash in aluminum duties on the ground that the company has a practical monopoly of the product.

Associated Rayon preferred, Republic Steel preferred, Hazeltine Corporation, and Lily Tulip Cup were outstanding strong spots in the industrial group. Gleaner Combine Harvester sold off about 1½ points in the face of an increase in the annual dividend.

Chief interest in the investment trust and trading corporation group centered in the admission to unlisted trading privileges of the no par common stock of the United Founders, a few thousand shares of which changed hands around 48¾. The stock previously had been traded in over the counter" and on the Boston Stock Exchange. Insull Utility Investment dropped 1¾ points despite the statement of Samuel Insull that stockholders would be given valuable subscription "rights" in the fall.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

OIL NEWS

BY PORTER FLINT

With the Continental Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 124-1 drilling ahead to determine if there is oil off the coast of Carpinteria in Santa Barbara county, three new permits will be recently granted, all of which will be validated to await the results obtained in the deep test which Continental is prospecting.

The Exeter Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 163, which embraces approximately ninety acres, has already been validated, while small drilling outfits are rigging up to validate H. B. Fish's Tideland Permit No. 164 and McDonald Drilling Company's Tideland Permit No. 165.

Exeter is favorably situated at Carpinteria, having ninety-five lots along the coast near its tideland permit. The company's property is near the Continental's Kittie C. Baillard property and is being held pending further development in that same general area. A group of other operators have also validated their tideland permits south of the Continental Oil Company's lease and if oil is discovered out in the ocean each of the operators will drill at least two wells.

Success obtained by a group of operators along the Elwood coast brought about much of the search along the Santa Barbara county coast for oil. At Goleta, the General Petroleum Corporation is drilling five wells. About two miles southeast of the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's productive leases at Elwood, the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation is building piers for Tideland Permits No. 191, No. 160 and No. 161 just west of Campbell Point. After validating these permits, Bolsa Chica will make a location for a deep test and should it come in as a producer it would prove up a 400-acre tract now restricted to drilling but which places the company in an advantageous position so far as obtaining production is concerned.

To Extend Pier

Application has been granted by the General Petroleum Corporation for the construction of an extension on its 1700-foot pier along the coast at Seacliff where its Ferguson No. 2 came in for 500 barrels of oil per day during a water shut-off test.

General's extension will run about 700 feet from the southwesterly end of the original pier and extend to Neil C. Needham's Tideland Permit No. 35. The new extension will be twenty-two feet wide except at the outer end, where the width will be increased to seventy-three and one-half feet. It is understood that General will prospect Needham's permit.

D. W. Wood has also made application for the construction of a pier to extend out into the ocean on Tideland Permit No. 83, which is three permit locations west of General's Ferguson No. 2.

Preparing to Swab

The Richfield Oil Company today is preparing to swab Mayberry No. 1 on the Mayberry ten-acre lease in the extreme southeasterly portion of the Santa Fe Springs field. This project has cored oil sand, having penetrated it first at about 8275 feet where seven-inch casing is set and encountered it to bottom of the hole at 8316 feet. The company's test is one of the deepest in the field.

To Test

The Belridge Oil Company's No. 15 located on Sec. 36, 27-20, in the Belridge district, is preparing for a production test with bottom of the hole at 5086 feet. Oil sand was penetrated in this deep test at 4950 feet and field operators believe the project has an excellent chance of coming in soon. It is located on a lease adjacent to property recently taken over by the Union Oil Company and on which a test will be drilled.

The Union Oil Company is rigging up its Gibson No. 1 on the same section where the Belridge Oil Company's No. 15 is situated. Projects in the Belridge district are about forty miles southeast of the Kettleman Hills field and most of the property in the immediate vicinity is leased to Belridge and a number of the major oil companies.

Rigging Outpost Test

The State Company recently acquired a one-half interest in the Robert Bowles Oil Company's seven-acre Pike lease near the intersection of Temple and Nineteenth streets in the southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field and is rigging up a test. State's property is on the south flank of the field and about 1200 feet south of the Plymouth Oil Company's No. 9, which is drilling in oil sand below 6150 feet.

Due east of the Pike lease at Signal Hill is Bixby & Adams No. 1 test. It is setting nine-inch casing to top of the oil sand at 5650 feet. And near this test is the Petroleum Securities Company's Graham No. 1, which has set combination string at about 6500 feet with bottom of the hole at 6800 feet.

Into Showings

The Standard Oil Company's Bastanchury No. 1 on the Bastanchury ranch east of the company's Coyote Hills property, has encountered scattered showings of oil sand within the last fifty feet of formation and is drilling ahead below 4323 feet. The project is searching for an extension of the Murphy-Coyote Hills lease.

Deepest Wildcat

The Standard Oil Company's Mascot No. 1 near Taft has acquired the title of being the deepest drilling wildcat in the world. Yesterday it was drilling in hard gray sand below 9006 feet and will be carried on down considerably farther to test out the lower formation. Since drilling started in this deep test no oil sand has been penetrated.

Another deep Standard test is the Saticoy-Citrus No. 5 near Saticoy, which is sidetracking at 8447 feet past frozen drill pipe. Original depth was 8460 feet.

May Abandon

Failure to find any showings to justify further drilling may result in the abandonment of the Texas Company's Newman No. 1 on Sec. 23, 29-28 in the Edison district northwest of Bakersfield. The company's project yesterday was drilling below 5900 feet.

Kinner Motors Feature Show

More than 75 per cent of the planes in the 100 horsepower class on exhibition at the St. Louis Aircraft Show are powered with Kinner motors, according to word from Robert Porter, chairman of the Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation, who is attending the display.

First test of the new Kinner 190 horsepower five-cylinder engine in actual flight has just been accomplished and proved highly successful, he stated. One was flown in a Waco plane from Troy to St. Louis and another in an American Eagle from Kansas City to St. Louis, and both pilots were enthusiastic over its performance, he said. The government test is expected shortly.

Wheat Futures Beaten Down on Bearish Market

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Only the Federal Farm Board's newly organized National Grain Stabilization Corporation stood up today as a strong rallying point for wheat values. Almost every other known influence counted against unholding of wheat prices, with Chicago future deliveries forced down to nearly the lowest level yet this season. A specially disturbing factor here was word that the Winnipeg market, shaken by a $2,000,000 grain failure and by flattening out of export demand for wheat from North America was reported as semidemoralized.

Chicago closing quotations today on wheat future deliveries were nervous, 2¼@2½c a bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1¾@2¼c down, oats 1⅛@1¼c to 1⅝c off and provisions varying from 5@7c decline to an advance of 2c.

Capping the climax of adverse developments for friends of higher prices on wheat was a late announcement that the United States wheat visible supply showed a disappointingly small decrease for the week, the decrease amounted to just 632,-000 bushels, compared with 3,611,000 bushels curtailment a week ago. Earlier the market here had been thrown into turmoil by tumbling down of prices at Liverpool and Winnipeg and by spreading of assertions that European importers had definitely beaten North American wheat growers in the price war which has been waged for the last six months.

Smashing of wheat values at Winnipeg went to an extreme of nearly 6c a bushel, with advices current that Argentine offers of wheat to Europe were enlarging at prices under those asked for wheat from North America. The maximum drop at Chicago was 3½c.

Corn and oats as well gave way with wheat, and outdid previous low price records for feed grain this season.

Provisions likewise were responsive to wheat weakness, despite upturns in the value of hogs.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—A general feeling of optimism was noticeable in futures trading at the local rubber exchange today and, aided by encouraging cables from the London market, where a slight gain in the spot position was scored, deliveries at the close of business showed net gains of from 10 to 30 points on a moderate turnover. Crude stocks at London and Liverpool at the close of last week amounted to 82,336 long tons and showed an increase of 1093 tons over the total in the preceding period.

London spot closed steady at 1-16d higher at 9d, while in Singapore spot was unchanged at 7½d. Outside spot here rose 1-16c to 16½c.

Leroy D. Palmer of Orange Fruit Exchange Dies

ORANGE, Feb. 17.—Sudden death today took Leroy D. Palmer, 47-year-old resident, for fourteen years manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, one of the best-known citrus experts of the Southwest. Death, ascribed to acute indigestion, occurred early this morning at the Palmer residence, 315 South Orange street. The body was removed to the Coffey funeral chapel. Funeral services will await the arrival of relatives from the East.

Coroner C. D. Brown said that an autopsy might be ordered. Palmer came to Orange county in 1916 from the California Fruit Growers Exchange, Los Angeles, to become manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, succeeding D. Eyman Huff. From the beginning he displayed a knowledge of citrus marketing that made him outstanding in Southern California. This year Palmer's report showed that about $12,000,000 had been paid to member associations in the exchange, a record yield.

Palmer was affiliated with Masonic and Elks lodges.

Woman Fails to Get Out of Rut, So Takes Poison

LONG BEACH, Feb. 17.—Efforts of Mary B. Vanek, 36 years of age, of 1029 West Maryland street, Los Angeles, to get out of the rut of clerical work failed, and she faces death from poison in a suicide attempt.

Discovered in an unconscious condition on the sidewalk in front of the Chamber of Commerce Building Saturday night, she was found to be suffering from the effect of a slow poison which she admitted taking. Refusing to tell anything about herself, she gave hospital attendants and police the name of Mary Enders. On Sunday she gave another name, and today told what she declares is her true story.

For nineteen years she was a clerk, for nine years she worked at that occupation for the Eastern Wholesale Company, 306 North Los Angeles street, Los Angeles. One year ago she threw up her job with the hope of getting into another line of employment, one with a future, and with an attraction.

Her funds gone, her rent due, she admitted failure and swallowed half a bottle of poison tablets, she told police.

Attending physicians declare she cannot live but will die a slow death. Her mother lives in St. Louis, she told police.

VENICE OIL ORDINANCE RESTS WEEK

Voting Delayed After Randall Starts Fight on Immediate Passage

A group of permits for oil drilling in the Venice area were before the City Council yesterday in the shape of ordinances and because Councilman Randall opposed their immediate adoption the matter went over one week. By the indication of things, the ordinances will be adopted next Monday.

The presentation of the ordinances was featured by the activities of Councilman Barthel, who ran in and out of the room four times. One of the applicants is Mrs. Barthel, under the name of Harriet Cleveland, so the Councilman absented himself when votes were taken.

The Cleveland ordinance came up first, alone. By unanimous vote, Barthel going to the anteroom, the ordinance was adopted. Then Randall demanded to know whether the City Attorney had filed a legal opinion on his request that community drilling be enforced, with a royalty for the city. There was considerable discussion of this phase, Randall reading a letter to the effect that "bunko operators" are threatening property owners.

Councilman Burns, perceiving that Property owners

WHAT INTEREST?

Have you an installment payment real estate loan? Do you know the actual rate of interest you are paying on it?

If not, call or send us the full particulars about your loan and we will be glad to analyze it and to tell you the interest rate you are paying.

You may be surprised—especially when you contrast your present loan cost with our exceptionally advantageous new loan rates—the lowest in our history.

Our booklets, free for the asking, give full information about our loans and contrast their actual monthly cost with other types of realty financing.

RE-FINANCE NOW . . .

If your loan bears unduly high interest, or if the monthly payments are too high, or it is otherwise unsatisfactory, you can probably refinance here on a distinctly economical and advantageous long term, low interest basis.

We are making 65% to 75% loans on well located improved residential and income real estate, in cities served by our offices and in selected districts contiguous thereto.

Borrowers need not carry a savings balance.

DEATH COMES TO A. P. MOORE

Ex-Ambassador to Poland Expires in Hospital

Tubular Infection Fought Vainly by Publisher

Body Will be Sent to Pittsburgh Today

Alexander P. Moore, retired Pittsburgh publisher, who recently was appointed Ambassador to Poland by President Hoover, died at the California Hospital shortly after noon yesterday from a tubular infection of the blood and lungs. He was 63 years of age.

The body will be taken to Pittsburgh for burial following funeral services at noon today at the Pierce chapel, 855 South Figueroa street.

Alexander Moore, who had been ill with his illness since the latter part, lapsed into a coma about 6:00 yesterday. As the morning wore on it began sinking rapidly, so it was apparent that death was near. He died at 12:25 p.m. shortly before death closed the eyes of the pastor, Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, whispered a prayer at the bedside. Several local relatives and close friends stood near the bed.

Friends of Mr. Moore two weeks ago allowed him to be sufferer from a tubercular infection, which for several months had undertaken for a severe cold. He was removed from Palm Springs to the Pottenger Sanatorium at Monrovia, and last Friday taken to the California Hospital in a critical condition.

HIS FIGHT FOR LIFE

Mr. Moore had returned from a trip to Lima, Peru, where he had gone as Ambassador on a similar capacity to Chile. He went to the home of Mrs. Chaffee, where he was under the care of a nurse for several days in an attempt to regain his health.

Later he went to Palm Springs, but the return of more cold forced him to go to the Monrovia sanatorium, where the tubercular condition was found by examination. Daily his condition grew worse, and other complications with bronchial pneumonia hastened his death.

The body was removed to the Pierce Undertaking Company, where J. W. Seibert of 924½ south Grand avenue, a cousin, made arrangements for today's funeral services and transportation of the body to Pittsburgh.

COLLEGE COMMENTS

Dr. Seibert said that Ambassador Moore is to be interred in the Moore mausoleum in the Allegheny cemetery at Pittsburgh beside his wife, Lillian Russell, the actress, whom he married in 1912. Until her death in 1922 they were inseparable.

Speaking of Mr. Moore's death, former President Coolidge, who appointed the statesman to the Polish diplomatic post, said:

"It is with great regret that I learn of the death of Ambassador Moore. I had planned to call on him at the hospital. He was long a personal friend of mine, and his services endeared him to all who came in contact with him."

Mr. Moore was born in Pittsburgh November 18, 1867. He was known as a self-made man. His early journalism carried him to the Detroit station—an office which was the highest post, editor-in-chief of the Pittsburgh Leader and owner and publisher of the Leader. He was known as a "militant" editor.

Ambassador Theodore Roosevelt supported Theodore Roosevelt in the Bull Moose campaign of 1912, later returned to the Republican party. He supported Herbert Hoover for President in 1928, was rewarded by appointment

WEST SIDE ASKS COURT OF ITS OWN

Supervisor McClellan to Sponsor Move of Region for Branch Tribunal

Establishment of a branch of the Municipal Court in the West Los Angeles district was requested in a petition handed to Presiding Judge Ambrose yesterday.

According to Robert W. Kenny, Deputy County Counsel, who checked the petition, the movement is sponsored by Chairman McClellan, who represents the district on the Board of Supervisors.

The proposed court would serve territory comprising Bel-Air, Brentwood Heights, Brentwood Park, Brentwood Green, Castellammare, Cheviot Hills, Highland Hills, Holly Vista, Holmby Hills, Huntington Palisades, Miramar Estates, Mar Vista, Monte Mar Vista, Pacific Palisades, Palms, Riviera, Sawtelle, Santa Monica Canyon, Venice and Westwood.

A resolution of the Municipal bench is necessary to bring about the establishment of branch courts. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting, it was stated.

BIDS CALLED FOR IN PARK BORE PLANS

Date Set for Receiving Figures on Tunneling for North Figueroa Extension

The Board of Public Works yesterday set March 19 as the date for receiving and opening bids for the boring of the tunnels under Elysian Park in connection with the North Figueroa street extension.

The plans for the tunnels, including portals, approaches, paving, curbs, sidewalks and drains, were approved by the board yesterday. The plans, which call for three single-bore tunnels, forty-six feet wide, were submitted by City Engineer Jessup. Their total length is approximately 11,000 feet. The City Council has allocated $800,000 toward the work. The contractor will be given 450 days to complete the job.

HOSPITAL COST OUT OF BOUNDS

County Institution Expense Exceeds Estimates

Supervisors May Call Halt to Revise Plans

Construction Total Figures 50 Per Cent Overweight

Possibility that all bids for work and materials on the "acute" unit of the General Hospital may be rejected and that the specifications for materials and furnishings of the building may be rewritten loomed yesterday as two members of the Board of Supervisors emphatically declared they will insist that the cost of the completed building be held down to the original estimate of $11,000,000.

The hospital became the main topic of discussion at the Hall of Records yesterday when Supervisor Graves, chairman of the building committee of the board, issued a statement that "indications are that the hospital will cost approximately $16,000,000."

SHAW FOR ACTION

Graves's statement was followed by one from Supervisor Shaw, who advocated rejecting all bids, rewriting the specifications and readvertising for bids in preference to a structure at a seemingly exorbitant price.

While Chairman McClellan of the board did not issue a formal statement, he declared the board should call a meeting with the Allied Architects' Association at which means of modifying the specifications to prevent excessive costs might be discussed.

The discussion disclosed that, generally speaking, all bids have been in excess of original estimates, with the result that if completed in accordance with present specifications and bids the building's total cost will exceed the original estimate by several million dollars.

STICK TO ESTIMATE

Both Supervisors Graves and Shaw expressed opinions that the building cost could be held to the original estimate of $11,000,000 without in any way sacrificing comfort or facilities. The Supervisors pointed out that the hospital is an institution to be constructed with tax money and supported largely by taxes, and that necessity requires, therefore, that it be constructed and operated as economically as possible.

"Before the first contract was let for the building," said Graves, "figures given by the architects and written into our records in effect were that the building would cost $9,543,957.40, plus environs of $580,000, making a total of a little over $10,000,000. In allowing for such changes and additions as we knew would arise during a four-year construction program of a building of this size, the statement was made that the building, including architects' fees, would cost approximately $11,000,000.

THIRD STILL UNSPENT

"To date we have either spent or contracted for $7,681,693, leaving some three and one-half millions to spend and still be within our original estimate. I am sure that by careful planning and constant watching of all expenditures it still will be possible to stay within our limits. It will be two or three weeks before a final report will be ready."

Plans for the building call for its completion in 1932 with some sections of it available for service the latter part of this year. The greater portion of structural work on the building has been completed and most of the work remaining to be done is in finishing, decorating and furnishing.

The completed institution will have a normal capacity of 2434 beds, with an emergency capacity of 3600 beds.

Thousand Will Take Tests for Court Clerks

Breaking all records for the total of applicants filing for one Los Angeles civil service examination, 2390 have applied to take the tests on the 21st inst. for fifty-five jobs as clerks of the Municipal Courts. For three years these have been filled by emergency appointments, but have been ordered under civil service. All incumbents have filed.

The previous high total of applicants for any single test was 1500, according to Glenn G. Gravatt, secretary of the Civil Service Commission. Space in a number of high schools, the Hall of Records and the City Hall will be required for the examination.

Heat Record for Same Day in Month Set

"Just the kind of weather we order for distinguished visitors," was the explanation yesterday by the staff of the United States Weather Bureau in commenting on the arrival of former President Coolidge and warm sunshine. The high point yesterday was reached at 1 o'clock in the afternoon when the thermometer registered 80 deg., setting an all-time high mark for any February 17 in the history of the bureau. The Weather Bureau was established in 1878, and, according to their files, the nearest approach to yesterday's mark was in 1923 when 87 deg. was recorded. The same mark was touched in 1896.

Coupled with the forecast for continued warm and clear weather for today and Wednesday, the bureau said the unusually low humidity of 12 per cent brought with it a high fire hazard.

Tentative Date Announced for Jeffries Trial

Trial of the case of Elmer B. Jeffries, head of the Jeffries Automatic Service Company, venders of sandwich machines, and three associates, was set tentatively yesterday by United States District Judge James for June 17.

The four are charged with having defrauded about 11,000 persons of large sums of money in the promotion of the Jeffries company. The other defendants are George M. Pettit, Herbert G. Danforth and Dwight L. Seymour.

EX-GROCER BOY HAILS COOLIDGES

They Paid Spot Cash and Could Not be Coaxed to Use Credit, He Says

One of the thousands of faces turned toward Calvin and Grace Coolidge yesterday would have brought back memories to the dignified pair had they glimpsed it. The face was that of Martin Powers, who for thirteen years delivered groceries almost daily to the Coolidge home in Northampton, Mass.

MARTIN POWERS

Through one of the caprices of Chance—and Dame Fortune—Powers is a guest of the Biltmore, where the Coolidges are staying during their visit in Los Angeles.

Thirteen years of contact with the Coolidges as their grocery boy engendered in the breast of the youth tremendous confidence in Coolidge—and, so, when Coolidge became President Powers got some money together and rode into wealth with the Coolidge bull market.

Powers said that the Coolidges were cash customers. Mrs. Coolidge insisting on paying for all deliveries at the time of delivery. Once in awhile, for sport, he tried to put them on the "charge account" list by escaping quickly, but the Coolidges never remained on the list long.

Powers visited them once in the White House and hopes to meet them again here.

CHEST REPORT SUBMITTED

Clearing Up of Debt Revealed and List Provided of Agencies Aided and Funds Given Each

The Community Chest's report of stewardship for the fiscal year of 1929 was made public yeterday by D. C. MacWatters, general manager of the organization, legally designated as the Community Welfare Federation of Los Angeles.

The report accounted for a total of $3,035,671.80, of which $3,033,713.22 was disbursed, leaving a bank balance of $1958.58 at the end of the fiscal year of 1929. This amount will be added to the $2,719,000 subscribed during the recent campaign for the carrying on of the work of the agencies during the fiscal year of 1930.

One of the most interesting highlights of the report was the information made public for the first time, that the Community Chest has been in debt for five years, requiring large loans from banks, and is now, for the first time, out of debt.

LARGE AMOUNT IN "HOLE"

During the five-year period up to and including Oct. 31, 1929, the Chest had accummulated a deficit of $394,000, because of its failure each year to obtain a minimum quota necessary for the functioning of all its agencies. These numbered 154 at first, but by elimination, co-ordination and consolidation, have been reduced to 124.

Only one exception was made to this policy of giving the agencies what they need even if the public failed to subscribe a sufficient fund. This was in 1928 when the agencies in the aggregate received a 19 per cent reduction.

Each year it was hoped that the next campaign would absorb the growing deficit, but as that hope was never realized it was decided, in January, 1929, that a committee should quietly undertake to raise the amount of the deficit. This committee, headed by Ben R. Meyer, president of the Union Bank and Trust Company, assisted by Lee Phillips, Harry J. Bauer, James R. Page, George I. Cochran and others, obtained special pledges aggregating $286,000 from forty-eight wealthy individuals and corporations, which with economics and savings in Chest and agencies operations in 1929, aggregating $108,000, wiped out the total deficit.

The Chest administration expense in collecting and distributing the fund for 1929 was $50,644.50 or 1.93 per cent of the total budget, a saving of $17,046.74 as compared with 1928.

THRONGS CHEER COOLIDGES HERE JUST AS "TOURISTS"

The desire of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge to visit Los Angeles merely as tourists seeking nothing more than modest hotel accommodations and a chance to look around quietly was happily overriden yesterday as throngs lined the streets and cheered them on their way to the Biltmore, where they are quartered in a pretentious suite of rooms on the eleventh floor.

"Oh, my!" Mrs. Coolidge exclaimed as she and the former President of the United States were escorted to Apartment C and beheld the parlor banked with flowers, "We had not counted on a place like this!"

Mrs. Coolidge Says, I Do Not Choose to Talk

During her reign in the White House Mrs. Calvin Coolidge was said to be the most popular first lady of the land since Dolly Madison's time. The reason is apparent now. She can say "no" and make one like it.

The reportorial code, for instance, ordinarily pays no heed to a "no," but when Mrs. Coolidge, upon her arrival yesterday, said, "I never talk for publication on any subject at any time," despite the finality of the remark, there was that in her thoroughly gracious way of saying it which precluded the slightest feeling of chagrin on the part of the representatives of the Fourth Estate, who were dogging her very footsteps. In fact, they were inclined, rather, to sympathize with her sentiments.

NO INTERVIEWS

"I'm very happy to be here, of course," she said at their suite in the Biltmore, "but I'm afraid I shall have to say 'no interviews to anyone.' For the past eight years I have adhered rigidly to that rule; nowhere along the way have I broken it, and I really can't do it now."

But even as she voices this unequivocal statement, her smile is so charming and gracious and genuine that it is impossible to be insistent or even a bit annoyed at the feminine version of the Coolidge I-do-not-choose habit.

When the train drew into the Southern Pacific station yesterday morning, Mrs. Coolidge stood beside the ex-President on the observation platform and beamed pleasure and friendliness upon the assembled multitude. She was wearing an ensemble of beige, set off by a small-brimmed, purple hat of felt and straw, and a sable fur was thrown lightly about her shoulders.

HIDDEN BY FLOWERS

As she left the train she was fairly hidden behind several bouquets of flowers which had been pressed into her arms and as the party moved slowly through the station to the waiting motors, she peered around and through and over the blossoms bowing and waving gayly in response to the cheers that greeted them on all sides.

In the cheers at the hotel one enthusiastic admirer broke bounds and, rushing up to Mrs. Coolidge, said:

"Oh, Mrs. Coolidge, let me see your face. Just let me see your face. You are so beautiful, I just love you."

Whereupon, nothing daunted, Mrs. Coolidge turned the full light of her countenance upon the breathless woman and made the appropriately charming reply, after which the stranger lapsed into a thrill and no doubt immediately started plans for telling about "that time I talked to Mrs. Coolidge."

MISS WILBUR CALLS

Once inside their suite at the hotel, Mrs. Coolidge disappeared from view and only an occasional peek at her through the open doorway, as Mr. Coolidge stood on the threshold answering the questions of an army of reporters, revealed that she had completely forgotten the bedlam outside and was pleasantly engaged in chatting with Gov. and Mrs. Young and others who had dropped in to greet them.

Among the early callers was Miss Bertha Wilbur, sister of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, who said when she came out, that both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were very appreciative and deeply touched by the warm welcome given them here.

Postmaster P. P. O'Brien, who acted as intermediary between the eager waiters outside and the former first lady, said that Mrs. Coolidge had shown a lively interest in the California countryside the moment she emerged from their drawing-room on the train yesterday morning, and that all the way into

Mr. Coolidge stepped to the window immediately, and beholding the panorama that took in Hollywood and the Santa Monica Mountains to the west, started and said, "what a beautiful view."

POPULARITY ATTESTED

The popularity of the visitors was attested by the fact that hardly had they arrived at the hotel when the telephone began ringing, and for the greater part of the day there was a constant stream of callers, flowers being sent in baskets, bouquets and boxes, and bellboys carrying letters and telegrams.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge remained in their apartment throughout the day, leaving at 7:15 p.m. to attend the Mission Pay at San Gabriel.

After the first rush of the arrival of the notable pair was over it was established that they are here simply on a visit; they are not sure just how long they will be here, but probably until next Monday at least; they want to be accommodating and all that, but they prefer no great fuss be made over them. They want to see Los Angeles and Southern California, particularly places of historic interest, and Mr. Coolidge does not want to make any public speeches.

A committee of citizens headed by Mayor Porter and President Austin of the Chamber of Commerce went to work on a program that will meet the wishes of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge.

CROWD CHEERS

The visitors arrived from New Orleans on the Southern Pacific Argonaut shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning. They were met at the train by the official reception committee including Gov. Young, Mayor Porter, Postmaster O'Brien, Joseph Scott and others. They were on the rear platform of the observation car, and patiently stood for some time to permit the news photographers and film cameramen a chance to take pictures. There was no speaking at the train. As the party moved out of the train shed and up into the station a roar of cheering came from the crowd that surged about the place.

Gov. and Mrs. Young and Mayor Porter rode in the car with Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge up Fifth street, hung with flags, to the hotel. There were crowds along the street there for the purpose of greeting the visitors.

As the procession approached, led by a detail of motorcycle officers, the waiting people cried, "Here they come!" and the cheering broke forth.

VERBAL COMEBACK

Mr. Coolidge proved to be a surprise to those who had rather expected an unresponsive, stiff individual with little to say. He has a twinkle in his eye that tells a lot and has a quick verbal comeback.

"We'll give you a ring at the hotel and arrange for an interview with you in ten or fifteen minutes," a reporter suggested over his shoulder as the party was hurrying out of the station. It was not the first urge from the newspaper men.

"Yes, yes," said Calvin, "but I'd like just time enough to wash my face."

As they trudged up the ramp and the crowd broke forth with hand-clapping and cheering it was Mrs. Coolidge who raised her hand high up and waved, smilingly. Mr. Coolidge bowed.

CROWD IN CORRIDOR

The Coolidge apartment is at the end of a long corridor. There was a coming and going up and down that corridor all day long. The path no more than got to their quarters than a small crowd formed in the hallway. First there were a score of reporters and cameramen. Then there were officers of various sorts. Then there were just people. A couple of women, for instance, who strung along with the crowd, placed themselves right on the very threshold of the apartment.

Soon Mr. Coolidge appeared at the doorway, a cigar fixed in a long holder in his fingers. No, the newspaper mob was not invited in. Mr. Coolidge stood his ground and with a smile plunged right into the in-

THE LITTLE THEATERS

The proprietor of one of the attractive little neighborhood theaters has a few words to say on the talkies in small houses.

He says that—providing the apparatus is properly installed in the first place—the electric experts say little houses give better reproduction than large theaters. This is because they lack vaulted ceilings, recesses, high domes, bad corners where reverberation, surface noises, echoes and barrel sounds are the custom.

Nevertheless, in big houses and little ones, it is recognized that the problem of sound reproduction is only half solved in the studio. It requires high skill and constant vigilance in the theater itself.

HYSTERICS AND COPS

The police of Chicago are going through the usual hysteria of cops under a heavy fire of criticism. They are rushing around arresting gangsters and near gangsters by the herd—and letting them go for lack of evidence.

KEEPING TAB ON CROOKS

Kemper Campbell tells me of a police court case that came up while he was in London with the International Bar Association.

A London cop took the stand to explain how he happened to catch a mail-box thief. "In the crowd around Charing Cross I saw two young men whom I did not recognize; so I followed them and saw this one rob a mail box."

In all European centers the registration system enables them to keep track of crooks every moment of their lives. Over here they just wander as they list.

THE COST OF WAR

Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, gives some staggering figures on the cost of war for England.

Two hundred thousand dollars an hour on the war debt; the total working time of 2,000,000 men—added to which England pays $375,000,000 in preparation for another war and $280,000,000 on war pensions.

All for a war that settled absolutely nothing, and left everything

DOCTORS GET CANCER PLEA

Tolerance Asked by Codiscoverers of New Extract at Large Gathering of Medical Profession

Before nearly 1000 members of the local medical profession Dr. Walter B. Coffey and Dr. John D. Humber of San Francisco presented their case and asked for tolerance on the part of the profession during further experimental injection of the suprarenal extract that has become the latest hope of cancer sufferers.

The physicians spoke at the annual dinner of the attending staffs of the California Hospital at the Alexandria Hotel.

"Courage plus imagination begets surprise," Dr. Coffey pointed out. "Common sense is as basic in medicine as it is in law. Nature did not create a disease without creating a control—be it ever so hard to discover.

"We had imagination and that led us to believe the previously overlooked sympathetic nervous system had a greater control over possible diseases than had been determined.

"With this in mind Dr. Humber went to New Orleans and carried on months of delicate experiments that finally brought to light the entire sympathetic nervous system. With this as a basis and the association of the system with the internal secretary glands we experimented with the injection of hundreds of combinations of glandular extracts.

"Five years ago we discovered that the suprarenal extract had a softening effect on cancers.

"When you see with your own eyes the cessation of pain in a patient that has been condemned to death by cancer and the disintegration of a cancer on a man's tongue within a week after we started in-

MISSION PLAY ACCLAIMED

Coolidges in Notable Company at 3000th Showing; Hoover and Alfonso Send Greetings

Very simple, dignified and impressive, was the presentation in its own San Gabriel Theater last night of the three thousandth performance of the Mission Play. Very beautiful were the flowers that banked the stage and well-nigh smothered John Steven McGroarty, its author and entrepreneur. Very entrancing was the gathering of the many representatives of each of the twenty-one missions that once garlanded El Camino Real from San Diego to Sonoma. In colorful garb, caballeros, senoritas, Indians, each offering a banner with its strange device of heraldry and its name, came forward until the stage was a panorama of chromatic beauty, draped and flower garlanded, were a group of the men of Los Angeles who made that playhouse possible, led by W. I. Hollingsworth, president of the association which erected and financed it, with Mrs. Hollingsworth and their daughter Flora.

And very much impressed with it all was the most celebrated guest of the more than 2,000,000 who have seen the play in its long career of more than eighteen years—Calvin Coolidge, former President of these United States.

It was an exceptional audience that gathered in the lovely Mission Playhouse last night to do the occasion honor. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, who occupied boxes flagerview, very much at ease and at ome.

"We have come here from New rleans, where we had a very pleas- nt visit," he said, his cigar perched etween his fingers.

WON'T MAKE SPEECH

The first thing you notice is that e pronounces it "heah." And he peaks very precisely.

"While here I will do anything ut make a speech," he suddenly aid, and smiled.

"I wish you would say for us that e appreciate the wonderful wel- ome accorded us upon our arrival ere and along the way. Also we have received many messages of greeting. Please say that as we are raveling alone and have no secre- rial help, it will be virtually im- ossible for us to answer all of these messages."

Some one in the group asked him if he would visit the studios.

"I am very much interested in the motion - picture industry," he re- plied. "We used to see many films when I was in Washington, but we do not see so many now. Of course, that was the finished product. We will be interested to see how the pictures are made.

"It is possible that we will see something of Catalina Island, as I understand that is a very interest- ing place to visit. And then there is the Breakfast Club Wednesday morning. I may attend that. Then I was asked if I would be here Mon- day to attend the dinner of the Chamber of Commerce — which I understand is the name of your commercial organization here—and it is possible that we will be here until then. But in accepting that invitation I took occasion to ascer- tain first that they had engaged a speaker for the evening.

MERELY VISITOR

Asked just why he is here, Mr. Coolidge said merely as a visitor.

"You know," he laughed, "it got to be quite a joke in Washington, with people from all parts of the coun- try calling on me and urging me to visit their part of the country, and I would promise to do so. Now I am here on a sort of 'duty call' in accordance with promises made in the past to come out here.

"It has been twenty-one years since I was out this way. I was down in Arizona for a visit in 1909. Of course, the thing that struck me as I came out this time was the great development that has taken place since I was out this way last."

Then came the question that is usually the "prize" one in a "mob" interview. Somewhere a voice piped up, "Are you out here to sign any movie contract, Mr. Coolidge?"

There was a pause that grew heavier as Mr. Coolidge apparently decided to let that one pass. In the meantime someone asked if he has any relatives out here whom he will visit. Well, he didn't know. His family has been in this country since 1630, and there are members all over the country. There used to be some out here, but none that he knew of now. Always glad to meet members of the family.

SOME MORE QUESTIONS

"As to the movies," he said, "I have been in the movies before, of course. But not professionally. Nor do I intend to take them up pro- fessionally."

"Anyone try to sell you any real estate here yet?" he was asked.

"No."

"Are you in the market?"

"No."

"No, boys, there is your story. I never give an interview. It's your story."

"Will you have a press confer- ence with us daily?"

"No, I don't think so. I am a private citizen now, and we are just visiting."

"People would, like to hear what you have to say about our country out here," it was suggested.

"Well," he said, "before we go I may call you in and give you a re- port."

"The photographers are getting nervous," a newspaper man sug- gested as the interview was draw- ing to a close.

"Oh, that's chronic with them," he came back with a smile. "They never seem to realize that there is another issue of the paper coming out tomorrow."

And so saying he yielded to the request of the photographers and let them into the apartment for pictures.

Detective Lieutenants Hynes, Evans and Hays have been de- tailed from the police department as a permanent guard escort for the visitors.

Later in the day a reporter for an afternoon newspaper wormed his way into the Coolidge apart- ment and met up with the former President in his bathrobe coming from a shower.

"Oh, Mr. Coolidge," the reporter asked, "is it true that you are plan- ning to run again for the Presi- dency."

Mr. Coolidge told the reporter that he knew better than to ask a question like that and told him to get right out of the apartment.

"Say," remarked one of the of- cers who had been on duty in the hallway outside the apartment," this man Coolidge has a lot going on in his head. He can say the funniest things without cracking a smile. Not much gets past him, I'm a-telling you."

Last night the former President and his wife were guests at the Mis- sion Play of W. I. Hollingsworth, president of the board of directors of the Mission Playhouse. Preceded by a motorcycle escort, the auto- mobile bearing the distinguished couple traveled from the hotel to the famous theater in San Gabriel at a leisurely pace that was a great contrast to the dizzy speed at which famous visitors are generally whirled through Los Angeles streets. Inquiry disclosed that the comparative slow- ness of the journey was the result of a special request by the former President, who informed his police escort that he does not believe in speedy automobile travel and asked that they should not exceed a speed of twenty-five miles an hour.

Although the motorcycle police were restrained as to speed, there was no such restraint placed on their sirens and the screaming sirens attracted the attention of crowds along the way which were quick to recognize the Coolidges and cheer them. Mr. Coolidge rode in the rear seat of the automobile provided for him, between his wife and Mrs. Hol- lingsworth.

On their arrival at the playhouse, the Coolidges were greeted by John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, and he conducted them to the patio, where they ex- amined with evident interest the miniature reproductions of the twenty-one famous old missions. From the patio they proceeded into the theater and were ushered into a box, where they quickly opened and perused their programs only to be interrupted by their formal in- troduction.

INTEREST SHOWN IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

POMONA, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Calvin Coolidge, former President of the United States, proved to be pleasant company and showed a keen interest in Southern Californ- nia, according to Fritz Fernstrom, president of the California Fruit Wrapping Mills, Inc., of this city.

Mr. Fernstrom occupied a berth adjoining the Coolidge stateroom on the Southern Pacific Argonaut from New Orleans, arriving in this city this morning.

Invited into the Coolidge draw- ing-room Mr. Fernstrom soon learned that Mr. Coolidge is eager to know about Southern California.

BREAKFAST CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN COOLIDGES

Ex-President and Mrs. Coolidge are to be guests of honor at the Breakfast Club's weekly gathering at 8 a.m. tomorrow. Among the members who will greet them are three former residents of their home town, Northampton, Mass.—Mack Sennett, movie producer; Antonio Moreno, film actor, and W. W. Gardner of the Palos Verdes organi- zation. Mme. Ernestine Schumann- Heink will sing to the distinguished guests, as will the Duncan sisters. Other guests include Gov. Young, Mayor Porter, A. W. Shaw, formerly publisher of System, and H. T. Griswold, a Chicago manufacturer.

The club governors announced that they will have to restrict mem- bers from bringing guests.

SHEFFIELD MOTION TO BE HEARD TODAY

Arguments on motion for a new trial for M. B. Sheffield, negro po- lice officer convicted of accepting a bribe, will be heard by Superior Judge Emmet Wilson today. The case was scheduled to be heard yes- terday but was continued because of congested calendar.

ANCIENT RITES CARRIED OUT

Coolidges Greeted at Hotel in Fashion Prevalent at Old Inns

Blandishments of an old custom cheered Calvin and Grace Coolidge yesterday on their arrival at the Biltmore.

Charles Baad, manager of the hotel, like the innkeepers of old who personally greeted their clientele, met the Cool- idge at the south entrance of the hotel and conducted the distinguished guests to the quarters set aside for them on the eleventh floor.

Manager Baad said that Mr. Coolidge's first action was to go to a window and ex- press his pleasure at being able to enjoy Southern Cali- fornia's sunshine.

COOLIDGES SEE MISSION PLAY

C. Austin of the Chamber of Com- merce, and Mrs. Austin, Senor and Senora Romero, he being the Spanish Consul, Postmaster P. P. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Rindge, Mr. and Mrs. George I. Cochran, D. W. Pontius, and several others. Many of them were in the Coo- lidge party, which arrived early and were seated before many of the audience knew that they were on hand. But when Mr. McGroar- ty introduced his guests, leading up to the Coolidges last, and to the former President last of all, Mr. Coolidge was greeted with hearty applause, and the entire audience rose to its feet to honor him and Mrs. Coolidge.

MESSAGES READ

On the stage, where a typical mission setting was in place, Mr. McGroarty read several telegrams, including these:

"I congratulate you cordially and affectionately on your 3000th per- formance of the 'Mission Play' il- lustrating so vividly the glamorous history of California, [Signed] Herbert Hoover."

The following message was from King Alfonso of Spain:

"Upon the 3000th performance of the 'Mission Play' I am pleased to send you sincere thanks for homage to Spain's civilizing and self-deny- ing missionaries. I greet you af- fectionately, pray ng together with my country for the prosperity of the United States, California, your city and the personal organizers of such generous and sympathetic initiative. [Signed] Alfonso R."

He also introduced his loyal wife and also Juanita Vigare, the one person who has been identified with the "Mission Play" from its begin- ning and who has lost only one of its 3000 performances— the day she was married in Old San Gabriel Church, where at the same altar her ancestors had worshiped for 150 years.

PARADE OF MISSIONS

A short and interesting prelimi- nary program of music was given, opening with organ numbers by A. F. Reilly, and including several fine harp numbers by Miss Flora Hol- lingsworth, and as a climax, some operatic numbers by Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who created a furor with her superb vocal con- tributions. Then was the parade of the missions and following that the play was on as it has been done so very many times for so many years —a play now beyond the reach of criticism—a California institution.

Mr. Coolidge was much impressed, evidently, for he broke his well- known silence by asserting:

"I think it a very wonderful play."

Mr. McGroarty was more than satisfied with the public's recogni- tion of the Mission Play on this occasion, and with its response to it this season. He said that some- thing like $50,000 was the result of the count-up on the evening's receipts — probably the greatest admission ever paid for one regular performance in any theater any- where. Which adds to the unique fact that this play is the only one known that has had a special thea- ter erected just for it and has been given on the same spot all its long career.

"Please try to express my great appreciation and my great thanks," said Mr. McGroarty, as he tried vainly to keep the moisture out of his eyes. "It has been a wonderful occasion and a wonderful time—not for me—but for the California play and the California spirit. How can I ever tell my gratitude and appre- ciation? It has been wonderful; wonderful. Thank everyone, for me."

the city she asked questions chief- ly about Los Angeles and the Mis- sion Play.

Then, when the postmaster had been prevailed upon to ask her once more if she wouldn't please come to the door for just a mo- ment, an indulgent ripple of laugh- ter issued from around the corner, and there was no other course but to accept gracefully the edict of "no interviews on any subject, at any time, with anybody."

VETERANS DINE TONIGHT

RELIEF SIGHTED FOR GRAPE MEN

Teague Says Cure Possible for Surplus Problem

Decision Soon Forecast by Farm Board Leader

Schilling Praises State's Poultry Co-operatives

Efforts to improve the California grape industry are in a fair way to succeed and Pacific States poultry co-operative associations shall have representatives among official ad- visers to the Federal Farm Board, C. C. Teague and William F. Schil- ling, board members, disclosed here yesterday. They were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a lunch- eon given by its agricultural com- mittee, B. R. Holloway, chairman.

"I'm here now to see what might be done for the grape industry of California, which is in a serious con- dition," Teague said. "It produces a surplus of about 300,000 tons and so demoralizes its market. We are trying to deal with the surplus. I have spent two very strenuous weeks here with a very fair prospect of success.

"I think there is an opportunity to put the industry on a profitable basis but it will have to be done mostly by co-operation within the industry itself, with some aid and financing from the board. We will know in a few days whether pro- gress can be made."

POULTRY RAISERS PRAISED

Schilling came Friday and left last night after conferring here with representatives of dairy and poultry associations in five Western States. He conferred yesterday with poultrymen and at the lunch- eon told them:

"You have in the Southwest the very best poultry marketing co-op- eratives in the United States. I came to size up the industry, find out what it is producing and how and to measure the brains behind it so that when the board comes to deal with the poultry problem it will know where to look for advice. You are outstanding in the caliber of men in the industry. The Pacific Slope can be certain of representa- tion on the poultry advisory com- mittee to the board. They will be called to Washington later to give the board the benefit of your good work."

Schilling has charge of the dairy and poultry activities of the board's work and Teague of fruit and vege- table activities.

TEAGUE LAUDED

Speaking more generally of the board's work Schilling said:

"I caution you against the big- gest danger—failure of leaders of various co-operatives dealing with the same commodities to agree be- cause of jealousies among them- selves.

"California has provided the board with one of its biggest men— Mr. Teague. He is on the job every single minute. He's interested not only in California but in every other State in the Union. You can be proud of him and what he is do- ing."

In a general discussion of the board's work Teague said:

"We have been about seven months on the job and we are be- ginning to see in what direction we must go. We see that the farther we go the less popular we will be with a certain element. We must work along the line of co-operatives and wherever we move in that di- rection we interfere with some com- mercial agency. We are not going to be popular with some of them and you will hear from them about it."

DEATH COMES TO A. P. MOORE

ment as Ambassador to Spain in 1923, when publication of the Leader was suspended.

DIPLOMATIC SUCCESS

Abroad he won high recognition for his diplomacy. He laid the foun- dation for several important treaties and worked untiringly for close, harmonious relations between Spain and the United States. Mr. Moore was a favorite of King Alfonso.

During his newspaper career Mr. Moore came in close contact with the theater and counted among his friends many of the famous of the world behind the footlights. It was during that time that he met and married Miss Russell.

In 1928 Mr. Moore was appointed Ambassador to Peru. He held that post with the same loyalty and dip- lomatic efficiency as the Madrid as- signment, and assisted the Peru- vian government to the solution of many of its problems of state. He returned to the United States last August.

Mr. Moore was a Mason, Shriner and Knight Templar, and held memberships in the Atlantic Yacht and Lambs' clubs in New York, the Pittsburgh Athletic, Press, Progres- sive and Field clubs, and the Rac- quet Club at Washington. In re- ligious affairs he was a Methodist, but was interested in nearly all re- ligious movements.

Local relatives of Mr. Moore are Mrs. Schubert and Meriam and William Culbertson, also cousins, re- siding at the Berendo-street ad- dress. Among other relatives at Pittsburgh he leaves Mrs. Sue Addy, a sister; Mildred Martin, a niece, George Moore, a nephew and Mrs. J. C. Moore, a sister-in-law.

PERU REGRETS DEATH OF FORMER AMBASSADOR

LIMA (Peru) Feb. 17. (AP)—News of the death in Los Angeles of for- mer Ambassador Moore this eve- ning roused feelings of deep regret in high Peruvian official circles. In Mr. Moore Peru saw a sincere friend whom Peruvians connected with the solution of the Tacna- Arica difficulty.

There had been great disap- pointment when it was announced that he would be appointed Am- bassador to Poland.

President Leguia said "I person- ally regret Mr. Moore's death. He was not only my personal friend but a sincere friend to Peru. He loved our country, and I am sure I in- terpret the feelings of the Peruvian people in stating that everybody considers his death a loss for us."

MARITAL THEFT BONDS REGAINED

Delafield Pleads Guilty to Taking Securities

Rich Bay City Society Bride Was on Honeymoon

He Restores $35,000 Worth and Awaits Sentence

Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing $61,230 in stocks and bonds from Mrs. Mary Hoffman, wealthy San Francisco society woman, while they were on a honeymoon in New York City, Jack Delafield yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Wood and returned bonds valued at $35,000 to the complaining witness.

Judge Wood ordered the defen- dant to return to court on the 21st inst., when sentence will be pro- nounced. Charges of prior felony convictions against Delafield were dismissed after he pleaded guilty, which automatically will reduce the severity of the sentence.

The indictment charges that Del- afield, after marrying Mrs. Hoff- man in 1927, journeyed with her to New York City on their honeymoon after they had left her valuables in a safety deposit box in Los Ange- les.

While in New York City, it is charged, Delafield deserted his bride and hurried back to Los Angeles, where he removed the stocks and bonds and converted them to his own use. Mrs. Hoffman did not dis- cover the loss for several months, she told officers.

DOCTORS HEAR CANCER PLEA

jections you cannot help but be cer- tain that you have something of value.

"Is it a cure? We cannot say. We have been forced to take cases in their last stages—beyond the knife and hopeless, but we have seen almost unbelievable results.

"We know very well the criticism that may arise from within and without the profession, but all we ask of our profession is to abide in tolerance.

"We intend to place the extract in the hands of qualified men and universities. If they say we have not proven our case we will abide by their decision—until then, be tol- erant."

STILL EXPERIMENT

Dr. Humber, superintendent of the San Francisco Southern Pacific Hospital, of which Dr. Coffey is chief surgeon, also stressed the ex- perimental aspect of the newly de- veloped extract.

"We are endeavoring now to de- termine how long we should keep up treatment and to determine the most effective dosage," Dr. Humber explained. "We have been forced to keep our own meager records be- cause of the secrecy with which our experiments have been carried on.

"Within a few years I am certain we would have had many more defi- nite facts to present, but you are welcome to scrutinize all that we have now that the discovery of the extract has been made known pub- licly."

Dr. A. M. Moody, pathologist of the St. Francis Hospital of San Francisco, pointed out that the ten autopsies he has conducted on patients who were treated with the extract during their last days of life—from one to three weeks—did show that the extract softens tu- mors. In cases receiving injections more than two and one-half weeks he found that the growths were softened and sluffing had occurred.

Dr. George H. Kress, editor of the California and Western Medi- cine Journal, and former president of the California Medical Associa- tion, was toastmaster during the dinner meeting, introducing as the chairman of the evening Dr. Gran- ville MacGowan, chief of staff of California Hospital and also a former president of the State or- ganization.

Dr. MacGowan described Dr. Coffey as a "man who has nothing to sell, no promises to make, noth- ing on which to build a hope that may be dashed, and one who has the respect of the medical profes- sion."

The California Hospital in a written statement to the chairman of its malignancy board, Dr. Albert Soiland, offered the facilities of the hospital to the two northern doc- tors for a local clinic.

Dr. Coffey stated that he is not in a position at this time to locate such a clinic permanently here. He and Dr. Humber will leave this morn- ing for a honconference with Santa Barbara physicians and will con- tinue to San Francisco.

VICTIM RESPONDING FAVORABLY AT BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)— A bulletin issued by Dr. George K. Rhodes at St. Mary's Hospital to- day stated Mrs. Gertrude Edwins, brought here by plane Friday from Wenatchee, Wash., to obtain the new Humber-Coffey cancer serum, is "responding very favorably" to the blood transfusion of Saturday and "passed a good night."

"We are trying to give her all the nourishment possible," the bul- letin added, "to build up her sys- tem so that the extract will have a chance to work."

A second injection of the Coffey- Humber extract was to be given Mrs. Edwins later today, and a second blood transfusion was planned for tomorrow, said Dr. Rhodes, who is attending her dur- ing the absence in Los Angeles of Dr. Walter B. Coffey.

Don't let a case of halitosis jeopardize friendships, love af- fairs, and business relation- ships, as so many have done.

The intelligent and fastidi- ous precaution is to use full strength Listerine every day as a mouth rinse. It ends bad breath and im- proves mouth hygiene.

Kills germs—destroys odors

Full strength Listerine ends halitosis because it is an active germicide*, which attacks the germ conditions that produce odors. Then, being a powerful deodorant it destroys the odors themselves. Even the scent of onion and fish yield to it.

INQUEST HOLDS WIFE AS SLAYER

Mrs. Reynolds Accused in Killing of Husband

Forbidden by Attorney to Offer Testimony

Preliminary to be Monday With Bail Denied

Forbidden by her attorney to tes- tify, Mrs. Effie Reynolds, confessed slayer of her husband as he slept at home at 1009 West Eighth Place, last calmly by while the butcher- knife tragedy was re-enacted at the Coroner's inquest yesterday.

Only three witnesses were called, two of them nieces of the accused woman. They are Mrs. A. Mitchell and Mrs. J. L. Robinson, who for- mally identified the body.

Detective Lieutenant Ryan of the central homicide detail testified as to the finding of Reynolds's body with the knife lying near by when officers arrived at the scene of the tragedy last Friday. The killing occurred at 1009 West Eighth Place.

A verdict of "death by a knife wound inflicted with homicidal in- tention" was returned within a few minutes, and a formal complaint charging murder was filed immedi- ately by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Charles V.

Mrs. Reynolds had almost regained her composure when she appeared at the inquest, but suffered a relapse when returned to the County Jail, according to Matron Sullivan.

At the time of her arrest Mrs. Reynolds said she killed her husband because she feared he had fallen in love with Mrs. Helen Wesben of 456 East Forty-third street. Mrs. Wesben denies the charges that she and Reynolds were in love with each other.

A few minutes after the complaint was filed Mrs. Reynolds was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard, who fixed the 24th inst. as the date for her preliminary hearing. The defendant is held without bail.

NEW PORT PLAN PROJECTED

Belt Line Board Votes to Build Crossover Link to Effect Saving in Cargo Handling

Solution of the problem of avoiding duplication of operations in port cargo handling in the Wilmington area was sighted yesterday when the board of control of the Belt Line Railway voted to construct a crossover of trackage connecting the city's rails north of the Catalina Terminal with the Southern Pacific main line back of pier A, subject to approval by the city and the Southern Pacific.

General Manager Squires of the belt line wants the improvement in order to save $6967 annually, the estimated cost of the present duplication.

The board voted, under the plan, to reimburse the city and the Southern Pacific for the cost of the crossover, estimated at $11,200, by amortising the expense over the remaining life of the unified operation agreement, which has four years to run.

Most of the crossover would be on city land, making the city's share of the cost $9420, while that of the Southern Pacific would be $1780. In addition to being reimbursed by the belt line for the outlay, the trackage would become the property of the owners of the land.

The city representatives on the board and Pacific Electric voted approval of the plan, while W. K. Etter, for the Santa Fe, cast a dissenting vote. T. H. Williams, the Southern Pacific representative, was absent from the meeting. Since the city members are for it, the construction now depends on the approval of the Southern Pacific.

Squires pointed out the belt line could reimburse for the cost of the crossover and then save $17,000 by eliminating duplication of switching.

He reported that the total of cars handled by the belt line for January was 10,502, from which revenue to the city totaled $9157.

BATTLESHIP CURB ASKED BY PASTORS

Methodist Preachers Wire Hoover to Stand by His Original Policies

A request to President Hoover to stand by his original policy for the abolition of battleships was telegraphed yesterday by the Methodist preachers' meeting assembled at the First Methodist Episcopal Church. This action was authorized after an address by Dr. Lincoln Wirt, western secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War. He asserted that "the American delegation to the London naval conference evidently is not representative of the sentiments of President Hoover nor of the spirit of the citizens of the United States, who realise the price of the last terrible war."

Dr. W. A. Bovard, general secretary of the Methodist Church's board of education, said that science, business and religion are merging their activities in the interests of humanity, and that if commerce can internationalise its profit motive, Christian education can internationalize love, good will and unsenfish service. He declared for religious teaching in the schools.

Commendation of Brother Tom Liddecoat's twelve years of service at the Midnight Mission was voiced by Rev. R. Zurbuchen, chairman of a committee appointed to report on the work of that institution. He reported that through Brother Tom's influence more than 35,000 wayward men have been restored to society.

FILM STAR WILL OPEN AUTO SHOW

Mary Pickford in Person to Appear at Exposition in Shrine Auditorium

With a brief talk on the part played by the automobile in California's development, Mary Pickford next Saturday night will formally inaugurate the annual automobile show at the Shrine Auditorium, it was announced yesterday. She will appear about 9 p.m., the hour fixed for the formal ceremony.

Miss Pickford will assign to the Motion Picture Relief Fund, of which she is president, the fee to be paid her for making the personal appearance, according to show officials. In addition, she is marshalling other screen stars to make similar benefit appearances.

On the evening of every weekday during the run of the show, it is announced, one of the following stars will be present in the auditorium: John Barrymore, Bebe Daniels, Dolores Del Rio, Al Jolson and Norma Shearer.

Mother-in-Law of Buron Fitts Taken by Death

Death touched the home of Dist.-Atty. Buron Fitts early yesterday morning when Mrs. Loretta Gilchrist, mother of Mrs. Marion Fitts, died, unexpectedly at the Fitts residence, 8220 Marmont Lane, following a sudden attack of acute indigestion.

The body has been removed to the W. M. Strother funeral parlors, 6240 Hollywood Boulevard.

Mrs. Gilchrist was 66 years of age. She was morn at Lafayette, Ind. Besides her daughter, Mrs. Fitts, Mrs. Gilchrist leaves a daughter, Mrs. Louise Davis of Chicago, and a son, Jack Gilchrist of Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements will be announced today, Dist.-Atty. Fitts stated.

MISS MARY LEAHY WED

The marriage of Miss Mary Lucille Leahy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leahy, to Anthony Lanni, both of Los Angeles, was solemnized yesterday at 9 a.m. at St. Cecelia's Church, Forty-third street and Normandie avenue. Marjorie Leahy was the bridesmaid and Bert Koetters the best man. The bridegroom is a route man of the Los Angeles Times, and is a member of Hollywood Council, No. 2406, Knights of Columbus.

RELIGIOUS GROUP PLANS STRUCTURE

Mohammed Basheer

MOSQUE OF ISLAM MAY RISE HERE

Ahmadi Missioner Tells of Plans for Construction of Mohammedan Edifice

Plans for the erection of the Hollywood Mosque, a spiritual home for Mohammedans of Southern California, were discussed yesterday by Mohammed Basheer, Ahmadi missioner of the Ahmadiyya Movement in Islam, who lives at 1723 Whitley avenue.

"Southern California climate is particularly adaptable for the Islamic type of architecture, such as the Moorish, Algerian, North African or Mediterranean," said Mr. Basheer.

Hundreds of Indians, Japanese, Chinese, Filipinos, Persians, Syrians and Egyptians, followers of Islam, have expressed their desire to cooperate in building the proposed mosque, according to Mr. Basheer.

"There are 226,000,000 Moslems in the world," said Mr. Basheer, and the Koran now is published in forty languages."

LOS ANGELES BOY KILLED IN SAN DIEGO

Military Academy Student Victim of Auto Collision; Newsboy Victim Dies

Howard Raymond Vanderbush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Vanderbush, 431 North Lafayette Park Drive, was killed in an automobile crash at San Diego yesterday. Young Vanderbush was a sophomore at the Army and Navy Military Academy.

He was riding with Benjamin Rubin, a furniture man of San Diego, and Rubin's machine hit another driven by Cliff Maloy, 242 North Irving Boulevard, Los Angeles. Rubin said Maloy's machine stopped suddenly without warning. Maloy was detained by the San Diego Coroner pending an inquest.

Harry Levine, 10-year-old newsboy, who was struck by a woman hit-and-run driver at Melrose and Vine streets Sunday night, died at the General Hospital last night. The boy was selling papers at the corner and had stepped into the street. The driver apparently made no effort to stop. The lad lived at 4148 Fisher street.

I. Cohn, 86 years of age, of 1257 South Figueroa street, was probably fatally injured yesterday morning when he was struck by an automobile while walking across Figueroa street at Pico street. He was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and then sent to the Kaspare Cohn Hospital.

The car which struck Cohn was driven by Miss Clarice Schwech of 2256 Cambridge street, according to police.

While Harry Levine, 15, a newsboy, of 4148 Fisher street, Belvedere Gardens, lay at the Cenferal Hospital yesterday in a critical condition, police renewed their efforts to locate the woman hit-and-run driver whose car ran the boy down at Melrose avenue and Vine street late Sunday night. Levine suffered a skull fracture, police said.

The woman, witnesses stated, not only fled after her car had struck the boy, but had driven against the traffic signal in crossing the intersection.

STORK VISITS SCHUMACHERS

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Schumacher of 600 North Walden Drive, Beverly Hills, announce the birth of a daughter on Sunday at St. Vincent's Hospital. The baby is to be christened Anne Gertrude, according to Dr. Schumacher, who is president of Southwestern University, Los Angeles. Mrs. Schumacher, nee Miss Miriam Parker, was formerly supervisor of the secretarial department of Southwestern. Both mother and baby are doing nicely.

PAY RISE URGED FOR SUPERVISOR

Efficiency Bureau Makes Recommendation

Board Files Plea Citing Need of Charter Change

Attention Called to Growth Since Salary Setting

Recommending an increase in the salary of Supervisor from $5000 a year to $12,000 or $15,000 a year, the County Bureau of Efficiency yesterday addressed a communication to the Board of Supervisors urging that the proposal for a salary rise for board members be submitted to the county voters at the primary next August.

The resolution, however, was filed by the board without comment. It was pointed out that the salary of a Supervisor cannot be raised except through amendment of the county charter by the voters, and it would not become effective until approved by the State Legislature, which does not meet until next year.

In its resolution, the efficiency bureau sets forth that the present salary of $5000 a year for a Supervisor was fixed in 1913 when the population of the county was 725,000 as against a present estimated population of 2,500,000.

"We believe the citizens of the county are fair at heart and will recognize the great responsibilities resting on the shoulders of the administrators of the county government," the resolution declares.

The communication was signed by Commissioners Mattison, Mottern, Reid, Payne and Chappel.

WATER BOND PLEAS MADE AT MEETING

State Societies Addressed by Mayor's Representative on $38,800,000 Issue

The $38,800,000 water bond issue is of vital importance to the city, Jo Joplin, representing Mayor Porter, told a meeting of the Federated State Societies in the Leighton Cafeteria in the Arcade Building at noon yesterday. The City Council will be asked to set the election for May 6, he said. Outlining the need that exists, he declared the Mayor is anxious that the bonds be carried.

There was much discussion on the bond issue. Mr. Joplin said the Mayor is preparing a statement in favor of both the power and water bonds.

"There is now passing through the Owens River Aqueduct 270 second feet of water," said Joplin. "With the proposed bond issue 440 second feet of water, or almost twice the present supply, will be available."

He stated that the plans, when carried out, will prevent another such disaster as that of the St. Francis Dam.

CITY HALL'S "SHERLOCK" CONVICTED

Self-Styled Ex-Aide of Mayor to Be Sentenced Today as Peace Breaker

L. R. (Red) Foster, self-styled former investigator for Mayor Porter, was convicted of disturbing the peace of the City Hall on January 2, last, by an all-woman jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court yesterday after ten minutes' deliberation. He will be sentenced today.

Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday asked the court to dismiss vagrancy charges against Foster, which was done. Charles Heide, official of the Sunland Improvement Company, testified that as he was standing outside the Council chamber, Foster passed and made a remark in a low tone. When asked to repeat it, Foster became abusive and profane and raised his voice almost to a shout, Heide said. Several women present heard the profanity, he declared.

PHI KAPPA PSI GROUP TO HEAR DR. YOUNGSON

Dr. William Wallace Youngson, Methodist clergyman and civic leader of Portland, Or., is scheduled to appear as guest speaker tomorrow evening at the seventy-eighth anniversary banquet of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity at the Biltmore. He is a national officer of Knights Templar and a member of Phi Kappa Psi from Allegheny College.

Three past national presidents also will be among the guests, Orra E. Monnette and Shirley E. Meserve of Los Angeles, and Dan G. Swannell of Champagne, Ill. Entertainment will be presented by members of the fraternity, including Edward Everett Horton, Charles (Buddy) Rogers and Elliot Nugent.

PRIESTESS TO TAKE STAND

Blackburn Defense to Call Sect Leader to Tell Dealings Disciple Holds Fraudulent

May Otis Blackburn, self-styled "The Heel of God" and confidant of angels, author of the mysterious "Great Sixth Seal," supposedly containing the "secrets of the universe," probably will take the witness stand in her own defense today in Superior Judge Fricke's court, where she is charged with grand theft.

That she probably will be called to testify today was announced by Defense Attorney Cochrane as he drew near the finish of the direct examination of Ruth Angelina Wieland, Mrs. Blackburn's daughter, who has been on the stand since last Friday. "Mrs. Blackburn will be our last witness," he said.

Mrs. Blackburn is expected to tell her dealings with Clifford Dabney, complaining witness, who asserts he gave her $45,000 when she promised to reveal the secrets of the universe to him on divers dates that were eventually postponed because of upheavals in the solar system.

In her testimony yesterday Mrs. Blackburn denied many of Dabney's allegations. She denied that her mother told Dabney that he was the Christ or that she had been directed by the angels to a gold mine which would be located with the revelation of the "Great Sixth Seal."

WHAT SORT OF SAP?

Sap Is Running.—Headline. This may mean tree juice or it may have reference to a gentleman fleeing from a gold digger of whom he has been a victim.

HER SERENE HIGHNESS

Eastern critic bemoans the fact of "the calm attitude of supremacy assumed by the emancipated woman." Well, but who has a better right to drive down the middle of the road at ten miles an hour than this same emancipated fair one?

BIRTH OF A WORD

Florida has given birth to a new word, "Medfly," which, as it is so commonly used there, probably will be found in our dictionaries after a few years unless, as is sincerely to be hoped, we shall soon hear no more of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

A STATISTICAL DREAMER

A wet eastern newspaper says that, after careful computation, it has been found that there are no less than 1,250,000 speakeasies running wide open in this country. This might be considered something terrible if it were not obvious that, like so many wet statistics, the wish is father to the figures.

PERSONA NON GRATA

It appears that the authorities in Rumania do not approve of the presence in that country of Prince Carol at the coming nuptials of his sister, Ileana. And considering the married record, and others, of this gay Lothario, we should imagine he is hardly the figure to grace the tables at a marriage ceremony.

THE CHICAGO GHOST WALKS

First among the chosen to receive their back pay from the city of Chicago was its valiant Mayor, Big Bill Thompson. Big Bill was elected on the platform to keep King George out of Chicago and who will deny that he has kept this pre-election promise? Of course, the job was not a very difficult one but if the electors of Chicago thought it was worth the money, it is only right that they should pungle up. He done it noble!

AIR TRAVEL INCREASE

Universal Air Lines report a 1000 per cent increase in air travel for the month of January over the best month of 1929. The present status of the aviation business is now completely established as to speed and safety in competition with other forms of travel and transportation. Its future increase depends solely on the ability to lower rates. It was a lowering of the rates which brought about this phenomenal increase in the January business of Universal Air Lines.

THE PRESIDENT GANDHI

Gandhi's attempts to bring about a revolution in India without open violence continue. In his latest campaign he has strengthened his cause by changing the old name "nonco-operation" to the more emphatic one "civil disobedience." But strong names alone are not likely to get Gandhi very far, especially when opposed by officials who have no scruples about employing physical violence to stamp out appeals to lawlessness and incitements to riot and disorder.

HELPING CHINESE CHILDREN

Seven acres of barren land just outside the wall of Nanking between Purple Mountain and Jade Lake are to be used as the site of a child welfare demonstration center by two affiliated organizations, one American and the other Chinese. The Chinese government presented the land to the National Child Welfare Association of China. The association has established a clinic which has been crowded of late by mothers with children afflicted with various maladies, among them anemia produced by underfeeding. The children of China have great need of help, and it is their suffering which has led to the establishment of the clinic and the plans for the welfare center.

TIME TO GET TOGETHER

Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, evincing impatience at the failure of the lower-basin States to reach an agreement, now serves notice that he will go ahead and let his power contracts to provide money for the building of the Colorado River dam at Black Canyon, commonly known as Boulder Dam. This means that Arizona will probably sue to prevent the carrying out of the plan, which may tie the matter up in the courts for a year or so, perhaps more. In the meantime California is preventing any possible agreement with Arizona because her own commissioners cannot agree.

Specifically, the disagreement is caused by the demand of the Imperial Irrigation District for 4,400,000 acre feet of water yearly, which is all the guaranteed water the whole State is to get from the river under any probable agreement with Arizona, while the Metropolitan Water District needs 1,100,000 acre feet yearly and would not be justified in going ahead with aqueduct and power contract plans with much less. If all the Metropolitan Water District share comes from the guaranteed share of the State, there will still be 3,300,000 acre feet for Imperial Valley, which is more than that section can economically use for years and years, perhaps forever. The present consumption there is approximately 2,000,000 acre feet, but much land has been overirrigated and the section would be benefited by using less. It is probable 3,500,000 acre feet will provide an abundant supply for all the land that can profitably be cultivated.

But since all estimators agree there will be a large surplus, 3,300,000 acre feet is not all Imperial Valley can have if she needs more, in all probability. The Metropolitan Water District also can count on help from the surplus. On the surface, it would seem that if the Metropolitan Water District is allotted 1,000,000 acre feet and Imperial Valley 3,400,000 acre feet, each agreeing to take a chance on the surplus for the remainder required, if any, both should be well satisfied.

There are several reasons why this would be an excellent arrangement for Imperial Valley. One of the strongest is that the territory of the Metropolitan Water District is the nearest and best large market for Imperial Valley products. It now has a consuming public of 2,000,000 and if it is able to get additional water from the Colorado will quickly have 3,000,000 or more. Obviously it is to Imperial's selfish interest to do anything it properly can to speed the growth of the Metropolitan Water District.

The Metropolitan district and the Imperial district are in reality not far apart, and there are indications that they would be in agreement now but for some stubborn pride of opinion. Colorado River control is an absolute necessity for Imperial Valley, not because it would provide additional water, but because it would prevent flood disaster. And if there is to be Colorado River control, Los Angeles and surrounding territory will have to pay for it.

Water is needed by the Metropolitan Water District, but may be found elsewhere than in the Colorado if necessity requires. We do not have to have more power from the Colorado, except possibly for pumping.

It is not too late for the Metropolitan and the Imperial districts to compose their differences and seek an agreement with Arizona that will at least settle the water division and avoid a court fight. This would smooth the path of appropriations through Congress and get construction under way. The government helps those who help themselves.

COOLIDGES ARE WELCOME

Former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge are welcome guests of California on their first visit to the Pacific Coast. The reception they got at the Central Station yesterday morning, while probably more elaborate than Mr. Coolidge desired, was modest when Southern California's genuine esteem for him is considered.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge are here for pleasure and recreation. Attempts to create a political significance for this visit do not accord with California hospitality, since no doubt they would be offensive to Mr. Coolidge. It is to be hoped also he will be spared too much enthusiastically proffered entertainment. He says he would much prefer to see Southern California quietly and he should be taken at his word.

Its contrast to the New England with which he is more familiar will be less striking than if he had come here direct instead of by way of Florida, but he will doubtless be able to recall that mid-February, in Vermont, is the deepest depth of winter.

But in this Southland, which aided in assuring his nomination for the Presidency in 1924 by giving him its delegation in the face of a candidacy from the State, Mr. Coolidge may feel, if not wholly at home, at least among warm friends. No matter how he prolongs his stay, he will not wear out his welcome.

BROMIDE BUSTERS

C. F. Kettering is the champion bromide buster of American business. Mr. Kettering is general manager of the General Motors Research Corporation. The business of his department is to keep the customers dissatisfied, is his revolutionary remark.

Satisfied customers kill business. After executing the old bromide about satisfied customers, he says General Motors does not pay people for what they know, but for intelligent ignorance.

For some time our personal reactions have been that somebody was being paid for sitting up at night trying to figure out how to make us dissatisfied with the old bus. Just when we become adjusted to disk wheels, wire is run in on us. And when we have become used to the hum of six cylinders, eights and twelves come along and now sixteens are about to make us ashamed of our bucking broncho.

About the time the old model has been scratched and banged enough to make it comfortable to ride in without fear of damage, a new underslung, streamline model captures the back seat and urgent requests are made for us to scrap our present institution. There will never be permanent and universal peace until research departments cease making households dissatisfied.

Now the experts are telling us that the gasoline we get needs to be doctored. And we are slyly informed that we get only about 8 per cent of the power from it, anyhow. The remaining 92 per cent goes off in smoke and smell.

About the time we convince ourselves that forty miles an hour is fast enough for any respectable human to drive, some Mephistopheles whispers in our ear that if fine express highways were constructed to run around town, we could go like sixty all the time.

THE LOGGERHEAD
By James J. Montague

Contentment is the noblest goal,
Great thinkers tell us, of the soul.

Our ultimate delight we find
In calm unruffled peace of mind.

A life of quietness and ease
With no ambitions to appease,

No lust of gold to satisfy
No worries to be troubled by.

The loggerhead must therefore be Far happier than you or me.

No beast of prey can very well
Dislodge him from his steely shell,

Among the tide-swept waving weeds
He picks up all the food he needs.

In some well-hidden mangrove patch,

And he need feel no perturbation
About their future education.

Aloof from worldly cares and strife,
He leads a gentle, ideal life.

But, though we find existence grim,
I do not think we'd trade with him.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

FOR a while we thought that Hollywood was going Russian. A studio magnate told us that Russia was the country of greatest interest to the whole motion-picture fraternity and some stray bit of Russian influence was noticeable nearly everywhere. If it wasn't in the show, as in "The Rogue Song," it was in the curtain raiser or the vaudeville or what the orchestra did.

Then the Pasadena Playhouse came along with "The Armored Train" and most of the Russian colony in Hollywood went to see it. In the program for that performance was printed a news item: The Russian law forbids the making of unjustified claims for either play or players! There you cannot advertise a show as "the hit of the season" or "the show everyone is talking about." You may quote what any person of distinction has said of a play, or mention any prizes or honors won by play or players, but no statement may be made which might give the public an undue impression of the performance's importance.

Realizing what havoc anything similar might create in Hollywood, a strong sentiment against Russian influences has set in.

Cadman Keeps Growing

Charles Wakefield Cadman has just received another honor, an official notification from the National Federation of Music Clubs that the final tabulation of its vote to select the twenty leading American musicians shows he was one of the five composers chosen, the others being Deems Taylor, Edgar Stillman Kelley, John Philip Sousa and John Alden Carpenter. The other musicians chosen were performers and singers. Among the twenty chosen, Cadman stood second in the voting. Thirty-seven States, Hawaii and Alaska participated in the voting. Tablets to the twenty musicians selected will be placed in the new concert hall of the Barbizon-Plaza Art and Music Center in New York.

The affection of all America for this Los Angeles composer is evident to anyone who listens to radio programs from all parts of the country. Cadman's "Land of the Sky Blue Water" has taken place with the world's immortal music and there is no part of America in which any audience does not hear announcement of one of his compositions with pleasure.

Warning to Mere Men

You may join the Navy to see the world, but you'll have to join a woman's club to know it. We don't like to be an alarmist, but every time we visit a woman's club we feel that unless we men wake up we're going to be a long way behind pretty soon. The club women of Southern California are studying history, literature, art, music and even politics far more effectively and systematically than their men folks are. We can remember, only a few years ago, when we men used to say that women never could understand politics; and now we believe the average club woman in Southern California—the average one, mind you,—knows more of international politics than her husband does. He has only a vague idea of what is happening in England, Russia, Italy and the Orient, while she has a lot of concrete knowledge. She doesn't have time to even study laws which are coming up before the State Legislature, but she and her club have heard them analyzed. The other day we heard a man who has held political office ask his wife how he ought to vote on a certain measure and he was serious. He didn't know, but knew she did.

Small Town Clubs of Yesterday

We remember the fun we got out of the first small-town woman's club we ever "contacted." It was, of course, a literary club. It met twice a month to discuss cultural subjects—but spent most of its time discussing the refreshments, which were so ample that there wasn't a healthy woman in town, above the age of 30 who had a modern waistline. The president knew her Shakespeare, but only by ear. She had witnessed a performance of "Hamlet." She had been struck by the comparison of Hyperion to a satyr. And so, in addressing the club, she said, of something: "It compares like a criterion to a satire." And nobody else who was present that day knows yet why we suddenly busted out laughing and almost choked to death on a quarter-section of devil's food cake. Another prominent member was very literary, only she never could remember whether Dickens or Thackeray wrote "Ivanhoe."

We thought of that the other day when we were part of the program at the La Crescenta Woman's Club. La Crescenta isn't as big as was the midwestern town where we met our first club. But it has a lot of culture. Hanson Puthoff, the artist, lives there, and he is only one of several. Lawrence Tibbett spent the happiest years of his life there. It has a chorus which sings ambitious things well, and violinists and soloists of various kinds. And the feature of the show that afternoon was the impersonation of the wives of American Presidents since Martha Washington by club members, each dressing and acting her part and telling her own story—which, of course, meant there had been a lot of research.

It happened to be "reciprocity day" and delegations from many other clubs were present. There were hundreds of small-town women there. But if they'd heard any speaker refer to "Shakespeare's comparison of a criterion to a satire" every blessed one of them, too, would have choked on her cake.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

CAUSED BY LEADERS, NOT WORKERS
(Industry and Labor)

There is no fight between capitalists—a common term for manufacturers and all employers of labor—and laboring men and women. There never has been such a fight—and there never will be. Originally there was a fight between the labor union leaders and the employers. And this fight has continued pretty steadily for several years.

But the reports about murders, conspiracies, assaults, etc., have changed the fight. It now seems to be, in many cases, between the government and the labor leaders.

Laboring men and women are all right; always have been all right; simply because they are plain, everyday honest workers who want only what is coming to them—and they will henceforth fare much better if they do more straight thinking for themselves instead of listening to and being led astray by self-styled leaders.

But the union leaders, not the workers, have from the first been vicious in many ways—and have been causing all the trouble, leading industrious men into the wageless waters of protracted strikes.

The leaders are responsible for the policies which are wrecking the unions; that an employer may hire only union men; that raw materials must be purchased from only certain concerns; that a man may do only a certain amount of work in a day, and that young men may learn trades only on approval of the unions.

PRISON RIOTS PROVE NOTHING
[Minneapolis Journal]

Because imprisoned criminals want to get out so badly that they are ready to risk their lives in mutinies, as demonstrated in five major instances of penitentiary rioting in the last few months, numerous writers in the daily and periodical press are expressing the conviction that there must be something seriously wrong with our prisons.

The evidence is inconclusive. If penitentiary life was so productive of satisfaction and contentment that no convict was ever willing to risk his life in an attempt to get out, then, indeed, would there be something wrong with our prisons. For, the moment penal activity loses all its terrors for the criminally inclined, then penal captivity also fails signally as a crime deterrent.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

The Dairyman's Side

HEMET (Cal.) Feb. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I think the other side of the milk situation should be presented. The impression that milk is to be destroyed has arisen because in your paper this half-baked idea of a few nit-wit agitators was given headlines, while the constructive plan of the responsible heads of the industry was relegated to the last paragraph.

The surplus of milk appears no greater now than in past seasons, but for the first time all branches of the industry are united to care for it. The producers shipping to Los Angeles are handicapped by lack of natural pasture. With almost all feed raised on expensive irrigated land they cannot produce butter except at a loss and must depend on the retail milk business for a reasonable profit. But to keep this market supplied it is always necessary to have some surplus, which is sold at a loss for churning. When this surplus is too great it disorganizes the whole industry.

The milk producer owns his cows, pays all expenses of feed, labor, rent, even freight to the city distributor, and gets from 7 to 8 cents a quart. To cut the price even 2 cents would put 90 per cent of them out of business. The distributor gets another 7 cents for pasteurizing, bottling and delivering to the user. This seems high, but we don't know all his troubles, so we won't criticise him.

There seems to be little chance for cheaper feed in the future and the dairyman can lower his production costs only by getting higher producing cows, which is a slow process, taking the industry as a whole. Perhaps the distributors can find a way to cut their costs of operation. In the meantime, folks, let's not bust into print demanding that some other fellow get less for his product, especially when we don't know the difficulties under which he labors.

C. B. MARTIN,
A Dairyman.

The Rock of Ages

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] That John Grier Hibben's announcement of his belief in a personal God has achieved the front page and is the theme for editorial comment throughout America warrants a Times writer in concluding that such belief is uncommon among leading schoolmen. Fundamentalists and the orthodox in general will naturally rejoice that Princeton's president is a defender of the faith.

But I am afraid that the philosophers and the biologists in the colleges, with few exceptions, will class with the gesture of Canute their Princeton colleague's attempt to stem the tide of academic thought and teaching. Your contributor accurately quotes from my "Blasting at the Rock of Ages," prepared as a result of a study of what was being taught in colleges.

It caused a sensation which was renewed when Dr. Harry Elmer Barnes declared before the American Association for the Advancement of Science: "The old idea of God has had its day." Dr. Barnes added that he still retained some idea of a cosmic God, but that it was nebulous.

Dr. Howard Madison Parshly, biologist, also of Smith College, in his new work, "Science and Behavior," banishes from the universe all idea of an Over-ruling Spirit or spirits. They recede, he says, as knowledge advances.

The Churchman is quoted as saying: "What Blasting at the Rock of Ages" set forth as revolutionary has in the ensuing quarter of a century become the teaching of every theological seminary of any standing in America!"

Now the sensational thing about the new philosophy, which Dr. Hibben by announcement of his belief in God seeks to check, is that it takes human conduct out of the hands of the Infinite and puts it entirely under the control of mankind. "Morality," says the new teaching, "must find its own sanction in human happiness and welfare."

HAROLD BOLCE.

A Correction

CLAREMONT, Feb. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I thank you for printing in the Los Angeles Times of February 10 an article entitled, "Chinese Need American Aid."

In that article you quote Prof. J. S. Burgess as saying, "The only authentic instance of misdirection of famine relief (out of a sum of $620,000 sent by the China Famine Relief of America) was where starving Chinese raided a famine office and took $113,000 worth of grain."

Prof. Burgess said "$113 worth of grain."

Please make this correction in the editorial page, as the other statement is extremely misleading and might deter many people from contributing further famine relief funds.

CHIEF JUSTICES

BY JANE FREDERICKSON

With the storm over regarding the confirmation by the Senate of the appointment by President Hoover of Charles Evans Hughes as Chief Justice of the United States, it is interesting to note that two other of the ten who have occupied the chair of Chief Justice went into office following even more bitter fights than characterized the placing of Justice Hughes at the head of the courts of the country.

Both Roger B. Taney and Salmon P. Chase became Chief Justices only after much agitation, if not actual quarreling, in the Senate. Taney, appointed Chief Justice by Andrew Jackson, had been rejected by the Senate after appointments as Secretary of the Treasury and as Associate Justice, and was confirmed Chief Justice in 1836 only after a bitter fight. After his decision in the Dred Scott case he was burned in effigy.

There was also much opposition to the confirmation of Salmon P. Chase, appointed by Abraham Lincoln, but his friends finally brought about his being given the coveted office. He was Chief Justice from 1864 to 1873. Justice Chase had a daughter, Kate, who was the Alice Roosevelt of her day. She married William Sprague, famous war Governor of Rhode Island. Kate Chase Sprague was one of the three famous women politicians of the United States, the other two being Dolly Madison, whose influence in high places continued from the close of the Revolutionary War to the repeal of the Missouri conference, over a period of sixty years; and Alice Roosevelt Longworth, whose sway is not yet over.

Former Chief Justices who served in the order named are: John Jay, Oliver Ellsworth, John Marshall, Roger Taney, Salmon P. Chase, Morrison R. Wait, Melville W. Fuller, Edward D. White and William H. Taft. Following John Jay, John Rutledge was appointed and served a short time, but his appointment was not confirmed.

BOOKS AND CULTURE

BY FAITH HOLMES HYERS

The fact that Los Angeles is rapidly becoming a center of philosophical thought, a magnet to artists, writers, actors and scientists, is but the logical sequence of an increasing demand for the esthetic and educational by the people who have built up this favored city.

Nowhere is the demand for cultural opportunities felt more than at the Public Library, which might well be likened to a barometer of the cultural and educational ups and downs of the community. The fact that the Los Angeles Public Library offers a collection of 1,000,000 books and that our library in the West ranks third in public library circulation in the country speaks volumes (no pun intended) for the culture-mindedness of Los Angeles.

Much could be said of the rise in quality in reading revealed by library records, and the steady spread of interest in scientific, philosophical and informational books as well as books of art and music. But the most spectacular evidence of public response to opportunities for contact with fine minds and for viewing exhibits of modern art and craftsmanship is found in the groups of people who daily attend the library's free lecture and exhibit program. More than 60,000 people attended the library's free lecture program last year.

Dull, indeed, would be the community that did not furnish eager audiences for such library programs as the series called Community School of Philosophy given by professors of philosophy who have devoted their lives to the study of philosophers and are among the leaders of thought today; and strange it would be if audiences were wanting, in this cosmopolitan city, for the lectures in French, German and Spanish by professors of these languages, presenting the contemporary literatures of these countries!

Ready audiences, too, are found for a series on "Our Changing World" presenting economical aspects of Russia, Italy, England and South America, or for the various lectures on popular science.

These series are all made possible by the public-spirited generosity of members of the faculties of our local universities and colleges. Other educators, city officials and a number of prominent speakers have contributed individual lectures and series. The library board sponsors two book-reviewing series which are aimed to acquaint the public with the best in current literature and these are popular guides in selection of reading.

Art exhibits offered at the library, not only constitute a free gallery to many who have not acquired the art-gallery habit, but also afford local artists an opportunity for a showing. Certainly no one who "listens-in" on the manifold activities of the Public Library for a day or a week, can doubt that Los Angeles is "culture-minded."

A HINT TO THE ELDERLY

Those of you 40 years of age or beyond must have frequently observed that you greatly bore the young, says E. W. Howe.

At a recent family dinner there were present a daughter of 16 and a son of 14. The other guests were very nice men and women, apparently, but how we imposed on those young people with our conversation! They were good children, and tried to enjoy us, but I frequently caught them writhing in polite agony.

When I was a boy, if children didn't enjoy the improving conversation of the elderly, the children were whipped as soon as the company went home.

Ey the way, if you are 40, you are elderly: one scientist is quoted as recommending that all of that age and over be chloroformed as useless.

There's one way the nations can bury the hatchet. They can appoint a commission to investigate it.

Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn their failure to get the license number.

Blessed are the poor! They just keep on working and a cold wears off instead of knocking them out for a week.

The easiest way to avoid quarrels over the division of family income is for one partner to suspect nothing.

Even the go-getter has a romantic streak that fondly calls his first million and his first nervous breakdown.

Let us be thankful for the law of averages. The banks needn't support a crew of bondholders to make it work.

Praise Allah! National and State lawmakers soak us, but town authorities haven't yet thought of an income tax.

Americanism: Teaching the kids that "taxation without representation" was wicked; electing Representatives by districts instead of population, so that five city men who pay the tax are outvoted by one countryman.

Funny men! The watchman in charge of government waste is humble, yet an official who handles other people's money always feels important.

Mr. Hoover prefers California oranges, despite a gift sent to plane from Florida.

The homesick wanderer can always get some reminder of home. He can get rotten telephone service everywhere.

It wouldn't do for everybody to be rich, Mr. Raskob. People can't appreciate two good legs until they see a cripple.

Aristocrats never produce culture. They merely buy it from talented commoners who produce it.

But why travel when you haven't yet learned to recognize the trees, birds and minerals in your own township?

Correct this sentence: "I am a mere instrument of justice," said the judge, "and my own beliefs and prejudices never affect my rulings."

The fact that virtue is its own reward never influences a man to be a good thing.

Some men create the impression that they are going to begin at the bottom and work down.

TRAFFIC PERIL

Each day some people are run down and slain by cars in someone's town. Each day the crowner holds his quest, and some poor gent is laid to rest. The grave inclines mangled swains, while undertakers count the gains. And now some stern officials rise, determination in their eyes, and say to judges and police, "This sort of thing will have to cease. The death list grows by bounds and leaps, as every block a widow weeps. Bring in the reckless drivers now, and give them all the laws allow. And bring the drivers soaked with gin, whose conduct is a mortal sin. Bring every brash and locoed gent who figures in an accident." We have such spasms now and then; the courts are filled with sad-eyed men who draw such drastic penalties as make the blood within them freeze. A man draws down a heavy fine for parking slightly out of line; one goes to prison for a year for driving after drinking beer; one has to dig up loads of coin for practising the hit and run. This system would be well enough if it forever were the stuff, if violators of the laws were always given ample cause to curse the day on which they made our well-known statutes with scorn fade. But all these spasms soon expire; the cops in time begin to tire of dragging victims to the dock, where they are due to get a shock. The worthy jurists find it hard to hand out justice by the yard, to send some fellow up for life who has nine children and a wife. And when the spasms die away, the felon who had to pay excessive fines, or go to jail, of tyrants rails, and swear and wail.

BERMAN JAILED VOWS TO TALK

Judge Tappaan Cites Him on Contempt Charges

Fitts Aide Called to Cell for Julian Conference

Federal Angle Promised in Stock Debacle Tale

Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, from a cell in the County Jail late yesterday, took the first steps toward what he said would "blow the lid from the Julian case."

Berman was in jail because he refused yesterday morning to answer certain questions put to him in Superior Judge Tappaan's court, where a deposition was being taken in the $15,000,000 Julian stockholders' suit against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of local stockholders.

CONFERS WITH STEWART

"These fellows have run me around enough," snapped Berman shortly after his incarceration. "I've been trying to protect them and nobody is doing anything for me. Here goes the works."

He sent a message to the District Attorney's office that promptly brought Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart to the jail, where the two went into conference.

After the discussion ended Stewart declined to give details, but intimated that developments probably will follow as soon as Dist.-Atty. Fitts, called from his office by the death of his mother-in-law, returns on Thursday or before.

Berman, however, found more difficulty in concealing his annoyance at being in jail.

WILL TALK "PLENTY"

"As soon as Fitts gets back I'm going to talk and talk plenty," he asserted.

He declared it probable that U. S. Atty. McNabb would be called into the conference Thursday, as there will be Federal angles to the things he is about to reveal.

From what little Berman was willing to say yesterday, it is indicated that he probably intends to draw many new names of well-known persons into the Julian affair and probably further involve S. C. Lewis, former president of the defunct oil corporation.

HE EXPECTS FREEDOM

Berman was booked in the County Jail on the contempt charges shortly after noon yesterday and hoped all day to be released on a writ of habeas corpus from the Appellate Court. However, Otto Christensen, his attorney, was unable to draw the necessary documents "in time to present them to the court yesterday. The battle to free Berman, however, will begin again this morning.

"If I get out on the writ," said Berman, "it will take sixty days or more to decide the legal question involved and after what I will have to tell Fitts and McNabb Thursday I can answer any questions they want to ask before two months have elapsed."

ON TWO COUNTS

The commitment under which Berman was locked in the County Jail contains two separate counts as it was signed by Judge Tappaan. On the first count Berman was committed for two days only, but on the second he was ordered to jail until ready and willing to answer the questions which had been propounded to him.

An affidavit made by Berman and delivered to H. B. Chesaber, one of the defendants in the stockholders' suit and about which the former oil-stock operator refused to answer questions or maintained that he could not remember, drew the two-day sentence.

Commenting on this part of the complaint the court said that Berman "willingly gave false testimony."

INDEFINITE TERM

The second count of the commitment had to do with Berman's refusal to answer certain questions which grew out of another deposition given by him some time ago in another law action. The deposition in question covered much of the ground involved in the present action but Berman elected to stand on his constitutional rights when again questioned regarding his various stock transactions and was then held in contempt by Judge Tappaan. Under this section of the commitment Berman can be held in the County Jail until he is ready to testify.

Most of yesterday morning was taken up in Judge Tappaan's court with the Berman matter and the commitment was not signed until almost noon. Shortly thereafter Court Bailiff Coviello led Berman away to the County Jail and delivered him to the custody of the Sheriff.

LEWIS THEN CALLED

With Berman out of the way Lewis was called to the witness stand for cross-examination at the hand of Walter K. Tuller, counsel for the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, and will also be examined by other attorneys for the various brokers named as defendants in the suit.

All of Lewis's direct examination was finished some days ago by Attorneys Crump and Lewinson, acting for the plaintiffs, during which he laid most of the blame for the crash of the Julian Petroleum Corporation at the door of Berman, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a number of local brokers.

Almost as soon as the cross-examination got under way Lewis became involved in controversy with Tuller and for the greater part of yesterday afternoon spent the time delivering orations relative to his actions in attempting to assist the former stockholders of the Julian corporation.

Late in the afternoon counsel on both sides fell to bickering when Tuller branded most of Lewis's testimony as "nothing but an oration and not answers to any questions."

Court ended for the day with a discussion going on between Tuller and Lewis as to the latter's position relative to the stock exchange and to whether the former oil man was attempting to ruin that organization.

Testimony in answer to questions put by Tuller disclosed the fact that Lewis had collected some $12,000 with which to help pay attorneys' fees in the suit against the stock exchange. Some of the money, according to Lewis, came from his personal funds.

From indications of counsel yesterday it would appear that Lewis probably will be on the stand all the rest of this week and part of next.

ACTRESS AND STUDIO MAKE-UP MAN TO WED

Ethlyne Clair, film actress, and Ern Westmore, director of make-up at the R.-K.-O. studios, yesterday signified their intention to marry.

Westmore gave his age as 27 years and Miss Clair said she was 22. She was a "Wampas baby star" of 1929.

The couple will be married at 6 o'clock Friday night at the West Hollywood Presbyterian Church, Rev. John C. E. Fry officiating. At 7 the same night they will be guests of honor at the Breakfast Club.

Attorney Reuben Licker, who accompanied the couple to the Courthouse and will be an usher at their wedding, obtained divorces for both parties recently. Miss Claire formerly was married to Lansdale Hanshaw and Westmore was divorced from Mrs. Veoda Westmore.

LURI'S SECOND TRIAL ON FINGERPRINTS SET

Superior Judge Hardy yesterday fixed March 13 as the date for retrial of Ben Luri, charged with attempting to bribe a police officer to destroy fingerprint records of several Los Angeles bootleggers. The jury which heard the first trial was discharged after failing to reach a verdict.

Olcott S. Bulkley Resigns Lancaster Post for Federal Job

Resignation of Justice of the Peace Olcott S. Bulkley of Lancaster, oldest justice in point of service in the State, was accepted yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. Attorney John F. For thirty-eight years Justice Bulkley served the valley township as justice of the peace, resigning to accept a position as bailiff in the Federal District Court here. His resignation becomes effective March 1.

TEST ENDS TOMORROW IN OIL FLOW

Report on Three Fields Will be Prepared for New Fact-Finding Committee

With the six-day flow test for the Santa Fe Springs, Signal Hill and Seal Beach fields ending tomorrow at 8 a.m., preparations are under way to compile figures and reports for the fact-finding committee which will meet Friday at 10 a.m. at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Incomplete returns yesterday failed to set a definite production figure for either of the three fields, but reports placed Santa Fe Springs with a yield averaging approximately 230,000 barrels of oil per day and Signal Hill with a flow of about 151,000 barrels. Seal Beach has been expected to climb to about 38,000 barrels per day for the test.

W. E. Dunlap of the Richfield Oil Company is chairman of the fact-finding committee. The committee's duty is to assemble all facts of interest pertaining to operators in so far as curtailment is concerned and to act in an advisory capacity to the general committee headed by P. N. Boggs of the Union Oil Company. The group was organized more than a week ago when it was learned that the principal operators of oil-producing fields in the Los Angeles basin had not lived up to the agreement calling for curtailed production, and requested that a flow test be made in order to establish a new potential.

A new potential of 64,579 barrels per day has been established for the Elwood field and operators there have been requested to cut 40 per cent. The new allowable for Elwood now is 37,362 barrels per day for the period from the 13th to 28th inst., inclusive, the percentage of cut to be applied to the Santa Fe Springs, Signal Hill and Seal Beach fields will be determined when the fact-finding committee meets.

GAS-WASTE ACT DEFENDED AT HEARING

California's new Gas and Oil Conservation Act, drafted to stop the waste of natural gas in the oil fields of the State, is plain enough for everybody to understand, Attorney James S. Bennett, representing the State, argued yesterday during the hearing of injunction proceedings to prevent leakages in the Santa Fe Springs field. When the Legislature passed the law, Bennett declared, it was the intent to stop oil operators from wasting gas needed for future production of petroleum; and there need be no quibbling between lawyers over the words "unreasonable waste," written in the act.

"The word 'unreasonable,' which has been spoken of so often here during this hearing, in connection with the inference that the new act is too vague to be enforced, could be left out," said Bennett. "Waste is waste."

Attorney Bennett is expected to finish his arguments today, answering those of Attorneys Neil McCarthy, Walter Haas and William B. Murphy, representing some of the oil companies opposing the injunction. Superior Judge Haslett then will decide whether the new act is constitutional.

Miss Campbell to Be Honored

A movement to perpetuate remembrances of the good works of Miss Estelle Helen Campbell, scion of an old California family who died last week, is under consideration among Miss Campbell's acquaintances in Esperanza Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and Sunshine Club.

Miss Campbell was the daughter of Charles D. Campbell and Isabella Gallado Carrillo Campbell and not the grand-daughter of Isabella Campbell as erroneously was announced at the time of the funeral Saturday. Isabella was the wife of Charles and not the wife of Robert Campbell as the announcement mistakenly said.

Among the lovely affairs of recent date was the valentine luncheon with which Mrs. John B. Holtzclaw entertained Friday afternoon at the Town House, the table being elaborately decorated, with two large vases and two compotes in rare antique Dresden forming the principal note, combined with a pink heart-shaped box, filled with a profusion of pink roses and garlands of sweet peas connecting the tall pink candles and compotes.

The place cards were Dresden cupids. A feature of the afternoon was the taking of motion pictures of the guests in the gardens after luncheon.

Bridge was played later in the card room. Those included were Mrs. S. A. Gulberson, Mrs. William Magee, Mrs. J. A. H. Kerr, Mrs. A. B. Jones, Mrs. John Knorpp, Mrs. A. Michael-Charlton

Miss Emeline Mae Michael, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Michael of 5173 Hollywood Boulevard, was married at 8 p.m. the 7th inst. in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather to Harold Charlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Charlton of 2219 Wall street. Rev. Hardy Ingham read the ceremony in the presence of 100 guests.

Gowned in eggshell silk lace over satin, the bride carried an armful of Golden Ophelia roses, lilies and sweet peas, and was assisted by Miss Viola Forncrook, who wore green satin and tulle and carried pink blossoms. Louis Goman served Mr. Charlton as best man, and Richard Michael and Frank Buckles were ushers.

The bride was educated in Portland, Or., while Mr. Charlton recently came here from Denver, Colo. They will make their home in Los Angeles.

Return From Florida

Ensign and Mrs. Paul H. Ramsey (Isabelle Turton) have returned from Pensacola, Fla., where the former has just completed his navy aviation studies, and are the guests of Mrs. Ramsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Turton, at 6786 Whitley Terrace, Hollywood. The wedding of Ensign and Mrs. Ramsey was an event of last April in St. James' Episcopal Church.

Sorority Dance

One of the most delightful of recent sorority affairs was the dance with which Gamma chapter of Delta Delta Gamma entertained Saturday evening the 8th inst., at the Beverly Hills Women's Club, with approximately 200 couples in attendance.

The White Rutt orchestra furnished music for dancing, playing for a contest in which two cups were presented to Miss Marian Davis and her partner, winners, and for three specialty dances.

Assisting the sorority president, Miss Virginia Kirkpatrick, as hostesses for the affair, were Mrs. Charlotte Morgan and Misses Germaine Bouche, Mary Caffray, Helen Irvin, Peggy Hickman, Lucille Launder, Evelyn Moore, Marion McQuigg, Florence McQuigg, Marguerite Van De Merlen, Lois Wills, Trixie Robinette, Josephine Larsen, Alice Ehrman and Frankie Hickman.

For Bride-elect

In honor of Miss Jackie R. Estin, whose marriage to Mac C. Sandler of Chicago will be an event of the later part of this month, Miss Rose Harris was hostess at a bridge party and shower Saturday afternoon of last week in her home at 1040 Sentinel avenue. Assisting Miss Harris were Mrs. Dolly Marks and Miss Sylvia Estin, while guests included the Misses Betty Ckin, Marion Wilder, Jean Raskin, Bess Jaffe, Lena Greenstein, Rae Rosenthal, Rose Rosenthal, Fritzie Rosenbloom, Rose Behm, Rose Grabiner, Pauline Epstein, Anne Schuster, Reah Pearlman and Ida Harris.

Betrothal Announced

Miss Beatrice Raeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Raeth of North Fairmont street, Burbank, announced her engagement to James Conrad Scullin of Alhambra at a luncheon given at her home Saturday afternoon. Red and white flowers adorned the house and red and white were the colors used in table appointments. Suspended over the luncheon table was an airplane from which red ribbons led to tiny mail bags concealing the interesting news. Covers were placed for twenty guests.

Miss Raeth is a native of Wisconsin and with her parents lived in Glendale where she attended school; just recently they moved to Burbank where she has been teaching at the Lincoln school. She was graduated from U.C.L.A. and is a member of Phi Omega Pi Sorority. Mr. Scullin was graduated from California Institute of Technology. The wedding will be a June event.

Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Alice Louise Care, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Care of 3463 Atwater avenue, to Charles F. Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richards of Perlita avenue, was solemnized the 8th inst., the ceremony taking place in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Glendale, with Judge Frank P. Collier officiating.

The bride wore a becoming frock of panne satin and lace, the long veil of tulle held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms and she carried pale pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

Miss Katherine M. Care, maid of honor, wore orchid chiffon and carried daffodils and lilies of the valley, while the bridesmaids, Miss Mae Cullen, in pale blue satin, and Miss Eloise Janis Care, in blue satin, carried armfuls of pink sweet peas. Little Shirley Hall in green taffeta, carrying a basket of pink rose petals was the dainty flower girl, and Ellsworth Matthew Curry was best man.

The bride was graduated from Belmont High School while Mr. Richards was graduated from Glendale High School.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony and after a honeymoon in San Francisco and the Yosemite Mr. and Mrs. Richards will return to make their home here.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Gwynn Wilson of 111 South Union avenue, over the arrival Monday the 10th inst. of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have a host of friends among students and alumni of University of Southern California where Mr. Wilson holds the administrative office of general manager of the associated students. A 2-year-old son, James De Voin, is also a member of the Wilson family.

Formal Pledging

Formal pledging of Misses Fae Hawkins, Ann Sasine, Lou Rogers and Lois Dewey into Epsilon Alpha chapter of Theta Tau Sorority took place Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. De Keppinger in Liberty Boulevard. The decorations were carried out in an altar fashioning the sorority emblem of green and white carnations, the sorority colors.

Assisting in the ceremony were Mmes. Ruth Morgan, De Keppinger, Reva Bevam, Juanita Barnes, Stella May Sexton and Misses Margy Tennant, Christine Christian, Olympia Hardin, Marie Kernan, Dorothy Besine, Katherine Pfeffer and Eleanor Gunkle.

Golden Wedding

Reaching the half-century mark after an exciting boy and girl elopement fifty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Boasberg of 868 South Rampart, entertained thirty-six friends and relatives with a dinner-dance at the Elks' Club, Saturday evening, the 8th inst., in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

Among the guests were their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Boasberg of St. Louis, and their grand-daughter, Miss Ruth Kober. Others present were Dr. and Mrs. I. J. Smit of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. M. Lipsitz, Detroit; Mrs. I. Smit, Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Boasberg, Riverside; Messrs. and Mmes. Dave Gelder, B. Gomport, M. Herschbein, Simon Straus, Nat Boasberg, Herman Perlberg, E. J. Smith, Ed Kampher, Mrs. Harry Wright, berg, Sophie Dobitz and Messrs. Harold Lipsitz, Earl Smit and Howard Smit. Argentine Fiesta

An Argentine fiesta given by Mrs. Eva Bohr as a welcome home to Jose Bohr, who has been in Mexico, was a gala affair of Thursday evening last week in the Bohrs' new home in Monterey Park.

In an outdoor dancing pavilion the Argentine orchestra of Carlos Molina played tangoes and waltzes, and for exhibition tangoes executed by Ernesto Piedra and Carmencita. Folk songs in costume were sung by Senoritas Josefino Montero and Cora Montes.

Heating the pavilion was a huge brassero, "mate," the Argentinian national tea, being served at tables beside this open fire.

Among those who gathered to welcome the traveler and to join in housewarming ceremonies were Messrs. and Mmes. Reginald Denny, Pat O'Malley, Ben Bard (Ruth Roland,) James Cruze (Betty Compson,) Glenn Tryon, O. K. Goebel, George Weeks, Dan Thomas, George Crone, Andrew Stone, George Butler Griffin, Harold Donnell, Jorge Crespo, Rafael Ibarra, Alberto Valentino, Harry Weber, William Swigart, Charles Goss, Frank Matre, P. CREAM OF CABBAGE SOUP

Take one small head of cabbage, cut out the stalk, cut in half, and shred coarsely, place it in a saucepan and cover it with two cupfuls of boiling water, allow it to cook until tender, then add a seasoning of salt, a few grains of cayenne pepper, a half a teaspoonful of sugar, and four cupfuls of boiling milk, let it simmer slowly until the cabbage is very tender, then strain through a fine sieve, add to the liquid a teaspoonful of onion juice, and thicken with butter and flour that has been rubbed to a smooth cream; slowly simmer the soup; until the consistency of thick honey, strain and serve; dot the surface with tiny toast squares.

EGGPLANT ITALIAN

Take two small eggplants, peel and slice thin, saute the slices in oil and line a glass pie plate with them, over them place two sliced hard-boiled eggs and one-half a cupful of grated cheese, pour over this one cupful of tomato sauce, cover with the remaining slices of eggplant, place in the oven and bake for ten or fifteen minutes.

NUT CREAM PIE

One cupful of rich milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two teaspoonfuls of corn starch, the yolks of three eggs, one-half a cupful of sugar, one cupful of finely chopped walnuts, heat the milk, and butter in the double boiler, add the cornstarch, which has been diluted with a tablespoonful of cold milk, allow to cook, until thick and smooth, beat the yolks of the eggs, add to them half a cupful of sugar, and slowly pour into the milk mixture, stirring constantly, cook for three minutes longer, add the nuts, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and pour into a baked crust. Cover with a meringue made of the egg whites and brown in a slow oven.

RAGOUT OF LAMB'S TONGUES

Four lamb's tongues, two tablespoonfuls of shortening, two medium-sized onions, one-half of a bay leaf, one tablespoonful of tomato puree, one cupful of beef broth, two teaspoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, clean the tongues, cover with boiling water to which the bay leaf has been added, when tender, plunge into cold water, trim the roots, remove the skin, melt the shortening in a saute pan, add the onion chopped, and cook until brown; add a seasoning of salt, paprika, a few grains of sugar, and the tomato puree, add the cupful of beef broth and stir; place the tongues on top of the mixture, cover and simmer for one hour, remove the tongues to a hot platter, thicken the gravy with a little flour, add the Worcestershire sauce. Pour over the tongues, garnish with parsley and serve.

DOCTORS RECOMMEND NATURAL 100% BRAN

Over 90% of Physicians' Group Express Preference

Here is the opinion of experts on a problem that is very close to all of us:

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question: "Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes."

This overwhelming preference gives a valuable suggestion to all of us who suffer from one of the most troublesome of modern ills—atonic constipation, irregularity resulting from bowel sluggishness. Natural 100% bran gives natural relief. Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran—nothing else. It is the best way to supply the roughage which almost all of us need.

Primitive man had roughage in his daily diet, and had no constipation. Modern man eats soft food, and suffers from constipation—with the resulting sallow cheeks, headaches, sleeplessness, loss of vitality, nervousness, and increased susceptibility to more serious diseases.

To avoid these consequences eat Pillsbury's Bran in some way every day—there is an infinite variety of delightful forms. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you take Pillsbury's Bran, you may be sure you are using the most effective kind—natural 100% bran, recommended by over 90% of these doctors.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

White Oilcloth

Tack a piece of white oilcloth over the tray of baby's high chair. This is easily wiped clean after each meal and keeps the tray sanitary and safe for baby.

A Cedar Chest

If you have a window seat in one of your rooms, why not have it lined with cedar boards and serve as a safe chest for storing clothing and woolens when not being used?

O. K. Next Year

Before putting away the velvet dress be certain there are no grease spots to attract moths. If you find any, apply a thick layer of French chalk and let it stay on the spots for several hours. Then shake and brush. If the spot has not entirely disappeared try another application.

Preparedness

Now is the time to think about summer slip covers, awnings and new screens, not when spring is actually here and all the firms dealing with these materials are too busy to hurry your order. You can at least order these things now and have them delivered later on when you want them. Then there will be no delay or worry concerning them.

Too Much Blacking

If the surface of your stove seems rough and ugly, it is probably from an accumulation of stove blacking. Sandpaper the surface until it is smooth all over, then give it a fresh coat of polish and it will look like new.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORTON W. BURGESS

'Tis not alone the cooing dove
Whose heart is touched by gentle love.
—Hooty the Owl.

MRS. HOOTY IS GREATLY ALARMED

It was not long after the little Owl had fallen from the nest over in the Green Forest that Mrs. Hooty returned. She had a mouse. Of course, she flew straight to the nest. Sammy Jay was watching from a tree a short distance away. He was taking great care to be safely hidden while he watched. The lone little Owl in the nest became greatly excited when his mother arrived and snatched at the mouse she was carrying. He was so greedy and he made such a fuss that apparently Mrs. Hooty did not notice at first that there was only one baby there.

But after she had given the mouse to the greedy baby she missed the other baby. It looked to Sammy as if at first she didn't know just what was wrong. She seemed to know that something was wrong, but what it was she didn't know. Then suddenly she realized that one of her babies was nowhere to be seen. Mrs. Hooty became much excited. She pushed that other baby aside as if she thought he might be hiding the lost one. She looked in and all around the nest. While she was doing this Hooty arrived. Mrs. Hooty began talking to him excitedly. Hooty had brought a mouse, too. He put this in the nest, or rather on the edge of it, and then he joined Mrs. Hooty in hunting for that lost baby.

It was very clear that Hooty and Mrs. Hooty were both very much upset. "I wouldn't have believed it," muttered Sammy to himself. "No, sir, I wouldn't have believed it! They were such terribly fierce folks that I wouldn't have believed that they could know what love is. But it appears they do. I have seen a good many bird mothers upset, but never one more upset than Mrs. Hooty is."

By this time the two big Owls were beginning to look the tree all over. They were looking to see if the youngster had fallen out and might be somewhere on one of the branches of that tree. Such a hurrying and scurrying around as there was! They didn't find the missing baby. Then they began to fly about and look in other trees. Of course, this was foolish. They should have known that that baby couldn't possibly be in another tree, for it couldn't fly. But anxious parents do foolish things. Sammy Jay began to grow nervous. What if they should come looking in the tree where he was and find him?

At last Hooty flew back to the nest, and a moment later Mrs. Hooty joined him. "A robber of some kind has been here," declared Mrs. Hooty. "One of our babies has been stolen."

"Who would steal one of our babies?" demanded Hooty, looking very fierce. "Who would dare do such a thing?"

"Several, if they got the chance," replied Mrs. Hooty. "Only the other day I saw Terror the Goshawk. He wouldn't be afraid to take one if he got the chance. I wonder if one of those two-legged creatures has been here."

Mrs. Hooty began talking to him excitedly

Of course, Mrs. Hooty meant a man or boy. However, when she came to think it over, she was quite sure that it couldn't have been one of those two-legged creatures. She was quite sure that either she or Hooty would have seen one if he had been around. You see, they hadn't been away from the nest but for a very little while. Mrs. Hooty had looked on the ground under the tree, but had seen nothing of the missing baby. However, she had not looked very thoroughly on the ground. She thought she could see everything that was to be seen there.

Lenz could give no reason for the perpetration of the evident practical joke.

COURT GIVES ANNULMENT TO DOCTOR

Wife of Physician Fails to Contest Charges of Illegal Marriage

Dr. Walter P. Kittle, Los Angeles physician, went before Superior Judge Bishop yesterday with a petition for an annulment of his marriage to Mrs. Evelyn M. Kittle, asserting she is not legally divorced from her first husband.

Mrs. Kittle had filed a cross-complaint in the proceedings, wherein she declared she was ignorant of the fact she was not legally divorced when she wed Dr. Kittle, and that she had paid for Dr. Kittle's education, but she failed to appear.

An annulment was granted when attorneys intimated that a property settlement had been agreed upon.

Wife Slapped on Doctor's Advice, Spouse Asserts

Ernest E. Arnold has to slap his wife to "jar her brain" on advice of medical authorities, he declared in a deposition in connection with his divorce suit against Mrs. Ann M. Arnold, former wife of Beekman Lorillard, on file in the County Clerk's office yesterday. Mrs. Arnold sued on the grounds of cruelty and her husband answered with a cross-complaint.

"Doctors told me to slap her with my open hand when she was under the influence of narcotics," said Arnold in answer to his wife's attorneys' questions. "This was to jar her brain."

"Did you strike her so hard she fell to the floor?"

"She could hardly walk anyway. I guess she did fall."

Arnold said he could not live with his wife, if she continued to use liquor and narcotics to excess.

Woman Dies in Bathtub When Gas Tube Leaks

Gas leading from a defective heater tube yesterday caused the death of Mrs. Rose Stevens, 56 years of age, in the bathroom of her home at 1183 North Normandie avenue, according to police.

An hour after she had entered the room members of her family, failing to receive a response to their queries, broke in the door and found the woman lying dead in the bathtub. Windows were closed and the room was full of gas.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod-liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, ruptures, sties and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DONT SNIFF SALVES UP NOSE!

Whenever we have an epidemic of bad colds we notice the number of children who suffer earache as an accompaniment to the cold or afterward. The two conditions do go together, for the channel running from the nose to the ear is so situated that an infection from one easily travels into the other. This sets up a "middle-ear" infection which runs its own course of pain and fever, very often with a ruptured ear drum that oozes pus for a long time afterward.

Mothers are sometimes at a loss to understand why baby seems to have lost his cold and still suffers from a high temperature and is obviously miserable. If his ears are examined, the villain will usually be uncovered.

DISTRIBUTES INFECTION

We offer one warning to mothers of children with colds. To allow them to sniff medicines or thick salves up their noses is to court danger. The sniffing distributes the salve plus the infection all through the chambers of the head. The warning is the result of bitter experience.

If medicines are advised for dropping into the nose, the "dropping" means just that. The child should lie down, the drops be put in carefully, one or two, and will trickle into the throat. If the child will then tip the head forward and open the mouth they will run out again. This is quite different from forcible sniffing up.

When an infection has settled in the ear the doctor will probably suggest that the ears be washed several times daily with a boric acid solution, or if they are still unruptured the inflammation be treated by irrigations of hot water. We'll try to make these clear.

HEAT SOOTHES

Washing the ear with a large bulb syringe filled with boric acid water consists first in making a solution of one teaspoonful of boric acid crystals and one pint of boiling water. Keep in covered jar and heat when needed. Fill the bulb syringe with the warm solution and wash out the ear holding a cup under it to catch the water as it runs out. Tip the ear to clear it of water, wipe it dry carefully and insert a plug of cotton.

Irrigations are done with a douche bag. Use one quart of hot water of about 100 deg. or over by bath thermometer. In this put one tablespoonful of salt and one of soda. Elevate the bag by hanging it above the child's head. Let the child sit beside the bath tub tilting the head so the the water will run in and out of the ear. The rubber tube without a point on it can be used for this purpose. Put a Turkish towel under the ear to catch any drippings. The water should be quite hot, as hot as can be endured without burning, for it is the heat applied directly to the inflamed ear that is soothing. This may be done as often as once every three hours if the ear is badly inflamed and may prevent having to puncture it, or prevent even more serious conditions.

As long as there is any fever connected with an ear condition the child should be watched by the doctor. Won't you clip these instructions, mothers, in case you may need them?

Court Battle Started Over Land on Coast

A court fight over a strip of land ranging from fifty to 100 feet wide and stretching for several miles along the coast line of the old Rancho Boca De Santa Monica, north of the city of Santa Monica, was begun yesterday before Superior Judge Hollzer. About seventy-five acres are involved.

The strip of land lies between the mean high-tide line of the Pacific Ocean and the coast boundary line of the original Spanish grant and later the boundary-line survey made in the United States patent to the property.

The action is in the name of Stuart A. McLeod against Isidro Reyes and others, most of them heirs of Francisco Marquez, original owner of the land.

Oil Sump Hole Fire Controlled

DO YOU WANT SIZE OR SOAP?

WHEN you buy soap, the only way you can tell how much you're getting for your money is by the weight of the package. Size means nothing. A large carton full of soap flakes or bubbles can contain actually less soap than a carton of White King Granulated Soap half its size!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is condensed. It packs closely in the carton, like powdered sugar. And it's absolutely pure and safe... for blankets, dishes or lingerie.

(White King Granulated Soap is not only the safest but the most economical soap you can buy. A little of it goes a long way. A teaspoonful to the basin of water, or a cupful to the tub—no more! Your grocer has it.

YOU CAN TELL SLO-BAKED BREAD BY THE TOAST IT MAKES

Compare the golden brown slices it makes with toast you get from any other kind of bread

YOUR toaster can tell you more about bread quality than any ten cook books. It can actually show you the difference between breads.

And at breakfast tomorrow you can find out whether the bread you use is made of the finest ingredients. And also whether it is slowly baked.

Just place a slice of slo-baked Wonder Bread in your toaster and toast until it is an even golden brown and as crisp as you like it. Then toast a slice of any other bread the same length of time. Compare them side by side. You'll be astonished at the difference!

The Wonder Bread toast will be a more even golden brown from edge to edge . . . crisper . . . with a delicate new toast flavor and a more delightful aroma.

The better toast you get from Wonder Bread is due to the extra-fine ingredients used and the special slo-baking process.

Toasting starts the instant you slip Wonder Bread into the toaster. With ordinary bread, your toaster actually has to finish cooking the bread before toasting starts.

When you see how convincing this toast test is, we believe you will want only Wonder Bread hereafter.

THREE ACHIEVEMENTS

Three outstanding achievements are claimed for the 1929 Community Chest organization. First, that the deficit which had accumulated for five years was wiped out. Second, that the combined amounts raised by the campaign and the deficit committee during the year was more than $3,000,000, or $400,000 more than was raised in any one year heretofore despite the collapse of the stock market and the consequent period of business depression. Third, the reduction by co-ordination, consolidation and elimination of the number of agencies in one year from 131 to 124, which number will share the 1930 budget.

A total of 372,322 persons subscribed to the fund during the recent campaign, including about 170,000 teachers and pupils.

Almost half of the funds allotted during 1929 went to nonsectarian agencies, those affiliated with no religious body. Such agencies received $1,110,176.67. Agencies of Protestant affiliation received $634,102.65. Agencies of Jewish affiliation received $402,767.36. Agencies of Catholic affiliation received $305,224.69.

A distribution of the Chest fund to agencies according to classification of service performed show that hospitals, clinics and other agencies for public health received the largest amount. This was $611,686.79. Family welfare agencies received $458,429.79. Child welfare—pre-adolescent—agencies obtained $413,968.26. Preventive agencies were given $397,-964.42. Family relief agencies received $162,216.05. Veterans' agencies were allotted $154,141.49. Child welfare—adolescent and working-age agencies—were given $125,941.68. Neighborhood settlements received $66,092.81.

GLAB WARRANTS REST WITH JURY

Police and Prosecutor to Await Indictments

Absence of Murder Gun Held Fatal to Conviction

Man and Two Women Now Under Suspicion

Issuance of warrants in the Glab murder mystery will depend upon return of indictments by the grand jury, it was decided at a conference between Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordan and members of the police homicide detail yesterday. The police declare they have sufficient evidence upon which to base a murder complaint against two women and a man, but Jordan asserted he cannot be certain of a conviction unless the gun is found.

Mrs. Hazel Glab, widow of John R. Glab, the wealthy retired druggist who was murdered June 18, 1928, beside his car in a driveway near his Ventura Boulevard home, is believed to be in San Francisco. Her niece, Miss Ethel Kaser, who was with Mrs. Glab in the Glab home at the time of the murder, is believed to be in Oklahoma City.

A telegram from Attorney S. S. Hahn, who is returning from a trip to Europe, was received from New York by the District Attorney's office requesting that any questioning of Mrs. Glab be held in abeyance until his return the latter part of the week. The police and District Attorney assert they do not want to question Mrs. Glab at this phase of the investigation.

SALES TAX TREND HIT BY COOLEY

Lecturer Tells City Club That Land Levy Provides Best Means of Financing

Criticizing the movement to shift taxes from land to commerce, Stoughton Cooley, lecturer on economics, told members of the City Club yesterday that while such a system might result in a temporary benefit to land speculators, it ultimately would mean a greater burden on the farmers, who would be compelled to pay increased prices for everything while receiving no better prices for commodities they sell.

"Production is the source of all tax money," said Mr. Cooley. "If we lower taxes on land and raise them on commerce, either through a sales or income tax system, we would compel the producer to raise his prices on goods, thus limiting consumption, decreasing production and adding to unemployment.

"In orderly government there is no escape from taxation," said the speaker. "Only the politician, seeking office, proposes to cut down taxation or to curtail government activities. Taxes must be paid in a progressive commonwealth and the only means of paying them is through production. But already there is too much tax on commerce and not enough on privilege."

Son in Race to Bedside of Dying Mother

A desperate race across the Pacific from China by ship and plane to reach the bedside of a dying mother in San Bernardino is being made by Rev. Wilmot Boone, financial administrator of Presbyterian missions of Western Shantung.

Rev. Wilmot Boone will arrive at San Francisco tomorrow morning. He will board the regular Western Air Express plane at Oakland and upon his arrival in Los Angeles at noon will be taken by auto to the hospital in San Bernardino, where physicians are trying to keep his mother, Mrs. Henry W. Boone, alive until her son reaches the bedside.

Mrs. Boone is the widow of Dr. Henry W. Boone, founder of the St. Luke's Hospital in Shanghai.

Dr. Estes Wins Point in Balm Suit of Wife

Superior Judge Westover yesterday sustained a demurrer against the $500,000 heart balm suit of Mrs. Clara N. Estes against Dr. St. Louis Estes, who lays claim to having discovered the science of raw food.

Judge Westover, however, gave Mrs. Estes's attorney, A. D. Orme, leave to amend the petition. Mrs. Estes also has sued her husband, Dr. Estes, for $500,000 separate maintenance.

According to Arthur Webb, Dr. Estes's attorney, the doctor obtained a divorce in Mexico.

GREEK LETTER MEN GET MONTHLY ORGAN

Newest of Los Angeles publications is the Greek Review, a monthly devoted to the interests of California Greek letter fraternity and sorority alumni, official organ of the Interfraternity Council of the University of California at Los Angeles. A. Maxwell Clarke is editor and J. E. McLeskey, business manager.

TARDY WOMAN FACES CONTEMPT CITATION

A woman's tardiness yesterday delayed the trial of Clifford A. Cox before Superior Judge Wood until 9 a.m. today and caused the asserted offender, Miss Vivian Axley, to be cited for contempt. Judge Wood announced in continuing the case that he will pronounce sentence on Miss Axley when court convenes today.

ARCHITECTS GET HONOR DUE

Quadrennial Award on Buildings Near

Gentlemen of the Jury

Left to right: James Monroe Hewlett of New York, first vice-president of the American Institute of Architects; C. Herrick Hammond of Chicago, president, and Clarence Tantau of San Francisco.

TO SELECT outstanding examples of architecture among buildings erected in Southern California within the last four years a jury of awards is now in Los Angeles. The three members of the jury began their work yesterday with the inspection of 3000 photographs entered in the competition. Initial selections will be made from the photographs and the final awards will be made after the buildings have been viewed.

At a dinner tonight at the Alexandria by the Southern California chapter of the American Institute of Architects' officials will be honor guests.

Maurey Love Found Guilty

Maurey Love, alias Maurey Kosloff, former head of a film school, was found guilty by Municipal Judge MacCoy yesterday of petty theft in connection with the operation of the school. Love applied for probation, the 25th inst. being set for hearing.

Mrs. Charlotte Scheerer, 7759 Wilber avenue, Reseda, called as his main witness by Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman, testified that she paid Love $10 as part payment for the instruction of her daughter, Charlotte, 10 years of age, in film acting at Love's Hollywood Photo Players' School, 1116 Lillian Way. Since the petty theft charge was filed, she declared, Love has paid her $35; the entire amount involved.

ILLINOISANS MEET SATURDAY

Members of the De Witt county, Illinois, Association, will hold a picnic Saturday in Westlake Park, it was announced by George L. Matthews, president.

Rosenkranz Aids Hospital Drive

The appointment of Municipal Judge Rosenkranz to the chairmanship of the workers' enrollment committee for the $1,000,000 Cedars of Lebanon Hospital campaign was announced yesterday by Jay B. Jacobs, chairman of the campaign.

ELIAS V. ROSENKRANZ

"This is the first time that B'nai B'rith lodge has assumed a definite responsibility as a distinct organization to aid in a project not originally sponsored by itself," Jacobs stated. "It bespeaks the significance of the project."

Judge Rosenkranz, who is vice-president of the B'nai B'rith lodge, appointed I. B. Benjamin and A. Trachman to serve with him on the committee. "It is an act of justice to build an institution which will care for the sick," Judge Rosenkranz declared upon accepting the chairmanship. "We feel that the Cedars of Lebanon merits our support and we have, therefore, pledged to furnish the man power for the campaign."

RADIO SALE CONTEMPLATED

The park department yesterday asked the City Council for authority to have Purchasing Agent Oughton sell some obsolete radio equipment. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

SEARCH ON FOR SAVIOR OF WOMAN

Taxi Man With Damaged Nose Wanted as Witness in Asserted Attack

Search for a taxi driver with a bruised nose was launched yesterday by police in connection with the arrest late Sunday night of Frank H. Browne, 23 years of age. The latter was booked on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder as the result of an asserted attempt to push Mrs. C. W. Sekrist in front of an automobile near her home at 127 North Kenmore avenue. The chauffeur, according to the police, received a punch in the nose from Browne when he went to the woman's rescue, and is wanted as the complaining witness for a battery complaint, Mrs. Sekrist having declined to press the more serious charge.

MRS. C. W. SEKRIST

FRANK H. BROWNE

On February 4, 1929, the police records show, Mrs. Sekrist, then known as Leona Cowan, was riding with Sekrist, her fiance, when Brown forced her into his car and held her captive in a fraternity house. Hailed before Judge Aggeler, he was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Mrs. Sekrist recently asked police to investigate her husband on suspicion of bigamy.

Thwarted Bride Granted Divorce

After waiting eighteen years for her husband's return, Mrs. Nora Bergman Huskey went before Superior Judge Bowron yesterday and was granted a divorce from Floyd Huskey. They married at Austin, Tex., February 9, 1912, in a secret wedding, it was discovered by her guardian, who took her away from her young husband on the seventh day of her honeymoon. She never saw Huskey after that.

PAIR OF BANDITS SOUGHT

Two bandits who Sunday night held up and robbed R. Demeree of 305 North Ardmore street and a woman companion are being sought by deputy sheriffs. Demeree reported that he and his companion were accosted by the bandits while parked in an automobile in the 3800-block in West Vernon Place. After taking $67 and a ring from Demeree, the man left in his car, promising to leave it at the end of the road, he said.

SLAYER OF FIVE ON TRIAL AGAIN

Boltares Admits Killings, But Pleads Insanity

Irresponsibility at Time of Deeds His Defense

Already Found by Jury to be of Sound Mind Now

Armando Boltares, slayer of five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family, admitted the killings when taken into Superior Judge Marshall McComb's court yesterday by pleading "not guilty by reason of insanity." A jury was selected at once, and for the second time within a fortnight the defendant began the ordeal of a sanity trial.

At the first trial the only point involved was the defendant's sanity at the present time. The jury found him to be sane.

The present trial is to determine whether or not Boltares was sane at the time of the murders. Should the jury find that the defendant was not insane at the time of the slayings, he automatically will be found guilty of the crime as charged, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Penny, who is prosecuting the case.

Earlier in the day the murder charge against Miss Dolores Hulchata, Boltares's asserted sweetheart, was dismissed at the request of the prosecutor for lack of evidence. She was a codefendant with Boltares in the original complaint.

Evans Pleads Not Guilty to Theft Charges

John A. Evans, real estate developer, yesterday pleaded not guilty to three charges of grand theft when arraigned before Superior Judge Wood. The court fixed March 31 as the date for trial and assigned the case to Department Twenty-six, which is presided over by Judge Aggeler.

The indictment charges Evans with taking funds from the Heilman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank. Defense Attorneys Simpson and Goodcell predicted that the trial will last nearly two months.

Summer Course Dates Decided

Summer courses dates of the University of Southern California were announced yesterday by Dean Lester B. Rogers, as follows:

Eight weeks session, June 16 to August 7; six weeks session, June 30 to August 7; three weeks session, August 8 to 30. Next summer's session is to be the silver anniversary of the Trojan summer school, while the university celebrates its golden jubilee.

Fifty-seven visiting professors from leading educational institutions will assist the Trojan faculty.

STATE'S UNIQUE POSITION CITED

Architectural Expert Talks on Distinctive Building

Government to Follow Style in New Port Structure

Visitor, Retired, Formerly Federal Technical Man

California has in the past decade developed a style of architecture that places her in a unique position in the American sectional scheme, in the opinion of C. F. Longfellow, for twenty-six years senior architectural engineer of the United States Treasury Department at Washington. Mr. Longfellow, just retired, arrived from New York yesterday aboard the Panama Mail liner El Salvador on his first visit to California.

"As proof of this, our preliminary plans for the new Federal Building at Los Angeles Harbor offer a good example," he explained. "This structure will be of California design, while the Los Angeles Federal Building, built a score of years ago, is of rennaissance design.

"We still follow classic styles in designing government buildings throughout other sections of the country, but our modern California structures must be of the semi-Spanish style, or they would be decidedly out of tune with their surroundings."

Mr. Longfellow voiced his astonishment at the magnitude of the local port, which, he said, is regarded throughout the East as an engineering marvel, from the standpoint of being man-made.

Others among the El Salvador's 700 passengers included Capt. C. D. Sniffin, home after two years with the marine expeditionary force in Nicaragua; Lieut. S. E. Ridderhof, Marine Corps aviator back from Nicaragua, and Edmund R. Terry, classmate at Yale in 1878 with former President Taft.

Nebraskans are to rally Friday evening in Music Arts Hall, 233 South Broadway, it was announced by R. W. Richardson, president. He promises a program and dancing.

DEATH CHOSEN OVER TRIAL

Rather than face prosecution on Wright Act charges, Dr. Clark L. McClish, 55 years of age, yesterday chose death, ending his life with a bullet through his heart as he sat in his office at 1154 West Vernon avenue. The suicidal shot was fired shortly before 2 p.m., the hour at which Dr. McClish was slated to appear in court. Outside the house, Lloyd G. McClish, his brother; Emma E. McClish, his sister-in-law, and P. J. Lewis, his brother-in-law, awaited him in an automobile. Hearing the shot they rushed in and found the physician dead.

According to a police report, Dr. McClish was arrested last Friday by vice-squad officers and Federal agents, who assert they purchased two pints of alcohol from him and then found four gallons in a clothes closet and nine pints behind a bookcase in the house. He was at liberty on bail when he committed suicide.

Dr. McClish is said to have achieved notice for his work as a specialist during the World War influenza epidemic. He had been married twice, police reported.

EERIE MORGUE CRIES SOLVED

'Twas Only Parrots Having Tantrums

He Emulated Opera Singers

Edith Kenmir chides Barnacle Bill for the temperamental outbursts of himself and three Spanish-speaking companion birds which scared jail inmates.

MIDNIGHT! Eerie screams from the vicinity of the County Morgue in the Hall of Justice.

At times the cries resembled those of an infant, again those of a woman.

However, the mystery has been solved and to Deputy Sheriff Russell of the jail booking office should go no little credit. Descending the building floor by floor with both ears functioning at their highest efficiency, Russell finally found himself before the door of the County Health Department laboratory.

When questioned, Dr. R. V. Stone, director of the laboratory, admitted that he had four temperamental, Spanish-speaking parrots there for observation. The birds' vocabulary consists mainly of "polito" and "hola," which they resort to at screaming intervals. Two have been distinguished as the Fair Young Maiden and Barnacle Bill.

TRIAL OF TOM MIX DELAYED

Tax Hearing Scheduled Today to be Continued Pending Settlement

Tom Mix, film cowboy, now appearing in a circus role, will not go to trial today, as was expected, on charges of evading income taxes and failure to pay them. The case was scheduled to go to trial before United States District Judge James, but it was stated by U. S. Atty. McNabb that it will be continued.

It was said that Mix is endeavoring to arrange a compromise with the government and that criminal action in this respect will be continued pending negotiations with the government. It was not stated what effect this will have upon cases pending against various motion-picture actors and actresses.

It is charged in the indictment against Mix that his total income for 1925, 1926 and 1927 was $1,200,000 and that he paid an income tax of $135,000, whereas the government asserts he should have paid $100,000 more.

Gas Tube Leak Kills Woman

Gas escaping from a leak in the tubing of a heater yesterday caused the death of Mrs. Rose W. Stevens, 56 years of age, in the bathroom of her home at 1183 North Normandie avenue, according to a police report. The woman's body, reclining in the bathtub, was discovered by her son, Frank V. Hanie, when he came home for lunch.

...against Frederick Will... Weber, the yet... of the Los Angeles ball club, who has whittled down his unwieldy Teutonic cognomen until it is now just plain "Boots" Weber, announced yesterday that the Angels had all of their athletes except four signed to 1930 contracts.

Mr. Weber, in true baseball magnate fashion, remarked that holding out was an old thing as an annual custom, but the writer gathered in the conversation that the hard-hitting outfielder from the Boston Coast league, might be a holdout. But Harper is not a half-hearted holdout, and a bonus would fail for agreeing to terms, so he'll have to break contract soon or later to get the Boston owners to get the bonus money. Harper is entitled to $1,000 a year, but he forfeits $500 if he fails to pick up the advance coming him by the time season to swing around.

Athletic Head at Minnesota Resigns Post

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 17. (AP) Fred W. Luehring, director of athletics at the University of Minnesota, submitted his resignation today, effective June 30, and Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, newly appointed football coach, was named to succeed him, serving in the dual role of head coach and athletic director.

Although Luehring is leaving the post he has held for eight years at the university, he will not sever his connection with the school. The announcement of his resignation said he would devote himself to a professorship of physical education.

CARNERA STOPS FOE IN SECOND

"Man Mountain" Erickson is Victim of Italian's Fists.

PRIMO CARNERA

The big Swede fought gamely during the first round and the crowd estimated at 6000 persons, roared its approval. However, the ambling alp grew furious in the second round after the "Man Mountain" stung him on the jaw with a right and a short jab to the stomach, and swinging wildly with both fists, floored Erickson twice in succession before he took the final count.

Primo knocked Erickson into the ropes and he stayed down for a count of nine. Erickson came up and the vast Venetian rushed him across the ring. A left jab sent Erickson sprawling across the ropes again and he took a nine count. That was followed by a left hook and a right cross to the chin and the big Swede went down, to be helped to his corner.

Jean Bordeaux, announced as the flyweight champion of France, scored a technical knockout over Buck Stewart of Oklahoma City in the second round.

Ora (Buck) Weaver, Medicine Lodge, Kas., gained a draw with Tilden Stutz in an eight-round semi-wind-up. Weaver weighed 205 and Stutz 197 pounds.

BARRY KEEPS TROJANS BUSY

S.C. Cage Mentor Takes No Chances of Letdown

League Leaders Play Bruins Saturday Night

U.C.L.A. Hopes Wilds Will Get Back Into Form

BY BRAVEN DYER

There's nothing so uncertain in the realm of sports as a "sure thing." That's why Sam Barry, coach of the Southern California basketball team, is doing no letting down this week. The Trojans play U.C.L.A. in the wind-up of the local season Saturday night at the Olympic, and, having already thumped the Bruins twice, it looks like a cinch for Barry's charges.

JESS MORTENSON

And all Southern California needs is this victory to annex the title and then meet Washington for the Coast crown.

But "sure things" in sports are risky. The Cubs had the Athletics pretty well shellacked in that famous world series game and then had ten runs scored on themselves in one inning. Gene Sarazen was practically out of the running at Agua Caliente, but came through with a par-smashing final round to win.

The Trojans can get no worse than a tie, no matter if they do lose to U.C.L.A. Saturday, but that's not what Barry and his athletes want. They want to win outright and then go on and prepare for the Huskies.

Those who saw last Saturday night's game, which S.C. copped, 42 to 30, can't figure how the Trojans can lose this time, but things far more strange have happened in the realm of sports.

Barry indicated last night that he will keep his athletes busy all week, sending them into the U.C.L.A. tilt primed for the battle of their lives. There will be no change in the Trojan line-up, which has functioned splendidly since the second Stanford game. This outfit, consisting of Capt. Lehlers, Web Caldwell, Jess Mortensen, Jack Gardner and Frank Smith, has won five straight games and there's no sense in making any shifts with a winning combination.

If Capt. Larry Wilds of the Bruins ever returns to his early season form the U.C.L.A. quintet may make it hot for their foes. Wilds has made but one field goal in the last

TAPEWARD BOUND

Here's Weldon Draper, the Texas Tumult, looking for a finishing tape to drape himself over. Draper is showing impressive early season form on Bovard Field, and will be a member of the Trojan four-man 4) team which will run in the A.A.U. events at Long Beach Saturday.

GUYER OUT OF SPRINT RELAY

Red Rocket Not in Shape for A.A.U. Events

Anderson to Replace Star in Half-mile Dash

Mercuries Announce List of Competitors

BY RALPH HUSTON

Maurice Guyer, the "Red Rocket" of the Trojan sprinters, will not be among those present when the four-man half-mile relay is called at Long Beach Saturday afternoon, and he may not run in the four-man quarter. Although Coach Dean Cromwell will not officially select his choices until this afternoon, this prospect homed as a certainty.

BUD HOUSER

Guyer is quite a bit behind Frank Wykoff, Milt Maurer, Weldon Draper and the rest of the sprinters as far as training is concerned and until he is in his best shape, and ready to run, Cromwell doesn't intend to use him.

The 440 relay team will include Wykoff, Maurer and Draper for sure, and possibly Guyer. The 880 squad will include Wykoff, Jeddy Welsh, Chuck Anderson and one other runner yet to be selected. Both Maurer and Draper are much better in the century than they are in the furlong, and probably won't run in the longer event.

NO SHORT DASH

Inasmuch as there is no open 100 on the program this year, the local sprinters will have to confine their activities to the relays, as most of them are ineligible to compete in the novice century, which is the only sprint event on the card. Such sprinters as Wykoff, Maurer and Guyer of the Trojan forces and Ray Alf and Murray Schultz of the L.A.A.C. are ineligible to race as novices, and consequently they will hook up only in the relays.

Anderson is the real surprise. He ran a fine race to finish third to Wykoff and Welsh in a 21 4-5s. furlong on Bovard Field Saturday, and earned a berth on the 880 squad. Welsh, national junior high hurdle champion, turned in a sparkling effort, and promises to be of real value in the low sticks this year, as well as the highs. He will run a lap in the 880 at Long Beach.

Just how the Trojan board of strategy will juggle the distance men to arrange the longer relays will not be determined until this afternoon. Vic Williams, J. Wakefield Burke and

HUSKY HUNT'S RECALL ASKED

Card Students Petition for Ousting of Cage Coach

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 17.—Declaring that a "lack of confidence" in Coach "Husky" Hunt's ability as a hoop coach "definitely precludes the possibility of his making a success of varsity basketball in the future," petitions were circulated among the dormitories and fraternity houses of Stanford this evening demanding the termination of the Card coach's connection with the university as a basketball mentor.

COACH "HUSKY" HUNT

More than 200 names were affixed to the petitions within an hour after they had been put in circulation. Among the prominent students leaders who signed were Louis Vincenti, former Card basketball captain and present manager of the Associated Students; Murray Draper, former student-body president; Vard Loomis and Greer Thompson, former members of Hunt's squads. While urging that Hunt he ousted as basketball mentor, the petition recommends that he be retained as a coach of freshmen sports.

When interviewed concerning the situation tonight Hunt declared that "there was a well-organized campaign before the season began to give me a bad deal. At no time in the season have I received a decent break in publicity. The poor Stanford showing in past seasons has been due to inferior material," Hunt continued.

Ouster proceedings started from undetermined sources early this afternoon, and are believed to have

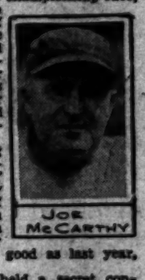
JOE M'CARTHY SEES BIG YEAR

Much Depends on Condition of Hartnett

Acquisition of Bell Aids Bruin Outfit

Nine Players to Leave from Windy City

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP) — Enthusiastic over repeating in the National League championship race, manager Joe McCarthy of the Cubs came here today and made final arrangements for the first squad's getaway for Catalina Island tomorrow afternoon.



JOE McCARTHY

"We're going to have another big season," McCarthy beamed. "If Hartnett's arm is okeh again and if our pitchers are as good as last year, we'll win."

"Marse Joe" held a secret conference with Cub officials, met a few rookies and said everything was set. He was especially elated over the acquisition of Lester Bell, who is expected to give him a hard-hitting third baseman.

Tomorrow at 1:30 p.m., ten men will entrain on the Navajo over the Santa Fe Railroad westward bound to the sunny shores of Avalon, there to begin preparations for the campaign in defense of their 1929 laurels. They will reach Catalina Island Friday, and will immediately get down to business.

"We'll get off the boat and go right over to the St. Catherine Hotel and dress," said Manager McCarthy.

"Then we will join the pitchers who have been working for the past week and have a light practice," he continued.

"We are spending several days less on the island this year and we will have to make the most of it," was his explanation for rushing into the regimentals so soon after arrival.

George Bell, new third baseman; Sheriff Blake, Guy Bush, Pat Malone, Malcomb Moss, Bob Osborne, Charley Root, Arthur Teachout and L. Werneke have been working out for several days and will be in fair shape when Manager Joe and his gang arrive.

The second contingent of Cubs will leave Chicago the 25th inst., and will include Rogers Hornsby,

SIMPSON BOWS TO DALEY

Holy Cross Sprinter Defeats Ohio State Flash in Sixty-Yard Dash; Edwards Beats Dr. Martin

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Jimmy Daley, Holy Cross sprinting flash, beat George Simpson of Ohio State, the "world's fastest human," at 100 yards in the final of the 60-yard dash at the New York Athletic Club games at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Daley gained a lead of a few inches in the first half-dozen strides and increased his margin to a yard at the finish. Niles Schoening of Columbia University was third and Frank Hussey, New York A.C. veteran, fourth. The time was slower than had been expected, Daley being clocked in 6 3-5s., as compared to the record of 6 1-5s.

GEORGE SIMPSON

Simpson and Daley, rival sprinting standard bearers of Middle West and East, stood out as the class of the field, winning their qualifying heats previously in the identical figures of 6 3-5. The final quickly settled down into a duel between Simpson and Daley, with the latter having the better of it all the way. Schoening was a yard back of the Ohio State flash.

The University of Pennsylvania romped away from Yale and Columbia in a two-mile relay in 8m. 8 3-5s. Penn's fast-stepping quartet, consisting of Kerr, Coan, Montgomery and McKniff, won as it pleased by a quarter of a lap, but Yale was pushed to nose out Columbia after a close duel all the way.

Phil Edwards, former New York University and Canadian Olympic star, thrilled the crowd of 12,000 with a brilliant victory over Dr. Paul Martin of Switzerland and Fred Veit of the N.Y.C.A. in the "Bretney half-mile," one of the feature events. The time was 1m. 56 1-5s.

Half a lap from home the Swiss Olympic veteran uncorked a sprint, but was unable to cut in ahead of Edwards on the turn. Edwards answered with a sprint of his own that

MAGNOLIA LIKELY TO REFEREE

Popular Official Probably Will Be Selected Next Week to Work in Sharkey-Scott Bout; Rival Managers Confer With Florida Boxing Commissioner

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

MIAMI (Fla.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Perhaps on the theory that everything has been entirely too quiet and peaceful in connection with preparations for the Risko-Campolo bout the 27th inst., concerted efforts were put forth today to develop a series of private fights for public consumption.

LOU MAGNOLIA

It may have been because this was a rainy, windy day, thus curtailing the activities of all the principal combatants, except Jack Sharkey, but it was with little short of frenzied activity at dusk that fully 5000 mimeographed words issued from press headquarters to detail all the bickering and ill-feeling that has suddenly cropped up among the rival camp followers.

LEADERS CONFER

Foremost among these verbal controversies was the report of a conference between Boxing Commissioner MacReynolds and the managers of Scott and Sharkey at which ringside details were discussed and final decision reported to make the referee the sole arbiter. This was the arrangement last year when Referee Lou Magnolia lifted Sharkey's hand in token of victory over Willie Stribling. Magnolia is considered likely to get the job again, although no official announcement of the referee's selection will be made until Tuesday of next week.

Jimmy Johnston, representing Scott, yielded to the verdict of Commissioner MacReynolds only after filing a strong demand for the two judges and referee system used in New York. Johnston also was overruled on a request to have four men instead of three in Scott's corner, but won out on a demand

HOLLYWOOD AND VENICE WIN WATER POLO TILTS

The Hollywood A. C. and the Venice Swimming Association won the opening games of the annual tournament for the Southern California water-polo championship last night at the L.A.A.C. pool.

With Weston Kimball, Lloyd Varney and Red Walton playing brilliantly, the Circle H squad had no difficulty in hanging up a 9-to-1 victory over the S. C. Trojans in the opening encounter of the evening. Fred Cady's collegiate charges did not have a chance with the fast-paddling Movie City outfit.

Two local aquatic veterans, Wally O'Conner and Phil Daubenspeck, were the shining lights as Venice hung up a 6-to-2 victory over the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach. The game was much more closely contested than the opening game, although Venice took a substantial early lead and hung on to it throughout.

The L.A.A.C. Mercuries will play Hollywood tonight in a semifinal game, and the winner will face Venice tomorrow night in the final game for the championship.

POWERFUL THREE D'S STABLE ARRIVES AT AGUA CALIENTE

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Feb. 17.—Bringing a stable of all stake horses, the powerful Three D's stable arrived here today. Included in the shipment were Line Rider, one of the favorites in the Agua Caliente Derby, and Panchio, a contender in the Agua Caliente Handicap. Others were Calf Roper, also a candidate for the Agua Caliente Handicap; Zacaweista, a sprinter; Double Heart, War Time and That's It.

Fred McElroy, trainer, brought in the shipment. With him was Mrs. McElroy, and Tommy May, stable rider, and Benny Murphy. May is one of the best riders in the country and will pilot all Three D's horses in their stake engagements. The horses are fresh from Arlington, Tex., where they rested up after their New Orleans campaign.

Los Angeles Country Club Women Golfers Hold Lead in Team Match Tourna

EASILY DEFEAT RIVIERA SQUAD

California Women Gain on Flying Leaders

Mrs. Gregg Lifur Shoots Sparkling Round.

Mrs. C. M. Lewis Has Birdie to Take Match

BY THE GOLFHER

Taking all but half a point in their match with Riviera, women golfers of the Los Angeles Country Club maintained their lead in the interclub play now being staged throughout the Southland. The Los Angeles women now have 62½ points to California's 58½, California having taken all nine points from San Gabriel in yesterday's play.

MRS. GREGG LIFUR

Because of their defeat, Riviera women dropped to fifth place, half a point behind Wilshire.

As a result of yesterday's matches the teams stand as follows:

Los Angeles, 62½; California, 58½; Flintridge, 44; Wilshire, 42; Riviera, 41½; Hillcrest, 35½; Brentwood, 31½; Hollywood, 28; Lakeside, 24½; Rancho, 23½; Oakmont, 21½; San Gabriel, 21.

Mrs. C. J. Woerner of the Los Angeles dream was out in 39 and shot an 82 for the round, while Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Riviera had an approximate 86.

Mrs. C. M. Lewis, paired with Mrs. Woerner, had an 83 and ended the match against Mrs. Lifur and Mrs. Charles Delaney with a birdie two on the seventeenth green.

The results:

CALIFORNIA, 9; SAN GABRIEL, 0

Mrs. Roy Green and Mrs. R. S. Edwards (C.) 3; Mrs. A. C. Edmonds and Mrs. George Lauberheimer (S.G.,) 0.

HERALD AND TIMES SCRIBES IN TIE MATCH

In a soul-stirring battle which surged first to one side and then the other, sports department golfers of The Times and Herald staged a 9-to-9 draw at California yesterday afternoon.

Bernie Milligan was the fair-haired boy of the struggle, shooting a brilliant 76 to defeat Paul Lowry of The Times. Jack James, after going out in 45, ran into a lot of tough luck, but managed to come home with a total of an even 100.

Ed Lawrence and Bob Ray won 3 points for The Times while Braven Dyer got the other. Milligan and George of the Herald had five birdies between them and this left Lowry and Dyer holding the sack with their pars.

Examiner and Express players postponed their match until Thursday due to the collapse of Bill Barnett from overtraining.

Davis shot an 83, Lowry 84, Dyer 85, Lawrence 85, Krauch 91, Ray 96 and James 100.

Results:

Milligan (Herald) 3, Lowry (Times) 0; Davis (Herald) 3, Dyer (Times) 1; Milligan and Davis (Herald) 3, Lowry and Dyer (Times) 0.

Lawrence (Times) 3, Krauch (Herald) 0; Ray (Times) 2, James (Herald) 1; Lawrence and Ray (Times) 3, Krauch and James (Herald,) 0.

C. P. GREENOUGH WINS SANTA BARBARA PLAY

C. P. Greenough won the match play against par golf tourney staged at the Valley Club in Santa Barbara last Saturday. Greenough shot an 81. A. L. Painter placed second with 83, while R. D. Brook took third place with 84.

In the winter handicap tournament, R. D. Brook defeated T. C. Abbott, 6 and 5. E. P. Gavit beat S. J. Dickenson, 2 and 1.

MAGNOLIA MAY WORK BIG BOUT

A unique development of the technical pow-pow, was a decision by the boxing commissioner opening the possibility to an official "long-count" in case Scott or Sharkey hits the canvas. In effect, MacReynolds ruled as an outside contingency that the count be suspended if the fighter scoring a knockdown fails to go to a neutral corner inside of five seconds, the count then to be picked up at six after the business of putting the fighter in his proper place.

Other reports of the day were so agitated that they failed to agree. On the one hand, Scott was described as refusing to work out because of a "bitter row" with Johnston over the exorbitant expenses attached to maintaining the big retinue of helpers in "Frugal Phil's" camp. Elsewhere the statement was made that Scott's lay-off was due to the rapidity with which he has lost weight.

SHARKEY WORKS

Sharkey put in a brisk ten-round workout under cover, sparring with three sparring-mates, Johnny Risko and Victorio Campolo, the semi-finalists, who threaten to steal the fireworks of the show from the main bout, were idle. Scott and Tommy Loughran, the Philadelphia heavyweight, are slated to help entertain the fashionable folks at the Oasis Club, Palm Beach, Thursday at a "boxing tea."

So the ballyhoo, even under difficulties, goes merrily on.

Howard Jones' Father Dies at His Home

Mr. T. A. Jones, father of Howard Jones, Southern California football coach, died Sunday at his home in Excello, O. At the time of his father's death the Trojan mentor was flying to the family home, having left here by airplane Sunday morning. The elder Mr. Jones suffered a stroke last week and it was because of his serious illness that Howard Jones made a speedy trip to Ohio. Tad Jones, former Yale coach, was said to have been at his father's bedside when the end came.

HOCKEYITES IN TIE GAME

Hollywood and Oakland Battle on Even Terms in Extra-Session Ice Thriller at Garden

In as wildly exciting a game as ever had been played at the Winter Garden, the Hollywood Millionaires held the Giroux-less Oakland Sheiks to a 3-to-3 tie in a California Ice Hockey League game last night.

Hollywood scored three goals in the first five minutes of the third period, and almost won the game, but Battling Bud Cook took a pass from Vokes to tie up the score, and there it remained through ten frantic minutes of the overtime period.

There was no scoring in the first period, but in the first minute of the second chapter, "Moose" Johnson, sterling Hollywood defense man, was sent to the penalty box, and Cook shot a pass to Vokes for the initial score. Hollywood tried desperately, but couldn't tally, and shortly before the end of the period, Cook took a pass from Sandercook to take a 2-0 lead.

Johnson opened up for Hollywood at the start of the third chapter with a solo dash down the ice, and a score. A minute later, Paul Maher took a pass from Wolf Feltier, and sank it, for a tied score. The fans had hardly settled in their seats when Manager Smokey Harris did a solo jaunt through the entire Oakland team for another score, and a 3-2 lead.

Oakland tried gallantly to knot the count, and finally, with two and one-half minutes to go, Cook took a pass from Vokes and tied it up, where the score remained through the extra period.

The absence of Capt. Phil Stevens at defense, was a handicap to Oakland, while Johnson turned in a whale of a game for Hollywood. Two of Oakland's three goals were scored while he was in the penalty box. A capacity crowd witnessed the game.

VAN FLEET-DURKEES MOVE UP IN LEAGUE

Defeating the Shell Oils 5 to 3 at the Palais de Glace last night, the Van Fleet-Durkees moved right up behind the league-leading Arrowheads in the Southern California amateur league last night. DALEY VICTOR OVER SIMPSON carried him to the finish first by five feet, while Martin stood off Veit, his conqueror, in the Millrose A.A. games, by less than a yard.

Harold Cutbill, Millrose A.A.; Charles Thompson, New York Central A.A., and John Mara, Georgetown, trailed Edwards, Martin and Veit.

Ray Conger, Illinois A.C. flyer, hung up his fifth one-mile victory of the season when he outran Joe Hickey of New York University, eastern intercollegiate indoor champion at the distance, and Gene Venske, Swedish-American A.C. runner from Philadelphia, in 4m. 19 3-5s. in the Basler mile.

Conger also captured the honors in a phantom race with Leo Lermond, of the Boston A.A., who is now in Australia. He had to beat Lermond's 1929 mark of 4m. 21 4-5s. to capture the cup at stake. To do this he took the lead earlier than usual, sweeping to the fore on the ninth lap after running third from the start. Hickey came on fast to make a race of it, but Conger finished eight yards in front.

Tommy Warne of Northwestern University more than fulfilled advance notices by trimming Barney Berlinger of the University of Pennsylvania and Fred Sturdy, former Yale crack now representing the Los Angeles A.C., in the pole vault.

Warne cleared 13ft. 6in. to beat Berlinger by half a foot, while Sturdy, who fell an inch short of the world's indoor record of 14ft. 1in., in this same event a year ago, could do no better than 12ft. 6in.

Charlie Engle of Yale, broke the tape a yard ahead of Ed Blake of Boston A.A., in the "Buermyer 500" with Richard Griffith of the New York A.C. the only other starter, ten yards back.

Stanislaus Petkiewics, hard-running invader from Poland, beat two young American rivals, Paul Rekers of Penn State College and Joe McCluskey, sensational Fordham freshman, with a great closing sprint in a 5000-meter race. The winner's time for the distance of about 3 1-0 miles was 15m. 16s.

Rekers, who upset the Pole in a two-mile brush at the Millrose games, led for most of the last mile, successfully standing off McCluskey's bid, but when the lanky Pole stepped on it two laps from home Rekers tried in vain to match the sprint. Petkiewics won by five yards from Rekers with McCluskey eight yards farther back.

Holy Cross turned in the best mile relay time of the indoor season thus far, when Klumbach, Holland, Morin and McCafferty covered the route in 3m. 23 3-5s., to beat Georgetown by five yards.

UNDER-CLUBBING PROVES GOLF FAULT OF NOVOTNY

BY GUS NOVOTNY

Pan-American Amateur Champion.

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

(This is the twentieth of a series of articles written by famous and professional golfers, telling how they overcame outstanding faults in their play.)

My greatest fault has been underclubbing. When a man admits he under-clubs he admits a certain degree of conceit. He thinks he is a bit better than he really is, but the golfing fates have a way of paying you back for being swell-headed.

I never seemed able to get into my mind that the occasional long shot I made with the iron was not my regular distance. When I really should have taken a spoon or brassie I'd pull out the iron and try to get home with it. I invariably had to force the shot and the result would be a bad hook or a shuff.

In spite of this I believed the distances I pressed for should be mine without pressing. But how?

One of the boys suggested that I ought not to crouch so much over the ball, but should stand more erect in making the shot. He said that this would give me better balance and keep my weight more evenly distributed. I tried it once and it worked.

Thinking, perhaps it was a lucky shot, I went out to the practice fairway, and hit about 100 balls. I found that they all went considerably farther than they had been. Standing erect gave me a greater arc in which to throw the clubhead, and with that wider arc greater speed was developed with no more physical effort.

Since that time I have been using the irons where in other days I really should have taken the wood—but now I am getting home without pressing. As I did nothing but stand a bit straighter when making my shots that was unquestionably the medicine that cured me.

Just because some fellows you play with can crack a No. 2 iron close to 200 yards and you know darn well you can't, why get up on the tee and press because you'll feel cheap taking out the wooden club?

Pride causes virtually all under-clubbing. If you were in a foursome where all the fellows took their wooden clubs for that shot the chances are you would do the same. A man who has played golf any length of time knows pretty nearly his limitations. Admit these limitations. If you think you'll have to press to get home with a No. 4 don't be ashamed to take out a No. 2. It's better to spare the latter than press the former.

DAVIS CUP COMMITTEE MEMBERS APPOINTED

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Louis B. Dalley of New York, newly elected president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, began his regime today by reappointing Joseph W. Wear of Philadelphia chairman of the important Davis Cup committee and Fitz-Eugene Dixon, also of Philadelphia, nonplaying captain of the team.

They will serve with Holcombe Ward of New York on the Davis Cup committee, Mr. Dalley declared this committee will have absolute authority in all matters pertaining to the Davis Cup campaign. It is much smaller than usual. A committee of seventeen served last year.

A similar group of three, consisting of Harry S. Knox, Chicago, chairman; Joseph W. Ivy, Kansas City, and Jones W. Mersereau, New York, will constitute the Wightman Cup committee responsible for arranging the annual women's team matches with England. Mr. Knox succeeds Julian S. Myrick, New York, who for the first time in years was not given any office.

The advice of seven veterans of international tennis play will be available to both of these bodies, as the international play committee, whose functions are wholly advisory, will include Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, America's first and second ranking players. "Little Bill" Johnston of San Francisco, Richard N. Williams II of Philadelphia, Watson Washburn and Holcombe Ward of New York and Charles S. Garland of Chicago.

Wear will be chairman of this committee, as well. Other members will be Dixon, Mesereau, Ivy, Knox, Donald M. Hill, Waban, Mass.; Dr. Phillip Hawk, New York; W. R. Breck, Cleveland; Samuel H. Collom, Philadelphia, retiring president of the association, and Louis J. Carruthers, New York, newly elected first vice-president.

Aiming at nation-wide territorial representation, President Dalley appointed the presidents of the five big sectional associations to the influential advisory and finance committee. Its membership will be Mr. Carruthers, chairman; James C. Stewart, Chicago, second vice-president of the association; Wear, Ward, Joseph W. Thurston, Hartford, Ct., president of the New England Association; Hill, treasurer of the national association; Ivy, president of the Missouri Valley Association; P. S. Van Bloem, New York, president of the eastern association; Harry S. Walsh, Chicago, president of the western association; Paul W. Gibbons, Philadelphia, president of the Middle States Association, and Mersereau, former U.S.L.T.A. president.

BY GEORGE UHLE

As Told to John F. McCann

Busting into baseball for me was a case of jumping into the majors direct from the sand lots of Cleveland, my own home town, hurtling completely over the bush leagues, and although it is said to be a handicap to play with the home-town team, I did not find it so.

I began pitching while playing with the Standard Parts team, an amateur club of Cleveland, and in the summer of 1918, when we were winning game after game, we attracted attention all over Cleveland and each Sunday great crowds came out to see us play.

I didn't suppose, however, that our reputation had reached the ears of the big league until at the close of the summer of 1918 the Cleveland Americans asked me if I would be interested in playing with them.

"George," they told me, "we have had our eyes on you for some time. What would you think about trying out with the Cleveland Americans?"

From the sand lots right into a big-league park! It was a big jump, and I knew it, but finally I replied:

"No thinking about it—it would be great!"

So I came to the American League to get my test right under the critical eyes of the home-town fans, and, in those early days, when at times the tide of the game went against me, they shouted from the stands:

"Come on, George, come on! You can do it!"

It was the home-towners, pulling for a home-town boy, and they meant it, I knew, so I gave them everything I had in answer to their calls of encouragement.

No, I wouldn't say it was a handicap to break in with the home-town team.

It wasn't for me.

"Maxie Slapsy" Rosenbloom Must Battle Slattery in Buffalo, New York Boxing Commission Rules; Garden Proposition Is Out

BY JACK FARRELL

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)

There will be no change of venue of the proposed Jimmy Slattery-Maxey Rosenbloom fight for the world's light-heavyweight championship of New York State. The fight will be held in Buffalo but not on March 17 as Promoter Charley Murray would have it. Any date before or after St. Patrick's Day will be agreeable to the State Athletic Commission but the wildcat tamer from Harlem simply must fight upState or suffer the penalty that is imposed on all fighters who defy the edicts of the commission.

JIMMY SLATTERY

Denying Rosenbloom's assertion that he got a raw deal in this recent bout with Slattery in Buffalo, James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, pointed out today that he sent neutral officials to Buffalo to officiate and that the decision was received as "eminently fair by everybody but Rosenbloom and Frank Bachman, his manager."

"We will not allow the return meeting to be switched to Madison Square Garden," added Farley, "because, after all, we must give the up-State cities a fair shake. Rosenbloom agreed to fight in Buffalo and he must keep his word."

Farley charged that the only reason Bachman balked on setting a date for the fight was in the hope he could chisel a little more money out of the promoter. The commission head declared that the commission holds no grudge against Rosenbloom and cited the fact that it counted him back into the elimination tournament of his class after he had counted himself out by losing to Slattery.

Farley said politics do not enter into the matter because "nobody on the commission knows which side of the political fence either Rosenbloom or Slattery is on nor does anybody care." He promised to send another set of New York officials to Buffalo for the bout and declared the boxing board would do everything within its power to see that Maxey gets a fair deal.

Footballers Save Year for Berkeleyites

BERKELEY (Cal.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Football carried fourteen other major and minor sports at the University of California to a successful financial season for the fall of 1929, a report released by Graduate Manager W. W. Monahan today, revealed.

The gridiron sport brought a net gain of $411,979.25 into the coffers of the Associated Students last semester, and when the losses of the other fourteen sports were deducted, left a remainder of $316,967.82 for improving athletic facilities and defraying the cost of the Eshleman Memorial Publication Building.

Aside from football, the fourteen major and minor sports lost a total of approximately $80,000.

HERRERA UNPOPULAR VICTOR OVER GROGAN

FLINT (Mich.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Tony Herrera, Chicago Mexican lightweight, won an unpopular decision from Tommy Grogan of Omaha, in a ten-round main bout here tonight. The fight was close but most of the newspaper critics at the ringside gave Grogan a shade. Herrera weighed 134 3-4; Grogan, 135.

RABBIT PUNCHES

LOWERED SIGHTS

"THE Jackie Fields-Young Corbett fight will draw a 'gate' of probably $60,000. Understand, that is just my guess, and I may be overshooting the figure. I don't claim to be a prophet on these things."

The speaker was Commissioner James Woods, who is again in his own district supervising boxing affairs after quite a period of illness in San Francisco.

And then the commissioner proceeded to pooh-pooh the talk of a $100,000 gate which emanated from the north shortly after the bout was made.

"That's ridiculous," said Mr. Woods. "The fight is a non-titular affair and while they've always said Fields was afraid to meet Young Corbett because he refused to take him in the past, you'll notice by the 2-1 odds on Fields that Corbett is not thought of so highly after all."

The commissioner is perfectly correct. You can't steam up a big attendance on the strength of a fighter being a 2-1 favorite over another.

The record California "gates" were established in Los Angeles—$125,000 for Godfrey and Uscudun two years ago and $150,000 for Walker and Hudkins last fall.

And each was due largely to the prebattle equality of the struggle. Uscudun was at his peak two years ago, and the Basques and Latin followers of the heavyweight from the Pyrenees flocked to the ball park to see him annihilate big Godfrey.

Ace Hudkins has always been a big favorite here, and he was the gate attraction against Walker because his supporters believed he had a great chance to win the world's middleweight title from the Rumson Bulldog.

A CORBETT ASSAY

THE element of equality is absent in the case of Fields and Corbett. Or at least it so appears from local observation.

However, one statement sticks in my craw. It was made by George Davis, once a northern newspaper man—now of local gender.

"Corbett may not be as good a fighter as we of the north think he is, but he is better than you fellows down south credit him with being."

(e strength of that assay of the Fresno battler's ability it is up to the north to back him up, or there will not even be a $60,000 "gate" for Promoter Ancil Hoffman to mull over.

A year ago Hoffman staged the Walker-Willis bout in the Bay City after a terrific squabble with Frank Schuler over who was entitled to the privilege. They wound up in double harness, and the bout was to do well over $50,000.

But the intake was $34,815, and Walker's bit was $16,000 with 20 per cent to Willis, 10 per cent to the park for rent, and 5 per cent to the State, not to mention preliminary fighters and whatnot in the way of expenses.

On the face of things all Hoffman got out of it was half the glory of staging the match.

And a double portion of glory is probably all he will get this time. Fields receives $25,000 guarantee or 50 per cent of the receipts.

Young Corbett drags down 20 per cent with the customary percentage to the ball park and State. And then there are the incidental expenses.

GREEDY MANAGERS

"NO WONDER we don't have more good matches," commented Commissioner Woods.

"The fighters and their managers expect the promoters to do all the gambling.

"As a result the fighters walk off with all the money, and the promoter is lucky if he emerges even-steven.

"There are several good matches that could be made right here in Los Angeles if the fighters would operate on the basis they are worth only what they can draw at the 'gate.'

"However, it's not the fighters themselves so much as the managers that cause all the trouble. They are the greedy ones."

JACK ELDER AGAIN

THE retirement of Jack Elder from competitive athletics affords a great example to the young men of the nation who make athletics their fetish.

When it came time for him to start making a living Elder quit cold right after setting a new world's record in the seventy-meter dash.

Elder's case is particularly refresh' ; when you think of the young fellows who leave college with the idea the world owes them a living because of the glory they achieved in athletics.

And certainly, no man gained more the past six months than Elder.

He figured in the winning of every game of importance on Notre Dame's march to a national football championship, and he capped off the in : track season with a new world's mark.

The Notre Dame lad deserves the national salute for his decision.

Center Block Always Good

BY SOL METZGER

It's an old trick of the basketball trade, this legal center block play used by Michigan. And like all others, it is always good when it works. No. 2 drives right at the back of the opposing center when the ball is tossed up. As he takes it he turns to his left.

Meantime forward No. 3 breaks down court to draw his guard away from the basket. After No. 1 taps the ball he slides off the right side of the opposing center and rushes for the basket. His immediate opponent is sore put. He cannot break straight back to cover No. 1, as No. 2, with the ball, is in his immediate rear.

No. 1 thus gets a lead for the basket. He looks over his right shoulder for the ball. No. 2 dribbles a step or two to the right and passes it to him. A dribble and shot and two points for the Wolverines.

Baseball Notes

Orrie Overall was a noted athlete during his college days in California. Overall's ability as a pitcher won him a professional berth with the Tacoma club of the Coast League, from which he soon graduated to Frank Chance's Chicago Cubs. He was the hero of a fifteen-inning game on August 2, 1904, when twirling for Tacoma he fanned sixteen Portland batsmen. Perle Casey, present Coast League umpire, scored the winning marker for Tacoma. After he had singled he was replaced by "Happy" Hogan and came home on Charlie Graham's hit to left field. Graham was a catcher in those days, now he is one of the prosperous San Francisco club owners.

Some twenty years ago Pacific Coast League fans were given a surprise when Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland club, trotted out a little fellow named Eugene Krapp, who exhibited some of the best pitching ever seen in this circuit. In his first appearance on the mound he allowed San Francisco but one safe hit. The Seals were busy hitting their backs all afternoon trying to locate the ball. The fans who had laughed at his small size when he first made his appearance were cheering him before the game had progressed very far.

GUYER WILL NOT RUN IN SPRINT RELAY SATURDAY

Gerald Fearson are sure to be three of the four men on the four-man mile affair, with Woessner, of last year's frosh, the probable fourth man.

Bill McGeagh and Lee Hansen, the well-known miler, are likely choices in the four-man two-mile, with almost anybody as the other two candidates. Chesley Unruh and Clif Halstead are mile certainties. Dick Larned is a possibility, and the fourth man will be picked today.

Cromwell yesterday picked an ineligible team of four men to run against the varsity, and the four L.A.A.C. Indians. Alpheus Prowell, ex-Trojan, now attending California Christian College, and Melvin Shine, Earl Callahan and "Red" Humphrey will make up the quartet. The latter three are ineligible freshmen.

Coach Boyd Comstock yesterday announced that fifty-three L.A.A.C. athletes would compete in the Long Beach affair. Alf. Schultz, Bob Maxwell, Frank Houck, Dick Darling and Owen Rowe have been selected for the two sprint relays, the order of performance yet to be named. Houck, the former L. A. High sprinter, is a recent addition to the club ranks.

HOUSER WORKING

The Mercuries will enter two teams in both the one-mile and two-mile relays. Bud Houser, the discus-tossing dentist, was working out at Bovard Field yesterday, and announced that he would not compete Saturday. Houser heaved the shot 44ft., merely standing still, and heaved the discus around 140. He said he probably would compete later in the year.

It was announced yesterday that an open invitational high-hurdle race would be included on the program. This will bring together Welsh of the Trojans, and Bob Maxwell and Dick Pomeroy of the club. Tickets for the meet are on sale at U.S.C., U.C.L.A. and Dyas Company.

A special series of events for high school relay teams has been carded and practically every prep institution in the vicinity is expected to enter. Manual Arts, with a crack aggregation of cinder athletes, will head the entry list.

The club entries are as follows:

440 and 880-yard relays—Ray Alf, Murray Schultz, Bob Maxwell, Franklin Houck, Dick Darling, Owen Rowe.

One mile relay (two teams)—Oliver Worden, Walter Clark, Phil Buchanan, Our Fee, Kiedt Schmidt, Ken Grumbles, Wayland Chapman, Dick Pomeroy, Franklin Houck.

Two-mile relay (two teams)—Percy Niersbach, Jack Burton, Bill Clum, Harold Lovejoy, Bertz Goodheart, Bob Goodeve, Don Imler, Walter Hunkeler, Boles.

Four-mile relay—Chaues, Lupe, Elmo, Jenkins.

Shot put—Herman Brix, Manley Edwards, Al Forster, Harold Lang.

Discus throw—Brix, James DeMers, Edwards, Forster, Lang.

Javelin throw—DeMers, Charley Eaton, Tom Yancy, Vaino Hoover.

Broad jump—Maurice Walker, George Bradley, Orville Breidhaupter.

High jump—George Keefer, Alex Gill, Dick Bell, Don Maxwell, Al Bowen, Millard Webster, Garrett.

Pole vault—Glenn Graham, Harry Smith, Tad Creswell, Frank Winfield.

three games and his team misses his customary 10 or 15 points very sorely.

Frosh teams of the two institutions will play a preliminary game, each team having copped a contest thus far.

MAGYARS, MERCURIES TO TANGLE SUNDAY

The Magyar and L.A.A.C. soccer teams, two of the three City League elevens still in the race for the California cup title, tangle at Loyola Field next Sunday at 3 o'clock to determine which team will go north for final play-off games. Both teams are concentrating on the cup games and next Sunday's battle should be one of the best of the season. Hollywood draws a bye in the State round Sunday.

The Richfield and Viking elevens play at 1 o'clock at Loyola Sunday in a city cup challenge match.

MARK ARIE TAKES INTERNATIONAL CUP

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Mark Arie, Champaign, Ill., today won the International Flier Cup race, feature of the twenty-sixth annual interstate trap-shooting tournament, with a score of 99 out of a possible 100. The honor carried an $880 prize.

M. B. Franz, St. Louis; Fred Ludington, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Frank Hughes, Chicago, and Charles Etchen, Coffeyville, Kan., tied for second place with scores of 98. Each received $550.

EL MONTE TRACKSTERS WHIP TIGER RUNNERS

With Clement Dupre of El Monte taking 24 points, the Lion Class B track team beat the South Pasadena runners by a score of 59-35. Dupre won the 100 in 10.7s., the 220 in 24s., the 70-yard high hurdles in 11 2-5s. and placed second in the shot with a heave of 38ft.

The Lion Class C team also won over the South Pasadena outfit by a 75-20 count.

TIGERS WILL RUN TRIAL RACES TODAY

Coach "Timberwolf" Pipal will hold tryouts this afternoon on Patterson Field for the two-mile and half-mile relay teams to represent Occidental in the A.A.U. relays next Saturday. The veteran mentor announced last night that he will not enter a four-man mile baton-passing team, as he had planned, due to the fact that his quarter-milers are not in condition, and will be used in the other two events.

Johnny Walter, a transfer from Glendale Junior College, who stepped up unheralded and won the 440 last Saturday in the L.A.A.C. meet, will be entered in the two-mile relay. The balance of the team will probably consist of Rudd Crawford, star Tiger distance man, and Capt. Freddie Appleton, who is equally good at either the half or one-lap heat. The fourth man will be selected from the tryouts this afternoon between Bailey, Entwistle and Richert.

It is quite probable that Appleton will also be one of the quartet turning a furlong each, assisted by Cecil Howard, Dick Fairbanks, and either Talman, Kelly or Castenholz.

POMONA TRACKMEN RUN TRIAL HEATS

CLAREMONT, Feb. 17.—As a result of tryouts held last Saturday afternoon in conjunction with the annual novice meet, Coach Bob Strehle announced the personnel of the Sagehen teams entered in the A.A.U. relays.

In the four-man half-mile Strehle will run, Harvey Bear, Henry Gray, Bob Bayhnam, Chuck Petty or Norm MacDonald. In the four-man mile, the team will be composed of Henry Cobb, Harvey Bear, Frank Dyer, Leonard Shelton or Norm MacDonald.

For the four-man two-mile, Strehle has listed Wilbert Davis, John Morrison, Earnie Stromsen, Shelton Smith or Bill Cunliffe. Although most of these men are milers or two-milers they can all turn off a pretty fair 880.

The novice meet held last Saturday afternoon proved to be rather disappointing in the matter of sensational times or distances. Although the men competing were mostly freshman and those varsity men who have not been awarded the varsity insignia, the coaches felt better performances should have been turned in. The summary follows:

100-yard dash—Gray, first; Raney, second; Oates, third; MacDonald, fourth. Time, 10 3-5s.

120-yard high hurdles—Hunt, first; Dickeson, second. Time, 16 4-5s.

880-yard run—Davis, first; Stromsen, second; Morrison, third; Cunliffe, fourth. Time, 2m.

440-yard dash—Shelton, first; Hutton, second; Shahinian, third; Hunt, fourth. Time, 55s.

220-yard dash—Petly, first; MacDonald, second; Rector, third; Barnham, fourth. Time, 24.3s.

Pole vault—Shelton, first; Pollard, second; Hager, third. Height, 10ft. 6in.

Hammer throw—Hitchcock, first; Strong, second; Pratt, third; Somfeld, fourth. Distance, 118ft. 3in.

High jump—Munger, first; Hunter, second; Kupfer, third; Berry, fourth. Height, 5ft. 6in.

Shot put—Raney, first; Somfeld, second; Berry, third; Hager, fourth. Distance, 36ft. 1¼in.

Broad jump—Cates, first; Hutton, second; Hartshorn, third; Hunter, fourth. Distance, 19ft. 10¾in.

Discus—Gordon, first; Hitchcock, second; Hager, third; Stanton, fourth. Distance, 114ft. 8in.

Javelin—Murdy, first; Cross, second; Witherspoon, third; Pollard, fourth. Distance, 148ft.

Jeff Training Morro for Go

Al Morro is doing his training at Jim Jeffries's Burbank ranch for his fight with Tony Stabineau at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night and "Jeff" is personally supervising the training.

When "Jeff" dropped around to the Hollywood Legion Stadium yesterday morning to see Tom Gallery he was in a jovial frame of mind. The former champion realizes that Morro is facing a seasoned fighter in Stabineau and one who can hit, but he also knows that he has taught Morro enough stuff to carry him over a tough hurdle like Stabineau if he remembers to use it when in a pinch.

There will be six fights on the Hollywood card this week. Don Burchard and Leo Lomelli go back and fight for nothing. Charley McDonald, Lomelli's manager, thought that the best way to straighten out the situation and it met with Inspector Frank Moran's approval. Lomelli and Burchard will fight a four-rounder just before the special event. Lomelli and Burchard tried hard enough last week, but it was just a "cheesey" fight and the fans didn't care about it.

The semi-wind-up will feature Erwin Bige and Dave Jackson. Bige has been fighting main events at smaller clubs and Jackson makes his first start at Hollywood with a good reputation for a fighter in a semi-wind-up. George Blake starts Martin Zuniga, young featherweight, in the special. He battles Joe Pimenthal, Mexican veteran, who still retains his wallop. There will be three four-rounders.

kicks from the two, so they are evidently satisfied with terms. There's a possibility that the boys have the contracts framed and hung up in the parlor and they hate to take them down until it's time for them to break up housekeeping.

AUGIE WALSH SIGNS

One more signed contract was received in the Angel offices yesterday when Augie Walsh, who spent the winter as a Cub, only to be recently turned back to the Seraphs, reported at Wrigley Field and unleashed his fountain for one of those for better or for worse agreements.

Augie says he's going to go out and have such a good season for the Angels this year that the Cubs will have to take him to camp next spring. Walsh announced that as long as he was destined for a job in the minors this year he'd rather be with the Angels than any other club so he's satisfied with the immediate outlook of the situation.

Tolley Style is Unorthodox

CYRIL TOLLEY

BY SOL METZGER

Great golfers differ in certain details. But fundamentally all play alike. Take Cyril Tolley, ranking British amateur. At the top his position differs radically from that of Jones. Tolley really pivots. That is, his body rotates at the hips, the right turning back, the left forward.

This accounts for his unorthodox position at the top. To maintain balance, to prevent himself tilting a bit backward, Cyril uses both legs for bracing. As he starts back his right leg braces. But his right hip does not lock. So Tolley is forced to balance himself in an odd way. In short, he lets his weight go forward toward the ball and catches it by bracing with his bent left leg.

As a result most of his weight is on his left leg at the top. It is not an orthodox position. His style of pivoting is not to be recommended. He overcomes it by a quick straightening of the left leg at the start of his down swing. But he strokes his ball in an orthodox manner, with the hands.

Golf is a form game. Correct your pivot and you will add yardage to your shots. Sol Metzger has prepared a free illustrated leaflet on the pivot. Send for it in care of The Times and inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

CARDOZA AND BLAKE TANGLE TOMORROW

Joe Cardoza and Billy Blake clash in an eight-round main event at Ocean Park tomorrow night. Cardoza recently fought to a draw with Bert Colima in a torrid contest. Blake has licked a host of the best Southern California battlers.

In the semi-wind-up Joe Arcinlega, Mexican slug ace, will meet Oscar Rankins, carrot-topped negro. Three other scraps are also scheduled. All are slated to go four stanzas. In the special event Dave Solis will meet Clark Anderson. The former holds a draw with Billy Defoe, Bono Kamisher meets Kid Saens and Trino Zuniga goes against Apollo Mendoza at 114 pounds.

KENNEDY TO APPEAR AT PASADENA ARENA

Don Kennedy, a Pasadena favorite, will make his first appearance in six months at the Pasadena arena Thursday night. He meets Hymie Miller over the six-round route.

The only defeat Miller ever suffered was at the hands of Kennedy by a hairline decision.

Homer Gaines, the negro boy from Mexicali, who was a hit a few weeks ago at the arena, will fight Mission Bolo in the six-round semi-final. Four-round fights will be: Glen Bowers vs. Louie Medina, 122 pounds; Jack Dunseth vs. Jack Hurd, 175 pounds; Joey Muto vs. Ray Gonzales, 124 pounds; Young Olsen vs. Andy Palma, 118 pounds.

HOLLYWOOD FIVE TO MEET ELKS TONIGHT

Maintaining their grip on second place in the Southern California A.A.U. Club League as a result of Saturday's 39-to-16 triumph over the San Diego A.C., cagesters of the Hollywood Athletic Club will be asked to leap another high hurdle tonight when they combat the speedy Elks' Club tossers on the Movie City court. The game is at 8:15 p.m.

Thoughts of revenge will motivate the Antler quintet, which lost its first-round game to the Movie City tossers, 33 to 30.

CHICAGO TO MEET YALE

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—The University of Chicago football team will play a return engagement at Yale in 1932, Athletic Director Amos Alonzo Stagg announced today.

Yale will depart from a long-established policy by playing at Chicago in 1931.

LA DOUX SHOWS SPEEDY FORM

Lutze's Chances Lessened by Foe's Fast Work

Nick Lutze's chances of beating "Gorilla" Gene La Doux, the powerful young French-Canadian mat star, when they clash at the Olympic tomorrow night in one of the two finish events scheduled by "Carnation" Lou Daro, were weakened yesterday.

The reason was La Doux's sensational showing in his final workout. The French-Canadian mat king opened up on his training partners for the first time since he has been on the Coast. For the first time he showed the speed, the ability and the mat color that he has been credited with in reports from the Northwest.

Those who witnessed the workout state that La Doux is as fast as Everett Marshall on his feet; as rough as Ed "Strangler" Lewis with his headlocks and that he has a collection of leg-breaking holds that were more punishing than anything in that line seen at the Olympic.

Lutze's chance to beat La Doux will rest in his ability to use a more effective defense against the headlock than those he presented in his matches with Ed Lewis and Jack O'Malley, mat critics believe.

Howard Cantonwine is expected to give Marshall a rough, tough match when they meet in the other finish event on the card. The Iowan has many backers here who believe he will be the first to score a fall on the latest mat sensation.

Steve Strelich, the "Terrible Swede," will clash with Mike Collins, a veteran topnotch light-heavyweight, in the opener.

Tigers Play Tech Tonight

Coach Eddie Keinholz sent his casaba squad through a light workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for the encounter with Caltech tonight on the Engineers' home court. While not in top form, the Oxy team will be a slight favorite over the Tech five which has played erratically during their conference tilts.

Tricky Dick Glover hit his stride against Whittier last Saturday night to run off with high-point honors, and is expected to give the Engineers plenty of trouble. With Larry Dimpter teaming with Glover at forward and Abe Elliott sinking long ones from a running guard, the Tiger offense should provide the Caltech quintet all the excitement they can stand.

McLARNIN STARTS WORK

CHICAGO Feb. 17. (AP)—With the date of his third meeting with Lightweight Champion Sammy Mandell set for March 1, next, in the Chicago Stadium, Jimmy McLarnin today was here to begin preparing for the test.

Bruins Report or Baseball

Practice began in full seriousness yesterday afternoon for baseball candidates at the University of California at Los Angeles, and between thirty and forty men cavorted in light workouts on the new Westwood playing field. Ten veterans and a flock of candidates from last year's freshman nine answered the call of Coach A. J. Seiurneggger with the start of the new spring semester.

The season in the California Intercollegiate Baseball League opens for the Bruin baseballers on March 7 and 8, when they will entertain the Santa Clara Broncos at Westwood. In preparation for the season, now only three weeks off, practice games are being scheduled. Two practice tilts are scheduled for tomorrow and Friday afternoons at U.C.L.A., with the Santa Monica Baseball School and the Santa Monica firemen as opponents, respectively.

Three of the ten veterans back this year return after an absence of a year. These are Harry Griffiths, star pitcher for the Bruins two years ago; Les Ward, a relief hurler two years ago, and Tommy Devlin, a catcher. Devlin batted around .500 per cent in the league in 1928. The men back from last year are Capt. Jimmy Leyh, flashy little shortstop; "Fliz" Fitzgerald, substitute second baseman a year ago; Jack Stahl, first baseman; Ted Dennis, third baseman; Vernon Charleston, pitcher; Lee Duke, pitcher, and Cliff Simpson, outfielder.

Charley Grimm, Kiki Cuyler, Riggs Stephenson, Hack Wilson, Elwood English and several others.

The following are the players who will leave tomorrow:

Joe McCarthy, Hal Carlson, Hank Grampp, Leo Hartnett, Bill McAfee, Zack Taylor, Al Shealy, Ray Schalk, Andy Lotshaw and Cliff Heathcote.

They will pick up Linn Nelson, John Schulte and Coach Burke at Kansas City Wednesday morning. The newspaper men making the training camp will also entrain with Manager McCarthy and his party.

Angelita, New Sloop, Shines in First Test

Angelita, the new syndicate eight-meter racing sloop launched Saturday for participation in the March midwinter regatta off Los Angeles Harbor, has been given preliminary tests against her two local rivals, the eights Marin and Babe, and shows every indication of being a great success, it was announced yesterday.

With Nick Potter, her designer, at the stick and an odd crew from the yard of the builders, the new craft held her own against the other two without trouble. This was much better than had been expected in view of the fact that her sails are new and have not yet been properly stretched under sailing conditions, a task which has to be accomplished carefully.

In both light and comparatively strong winds the Angelita moved right along, seeming to outstep her rivals, particularly with a started sheet and showing lots of speed off the wind, even with her new sails being nursed to prevent injury by being too precipitate with their stretching. Her windward work will not be known until her sails are in perfect trim.

She is a new type on this coast, having a canoe stern, the advantage of which was observed in the absence of any wake, even when driven quite hard, with her lee rail well down. She stands up well to a breeze and shows possibilities of being driven at greater speed than the average eight, due to her lines and the fact that she has greater length in the water when lying well over.

It will take several weeks to tune the Angelita up as to her best trim and to get her canvas flat. When that is accomplished it will be known definitely what her performance is to be in the March regatta, at which she will fly the flag of the California Yacht Club.

PETROLLE KAYOS BROOKS IN THIRD

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Billy Petrolle of North Dakota, knocked out Joe Brooks, Flint, Mich., in the third round of their scheduled ten-round headline bout here tonight. The Fargo Express knocked Brooks down four times before the final count. Petrolle weighed 140, and Brooks 138.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Night came before Baynes regained consciousness and realized that he was floating down a great African river—alone, wounded and lost! By using his open palm as a paddle, he painfully managed to move the native canoe nearer to shore. Almost opposite him he could hear the roaring of a lion. An overhanging tree branch brushed his face. Eagerly he grasped it testing its strength. He would seek safety in the trees.

He drew himself slowly upward until his feet swung clear of the canoe, which, released, floated silently from beneath him and lost itself in the dark shadow downstream. He had burned his bridges behind him! Again the lion roared. Baynes wondered if it had been following him. He must climb or drop back into the river. He struggled to raise one leg over the limb, but weak from bullet wounds, he found his strength ebbing.

He was ready to drop from exhaustion when a new fear tightened his muscles. He saw two spots of flame a short distance from and above him. The lion was standing on the river bank glaring at him—waiting! The young Englishman's feet hung almost to the water's surface. He heard a slight commotion in the river beneath him, followed by a sound that froze his blood. It was the click of a crocodile's great jaws snapping together.

He struggled futilely to safety. Even as he did so he felt himself slipping—into the river and those frightful jaws. Then he heard the leaves above him rustle to the movement of some creeping creature. The branch he hung upon bent from an added weight. Still Baynes clung desperately. He felt a soft warm pad upon the fingers of one hand and then a hand reached down and dragged him up among the branches of the tree.
